Richland Vote Expected to Set Record Tuesday

Predicts 37,000 Ballots

Party Heads See Victory

By GEORGE COMINOS

A record turn-out of at least 37,000 voters in Richland county Tuesday was forecast yesterday by an election board official.

While party heads have been conservative in their vote estimates, Charles Innes, chairman of the county board of elections, said he believed the total vote in this week's presidential election would top the 1940 high of 36,180 in the county.

"People aren't saying much about the election. That's when you can expect a big turn-out. I've seen it happen before," Innes said.

Ralph Lutz, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, predicted a vote of between 30,000 and 32,000, while Ralph Hardy, chairman of the Republican executive committee, estimated the vote would be about 33,000.

Lutz predicted that Frank J. Lausche, Democratic candidate for governor, would carry Ohio by a substantial majority, and that President Truman also would carry Ohio, but by a closer vote. He said Democrats would take county offices.

SEES "LANDSLIDE"

Hardy predicted that Tuesday's outcome would be "a repetition of 1932 in reverse," the Republicans winning by a landslide instead of the Democrats. Hardy said that was his prediction for the national contests, while locally, the voting would follow along the same lines.

Richland county voters will elect most of the county officials, help elect a president, governor, slate of state officials, two congressmen, state representative and a state senator.

Nearly a dozen bond issues and tax levies in the county will spur interest in the voting.

Highlighting the Richland county races is the contest for prosecutor between Theodore Lutz, Republican, now holding the office, and Harold Lutz, Democrat, former prosecutor. They are not related.

Other county battles involve E. P. Long, Democrat, and C. M. Chatlain, Republican, for sheriff, and Guy Stewart, John Selby, Fred Dill and John C. Friday for the two county commissioner posts. Stewart and Selby are seeking re-election.

CONTROL AT STAKE

Control of the board of commissioners is at stake. Republicans now have a two to one edge. Republican C. L. Shoup holds over but the election of Dill and re-

Train Crash Kills Four

NEWBURY, Vt. —(AP)— Four train crewmen were killed, five mail clerks were injured and 200 passengers shaken early Saturday as two Boston-Montreal trains crashed head-on in a heavy fog.

The engineer and fireman on the Boston and Maine trains were trapped in their cabs and died without giving an inkling of the cause of the mishap.

A railroad spokesman said the engineers had been given train orders to meet at Newbury—as is customary—but that the southbound train passed through this country community.

The collision occurred about a mile south of here.

One of the trains normally pulls on a siding at Newbury to await the other's arrival. Newbury is about half-way between Boston and Montreal.

Rebel Bites Off Tongue, Keeps Mum

ATHENS—(AP)—Athens police said Saturday they hope soon to be able to question a man who bit off the end of his tongue to keep from talking. They said his stitched up tongue is growing well.

The officials said John Politis, accused of helping transport Communist guerrillas from Athens to the battlefront, threw himself in front of a truck when he was arrested two months ago and crushed his legs.

Ten days ago, they said, he was carried to headquarters for questioning and there chipped off a piece of his tongue with his teeth. Police said they had picked up the severed piece and a doctor sewed it back on.

City Voters To Decide Three Issues

2 Bond Proposals, Pay Boost on Ballot

Mansfield voters will decide two major bond issues and a city pay increase proposal at the polls Tuesday.

Special ballots will carry proposals for a $2,250,000 bond issue to complete the city's big school building program and a $500,000 issue for a sewer construction program.

A third proposal provides pay increases ranging from 29 to 45 per cent for city police and firemen. The employes themselves took their pay boost to the voters. The pay increase would not increase the city tax rate, the money coming from the city's general revnue funds. It is estimated that the pay boosts will amount to $98,300 annually.

If both the $2,250,000 school bond issue and the $500,000 sewer bond issue are approved, the city's real estate tax will be upped by $3 per $1,000 valuation.

Citing the doubling of building costs, the increased birth rate and city population, proponents of the school bond issue point out that an extensive building and repairing program lies ahead before the board of education's physical plants will be in shape to adequately care for the city's children.

The $500,000 sewer bond issue is for the rehabilitation of the city's storm and sanitary sewer systems.

MADISON ASKS BONDS

The largest bond issue proposed in the county outside Mansfield is in Madison township where $180,000 is being asked to augment funds already available for building a new Lincoln Heights school and for adding classrooms to Madison high school and improving Woodville school.

Going on record in favor of the issue, the Madison board of education stated that the ever increasing enrollment of pupils has grown so alarming that further building is absolutely necessary despite the prohibitive high cost of building construction.

Other bond issues proposed in

Pilots Drop 'Goodies' to German Kids

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The American airlift flier who dropped one handkerchief parachute with candy for German children really started something.

Now, the air force reports, the average daily "drop" on that phase of the airlift to beleaguered Berlin is 1,500 candy laden chutes.

The project is still growing, and with it the personal problems of First Lieut. Gail S. Halversen, of Garland, Utah, who first started dropping the parachutes.

The air force said Saturday the volume of Halversen's fan mail from German children and contributions of handkerchiefs from the United States to make the chutes used in dropping the candy from airlift planes has become large. Indeed, he has been forced to call in a translator and a secretary to help him out on his personal project.

After Nine Long Years

New Bridge Ends 'Temporary' Detour

After nine long years Black Fork Creek on State Route 39, between Lucas and Perrysville, finally has a new bridge to replace the 50-year-old structure that was literally knocked into the creek in an auto accident in 1939.

The new Melco bridge was opened to traffic yesterday after an approximate $85,000 expenditure on the project that got underway in early spring. Only about $53,000 went into the sturdy polished steel and concrete structure with the remainder accounted for by the fills, asphalt approaches and seeded berms.

For nine years traffic was routed over a dangerous dog-leg detour and across a "temporary" bridge beside the site of the old one.

Not until last year when the News-Journal carried pictures, stories, and editorials pointing out the neglect, did the highway department, then under the direction of Murray Shaffer, go into action. Specifications were drawn and work begun.

One Mansfielder was killed and five others injured in the accident that demolished the old-fashioned steel enclosed bridge shortly after midnight June 18, 1939. Carl D. Nipper, 19, 141 South Mulberry street, was fatally injured and his companion, Dallas Kaufman, seriously hurt when their car plunged into the water as the bridge collapsed. Four others in a car driven by Lyle Westfield, Mansfield, R. D. 4, escaped with more minor injuries.

Residents of Lucas and the surrounding community remember the accident because it left them without electric power. A major line from the nearby Melco plant of the Ohio Public Service company was severed when a pole was sheared off in the crash.

OPEN AT LAST—Motorists on State Route 39 between Lucas and Perrysville have been greeted for nine years by an unwelcome "Road Closed" sign that marked the beginning of a "run around" that led to a temporary bridge over Black Fork creek. Yesterday traffic began moving over the newly constructed $53,000 bridge, above, that replaced an old-fashioned steel bridge that collapsed in an auto accident on June 18, 1939.

Bus Overturns Near Bucyrus

BUCYRUS—(AP)—Thirteen persons were injured last night, three seriously, when a Greyhound bus overturned on Route 98 seven miles north of here.

Arthur Buhl, 33, of Detroit, driver of the bus, told Deputy sheriffs that he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car. They quoted him as saying he veered the bus to the side of the road, causing it to overturn.

The bus was north bound from Columbus to Toledo at the time of the accident.

The three most seriously injured, and admitted to the Bucyrus hospital for treatment, were:

Mrs. Bertha Gillhouse, 27, of Toledo.

Mrs. Jessie Saar, 26, Toledo.

Benjamin Koch, 46, Melmore, O.

Ten others who were discharged from the hospital after treatment were:

Mrs. Roy Moore, 27, Tiffin.

Thomas Vicory, 17, Gibsonburg.

Mrs. Elizabett Jenkins, 27, Columbus.

Lewis Hayes, 47; Mrs. Hayes, 46, and their daughter, Gladys, 10, of Bucyrus.

Mrs. Carrie Budget, 51, Pontiac, Mich.

Mrs. Jaunita Moorehart, 21, Bucyrus.

Carl Dumas, 38, Detroit.

Sheldon Atkinson, 19, Bucyrus.

There were 37 passengers in the bus at the time of the accident, the driver told officers.

Most of those who received treatment joined the uninjured passengers in resuming the journey on another bus.

Heated Campaign In Final Stage

Dewey Closes Drive; Truman Visits Home

(By Associated Press)

Both major contenders for the presidency last night expressed their complete confidence in victory in the Tuesday election.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey closed his campaign last night in New York with a pledge that winning world peace "is the cause closest to our hearts."

Expressing confidence he will win the election, the Republican nominee said in a national radio address in Madison Square Garden:

"This is the eve of victory."

"It has been divided against itself for so long," Dewey declared, "that it has forgotten the meaning of unity, and it never did know the meaning of teamwork or competence."

He said the Democratic party has resorted to "desperate tactics" because it is "splintered and divided" and "its own house is at the point of collapse."

President Truman came home to his native Missouri last night to announce that he has "cracked the Republican east" and that the Democrats are going to win.

The people, through the Democrats, "are going to win this election," the President declared.

"The North, the South, the East and the West are falling in line," he declared to an audience in Kiel auditorium at St. Louis, where he brought to a close his 271st-speech, "give 'em hell" campaign over 36 states.

It was a "summing up" speech, one in which he wrapped up all the criticism he has flung at GOP Nominee Dewey and what the President called a "good for nothing 80th Congress."

He struck out at what he called Republican opposition to the farm price support program and their efforts to wreck the Wagner labor relations law.

He said the Republicans seem to think "it is a little wicked for the government to be concerned about farm prices.

Battles Rage In Holy Land

TEL AVIV, Israel —(AP) —Serious fighting has broken out in Upper Galilee scarcely a week after defeat of the Egyptians in southern Palestine, and the U. N. has ordered both sides to cease-fire.

Arabic broadcasts said Israel's forces were on the march all along the northern front. U. N. observers said the Jews were attacking with artillery, planes and troops along a 20-mile arc from Tarshiha to Lake Hula.

There were unconfirmed reports that Tarshiha, 12 miles northeast of Acre on the coast, had fallen after repeated bombing and land attacks. Tarshiha is the main base of Fawzi Bey El Kaukkji's Arab irregulars.

Other reports to U. N. truce headquarters at Haifa said the Jews had cleared the road from Acre to Safad, 22 miles northeast.

An Israeli Army communique indicated hard fighting was going on.

Civil War In China Near End

Red Rebels Crush Army

NANKING —(AP)—Peace may soon settle over war-torn China.

The three-year civil war is virtually at an end, many reliable Chinese and foreign sources declared here today one day after Mudken collapsed into Chinese communist hands in the most stunning government battle reversal.

Spasmodic fighting may continue in China-proper for months, the sources said, but Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's effort to defeat the communists on a nationwide scale has died. The latest setback brought speculation on the possibility of replacing China's long-time leader.

Some unofficial quarters said the communists completely occupied Mukden, swollen to nearly 2,000,000 population by refugees.

The government still has hundreds of thousands of troops under arms, but the best quarters question their will to defend themselves, let alone to attack.

In Washington, officials feared that the United States is beginning to be confronted in China with the danger of its first major reverse of the cold war with Russia.

Yule Lights To Sparkle

Merchants Plan Park Decorations

Central park will sparkle with thousands of colored lights at Christmas time again this year.

The Retail Merchants' association will sponsor the decorations as it has for the past several years.

In a letter sent to city council yesterday, the association stated that it intended to spend $1,800 for new bulbs, wires and labor to string Central park with sparkling lights.

The group asked council to consider the possibility of the city paying the electric bill as it has done in the past. The cost for the current was estimated at $225.

The lights will be turned on the day after Thanksgiving and will burn each evening until after New Year's day.

U. N. Adopts Soviet Bill

PARIS — (AP) — Russia put through the United Nations social committee Saturday a human rights amendment condemning all attacks on personal "honor and reputation."

Amending Article 10 of a draft declaration of human rights, the Soviet bloc teamed with Latin Americans in giving "protection of the law" against such attacks.

Russian won 29 to seven. After the confused meeting, British delegate Mrs. Freda Corbert, told a reporter, "we'll draft a new article and present it to the General Assembly plenary session."

Jet Bomber Sets New Time Record

WASHINGTON —(AP)— An air force jet-powered "Flying Wing" bomber has flown nine and a half hours, longer than any jet aircraft has been able to stay aloft.

This definite indication of progress toward solving a major problem of jet planes—high fuel consumption and short range—came in an announcement Saturday by the air force. It said the Northrop YB-49, eight engine bomber, had flown 3,458 miles at altitudes between 35,000 and 40,000 feet on a shuttle course between points in California and Arizona.

Tragedy Strikes In Rail Yard

WILLARD—While his wife lay seriously ill in the Willard Municipal hospital, a yard conductor on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was fatally injured in a railroad accident here yesterday afternoon. The wife was not immediately notified of the tragedy.

Harrison King, 57, of Willard, was the victim of the accident.

Although there were no witnesses, it was believed that King fell from a moving freight car into the path of an oncoming locomotive. He was still alive when he was found, but died a few minutes later while still in the yard.

The body was removed to the Fink funeral home where Coroner Jay D. Bradish ruled death was caused by a fractured skull.

DRAGGED BY TRAIN

The victim's arms and face had been badly mangled, it was reported. Injuries indicated King had been dragged some distance.

Shortly after the accident was discovered, railroad officials arrived on the scene to investigate.

King had been a lifelong resident of Willard.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Helen Reed; three grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Dale Williams, and three brothers, Arthur, Fred and Walter All are from Willard except for Walter, who is from Detroit.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Smog Fatal To Fifteen

DONORA, Pa. —(AP)— Fifteen persons died in this mill town of 15,000 Saturday and health authorities said their deaths apparently were the indirect result of a smothering smog.

Mrs. Cora Vernon, executive director of the American Red Cross, said an emergency hospital was being set up immediately. She reported the Charleroi-Monessen hospital at nearby Charleroi was filled to capacity and estimated at least 50 persons were being treated as a direct result of the smog.

"It's very hard to breathe," said Rudy Schwerha, a member of the board of health. "It's impossible to determine just how many residents are sick but the doctors and nurses can't keep up with the situation."

All of the deaths Saturday occurred unexpectedly after a fog which has prevailed for several days became exceptionally heavy. Mixed with smoke from the industrial community, a thick smog was created.

"The deaths seem to have hit people who were suffering from cardiac or asthmatic conditions," Schwerha said. "There's no doubt the smog has been the cause."

Dr. James Lau, superintendent of the Charleroi-Monessen hospital said extra beds have been placed in the corridors to accommodate patients.

"We can't take another patient. All day long I've been shuttling back and forth between the hospital and Pittsburgh getting extra equipment. We've got 11 oxygen tents in operation tonight, compared to our usual 3. So far, however, we've been lucky—none of the deaths have occurred at the hospital."

Cabinet To Resign In 3 Days

U. S. Opposes New Changes

ATHENS, Greece — (AP) —The Greek coalition government fell today in the midst of a civil war that has been raging since the end of World War II.

Only a three-day technical delay in the cabinet's resignation barred an immediate upset of the British and U. S.-supported nation.

Greece's 87-year-old premier, Themistokles Sophoulis, said last night his government would resign within two or three days.

The premier's statement came as a result of a quarrel between himself and the deputy leader of his Liberal party, Sophocles Venizelos, over a proposed re-shuffle of the cabinet.

High American officials here are known to be opposed to major government changes at this time for fear a political crisis might retard military and economic developments.

ARREST 44 REDS

Meanwhile, the Greek government continued its efforts to crush the Communists. Saturday police arrested 44 alleged Communists in Piraeus, the port of Athens. Friday the country was placed under martial law.

The Sophoulis government was formed in September, 1947, as a coalition of the Populist and Liberal parties, under United States pressure for a broad government. Populists and Liberals are traditional rivals in Greek politics.

Venizelos had given notice that he would ask parliament for a new government picked for ability rather than party affiliations or political strength.

The quarrel was brought into the open Friday when the premier told a news conference:

"The present state of affairs cannot drag indefinitely."

Sophoulis apparently referred to Venizelos' repeated threats to demand a vote of confidence in parliament. It was believed he decided to resign rather than wait for a vote of confidence.

Sophoulis said there was no basis for a compromise between himself and Venizelos.

Sophoulis faces other difficulties besides cabinet reorganization. His government has been severely criticized for inability to suppress Communist rebels and fulfill public desire for faster economic recovery.

Last July he offered his resignation after nine Liberal deputies demanded higher prices for domestic wheat, but he withdrew it after talking with King Paul. Venizelos was received by the king yesterday and said he would confer later with U. S. Ambassador Henry W. Grady.

Venizelos claims he has the support of 60 of the Liberal party's 100 deputies. The smaller parties would join them in any vote against the government, making the fall of the cabinet certain.

Scandinavians Eye Alliance

COPENHAGEN, Denmark—(AP) —Popular sentiment is increasing in Scandinavia for joining a western alliance. Neither Sweden, Norway or Denmark, however, is ready today to turn its back definitely on the east.

Sweden's policy makers are sticking to their traditional stand of strict neutrality which kept Sweden out of the second World war.

Until recently Norway and Denmark also were cool toward joining the camp of either east or west, but political observers a trend has been discernible to seek a more direc orientation.

Hundreds of Masqueraders to Appear In Halloween Parade

Goblins Will Cavort at Carnival Monday

Goblins and merrymakers will turn Mansfield's downtown section into a carnival ground Monday night.

Hundreds of masqueraders and colorful floats will move through the business district at 7:30 p. m. in the 40th annual "Help Hunt Halloween" celebration.

Eight bands and drum corps will provide marching music. After the parade there will be a dance in the Coliseum with the proceeds to be turned over to the children's home.

The parade will form at Third and Mulberry streets, go north on Mulberry to Fourth, east on Fourth to Main, south on Main to Central park and past the reviewing stand opposite the Ohio Public Service offices.

Cash prizes will be awarded to masqueraders and floats.

Mansfield's four school bands, the Shelby Legion Drum corps, school bands from Galion, Loudonville, Leesville, and the Mt. Zion community band have indicated they will appear in the parade.

Students at Senior high school will have a major part in the celebration, aiding Mrs. Ada Hunt Doerr with the arrangements. Mrs. Doerr is sponsoring the carnival, keeping alive the annual celebrations started by her late husband, Fred Hunt.

Parade floats will be entered by Senior high pupils and several business firms.

There will be organizations costumed in caricatures, including the Women of the Moose, teen-agers in Halloween garb, and dozens of little children, accompanied by their watchful parents on the side-lines.

The senior class at Senior high school, or the "49'ers", will appear in frontier costumes, but there will be no oxen pulling the float. A jeep will provide the power.

High school pupils are selling tickets for the dance following the parade. Bill Leicy's orchestra will play for the party in the Coliseum.

'I Remember When . . .'

Torchlights Marked Political Campaigns

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Presidential campaigns "just aren't what they used to be," says Henry A. Tuttle, 91, of 73 Sherman avenue, who remembers "back in 1868" when Gen. Ulysses S. Grant ran for president.

When Tuttle goes to the polls Tuesday, he'll be voting for his 18th president. He adds with a grin that he's "won" nine elections so far on the Republican party ticket.

The country had just been through six years of strife between the states when Grant was hailed as the party's choice for the country's helm.

HENRY A. TUTTLE . . . recalls Gen. Grant's campaign.

Another 300,000 children are never even conceived, because one out of every 10 couples in the united states are sterile. Again doctors don't know why, most of the time, nor how to overcome it.

Reasearch studies now are beginning in a new program to learn more about the reproductive process in humans. From it may come the knowledge to prevent much of this waste of human life.

The program is directed by the committee on human reproduction of the national research council. It was formed more than a year ago under a contract with the national committee on maternal health.

The maternal health group and the planned parenthood federation of America are collaborating in raising funds for the research, with a minimum of $220,000 sought this year.

SEEK BASIC FACTS

Much of the research will seek to learn basic facts. It isn't known, for example, exactly how conception takes place, or how long the female egg remains fertilizable. The causes of spontaneous abortions aren't known, nor what the chances are that parents of one defective child will produce another, now why more males than females are conceived.

About 30,000 premature babies die each year. Prematurity is "the ninth commonest cause of death in America, and yet we are completely in the dark as to its cause," the committee says.

The cause and prevention of miscarriages, it adds, must be sought "through the study of early embryonic cevelopement, possibly in the earlist stages when the pregnancy is a single fertilized cell."

The causes of stillbirths and many deaths soon after birth are connected with what happens to the baby during pregnancy, but little is known about this.

Research in the causes of sterility will investigate glandular secretions, the chemistry of male germ cells, and perhaps the psychology of married couples. Research may be undertaken on psychological factors that produce impotence in men and frigidity in women.

Studies also are planned on controlling fertility, and finding safe and simple controls of conception. This is important not only in child spacing for health, but also in dealing with over-population in countries where there isn't enough food.

The committee is composed of 14 scientists, including four biologists, one psychologist, a sociologist, an expert in public health, and seven physicians representing psychiatry, gynecology, obstetrics, the reproductive disorders of the male, and internal medicine. The chairman is Dr. Howard C. Taylor, Jr., Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the college of physicians and surgeons, Columbia University.

TORCHLIGHT PARADES — Lighted processions came into vogue during political campaigns about 100 years ago and Tuttle recalls their use during the Grant campaign.

Chinese Like Comics

SHANGHAI — (AP) — American comic books are flooding Shanghai. Few bookstores are without them. Their popularity, with children and adults alike, have fostered the rapid growth of the sidewalk vendor. It is generally understood that the comics are paid for abroad by means that have been outlawed today but which are likely to continue because their delivery is made through the postoffice.

The University of Illinois football stadium, which seats 66,572, is a memorial to Illinois students who died during World War I.

Checks Fare Racket

CANBERRA — (AP) — The Australian government plans a new law to halt a racket in steamer fares to Australia. Some agents have charged European migrants as much as $812 for a passage to Australia. Fares usually are under $422, and the agent pockets the difference. The new law, forecast by government officials, will compel all agents to register with the Immigration Department.

ENGINEER INJURED

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Roy Miller, 54, of Madisonville, a railroad engineer, received chest and wrist injuries Saturday when two switch engines collided on the Chesapeake and Ohio tracks.

Don't Look Now, Reds Tell Finns

HELSINKI — (AP) — Soviet authorities of Porkkala are irritated because pessengers on Finnish trains keep trying to peep at them through doors and shutters.

Porkkala is an area about six miles out of Helsinki which was leased to the Russians for 50 years under the terms of the 1944 Armistice. After long negotiations the Finnish government obtained permission to transit trains through the area, which cuts the main line from Helsinki to Turko, on the condition that all cars must be locked and completely blacked out during the passage.

Writer Steinbeck Divorced By Wife for Mental Cruelty

RENO, NEV.—(AP)—Mrs. Gwyndolyn Conger Steinbeck was granted a divorce Saturday from John Steinbeck, the writer. The ground was extreme cruelty of a mental nature.

The Steinbecks married in New Orleans in 1943. They have two children, Thom, 4, and John 2. Custody of the youngsters was agreed to in a separate settlement.

Steinbeck now lives at Pacific Grove, Calif.

Mrs. Steinbeck has been called as a witness for the Nov. 5 inquest into the death of Leonard H. Wolff, 28, formerly of Denver, who was found shot to death near here Saturday after he had lost about $66,000 in a gambling house.

Coroner Laurance Layman said Mrs. Steinbeck accompanied Wolff on his visit to the gaming club, and later he drove her to the guest house where she lived. Several hours later he was found dead in his wrecked car off the Mount Rose highway, a bullet in his head.

The coroner said it was possible Mrs. Steinbeck was the last person to see Wolff alive. He divorced his wife last month.

CAMPUS LIFE FUN AT OHIO WESLEYAN AND DENISON

By ANN SCHOENMAN

The southern part of Ohio is again in the limelight for the second in the series of pictures and stories of college campus life. Freshmen at Denison university and Ohio Wesleyan university have put their "dinks" back in hiding for another year.

When you enter the city of Granville, the traditions and charms of its New England ancestry are still evident in its wide, elm-shaded streets at the foot of surrounding hills.

At the mention of college one often thinks of the sorority and fraternity parties, football games, dorm life, and youth, dashing here and there to keep up with the fast pace they have set for themselves. Denison has all these, but too, there is the ever present and important part of campus life, work!

If you want to check on the fact that Denison has one of the highest academic standings in the state, just ask one of the hard working Mansfielders attending this school.

GOP Pushes Big Drive In Crawford

Ashland Offers Two Close Races

Controversial bond issues plus several hotly-contested county races prompted state officials of both major political parties to predict a record turnout at the polls Tuesday in Crawford, Ashland and Morrow counties.

Ohio political figures base their estimate on what they predict will be "one of the closest" gubernatorial, presidential and county election years in recent years.

Heaviest balloting in the Mansfield area outside Richland county is expected to take place in Crawford where the Republican party is launching an all-out drive to make inroads in the traditional Democratic stronghold.

For the first time since 1928, three Republicans are holding Crawford county offices. Crawford has elected only six Republican county officials in nearly fifty years.

Two hotly-contested races in Ashland are being counted on by both parties to turn out a heavy vote. With Sheriff H. R. Myers vacating his post, the top fight looms between William H. Schindler, (R), and M. F. Rickenbrod (D).

NEWCOMERS VIE

Bernard T. Haines (R) opposes Kenneth Nordstrom (D) for county prosecutor. Both are comparative newcomers to Ashland county. Haines is a former Akron resident and Nordstrom is from Cleveland. The present prosecutor, C. W. Chorpening, is vacating his post to return to private practice.

A $550,000 hospital issue in Morrow county plus civic improvement issue in Mt. Gilead and a $65,000 waterworks bond issue in Edison is of primary interest in the Morrow election.

5 Initiated By Auxiliary

CRESTLINE — Five candidates were initiated and guests gave short talks at last week's meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary of Harley Helfrich Post in the local V. F. W. hall. Two applications for membership were read.

Guests included Mrs. Mildred Fate, state deputy from Canton; Mrs. Ida Keller, chief of the state department of Canton; Mrs. Leota Faulkner, past deputy president of Ashland and president of the 10th District of which Crestline is a part, and Mrs. Marjorie Koontz of Shelby.

Mrs. Robert Durtsche presented each guest a gift and Post Commander Edward Laughbaum invited the auxiliary to a joint meeting with the V. F. W. Monday night. Mrs. Durtsche as president presided at the meeting with lunch being served by Mrs. Martha Barloin and her committee.

Miss Beverly Bausch was captain of the initiating team.

Shelby Junior Play Is Dated

SHELBY—The junior class of the Shelby high school will present "The Moon Makes Three," a comedy in three acts, under the direction of Miss Ruth Kellermeyer, dramatics instructor, next Wednesday and Thursday at the school auditorium.

The comedy concerns a 16-year-old girl whose only interest in life is curling up with a psychology book. That is, until Grandma enters the picture. Grandma, who reads psychology herself, knows that an active 16-year-old girl needs other interests besides a good book and proves it.

The cast includes Sue Dye as Grandma Jackson; Keith Garrett as John Henry Bailey; Rose Spangler as Marsy Bailey, Beverly Jewell as Eleanor Bailey; Jeanette Bly as E-Ann Bailey, Bill West as Nickie Barlow; Jeannie Thompson as Eve Wilson; John Scheerer as Frank Hall; Joan Payne as Mrs. Bailey; Glenn Shade as Freddie Smith; Jim Smith as Terry Randolph; Glen Pittinger as Wendell Wilcox; Carolyn Wilkinson as Jenny Mae West, Sara Moll as Minecie Miller and Joe Rudischum as Roger Armstrong.

New Washington Post Installs

NEW WASHINGTON—American Legion officers recently installed for the coming year are: Commander, George Heydinger; First Vice Commander, Herbert Kraft; Second Vice Commander, Benjamin Alt; Adjutant, Russell Suver, Chaplain, Russell Pine; Sergeant at Arms, Owen Fike; Finance Officer, P. J. Koepfer; Service Officer, Roma Niedermier.

Willis Horrell was appointed publicity officer and Lloyd Volk, child welfare chairman. New members appointed to the Crawford County council were George Heydinger, Russell Suver, Roma Niedermier, Virgil Heydinger, Benjamin Alt and Melvin D. Knesley.

Crushed To Death

MT. VERNON —(AP)— Wayne Spriggs, 14, was crushed to death today when a truck overturned in Route 229, west of here. He and another boy were riding in the truck.

BOXCAR BABY—She's a little pensive, but not sad.

Boxcar Baby Spends Her Life on Wheels

LOUDONVILLE — Seven months ago, little Lupe Gomez was born in a boxcar in the town of "Railville, U. S. A.," two miles northwest of Loudonville.

Don't look for Railville on the map. It's not there. Nor is Lupe Gomez the real name of a seven-month-old baby there.

Both exist, however, and have their counterparts all over the United States.

Lupe Gomez is the fictitious name of a tiny Mexican girl and Railville is the town in which she plays, eats and sleeps.

Her father, Pedro, is an itinerant railroad worker who brought his family from San Antonio, Texas to Ohio last year.

For one full year, Pedro and his wife have made their home in one of the 13 boxcars just outside the city limits of Loudonville.

When little Lupe came along, all six other Mexican family boxcar residents of Railville pitched in and gave the Gomez clan a lift.

But the occasion wasn't unique. It was a routine affair in the lives of the residents of the Pennsylvania railroad's "rolling village."

The ugly "city on wheels" lies snugly in a valley of the rolling, green hills of Mohican State Park. There Lupe and her companions romp alongside the railroad tracks while the men go to work on the railroad and the women take care of their boxcar chores, laundry and cooking.

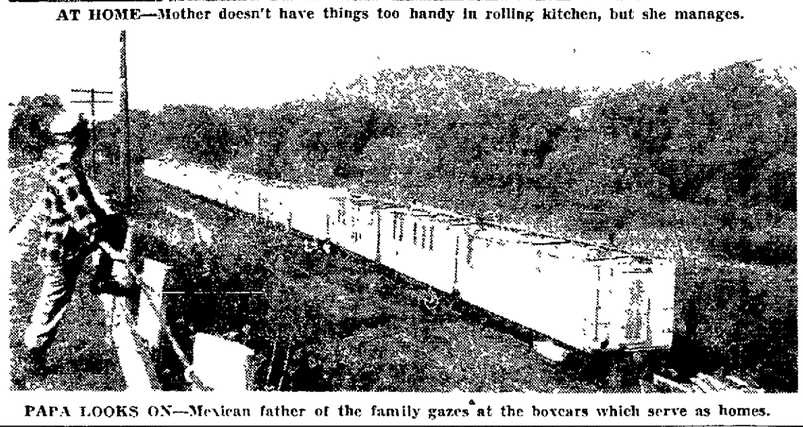
Some time in the near future, Pedro hopes to take Lupe back to San Antonio and a possible visit to her grandparents in old Mexico.

Meanwhile, she plays contentedly beside her pretty mother, Juanita, who pays scarce attention to Lupe while she cooks and bakes on a crude coal stove inside their boxcar.

Someday Lupe will be ready for school. Like the other older Mexican children, she will probably start in a school like the one at Loudonville, switch to several others and give up before she completes her education.

At present, the Mexican workers — soce 15 bachelors and seven married men — are fixing a track bed near Perrysville. When the job is done, Lupe's family will move with the "city on wheels" to another siding and another "Railville, U. S. A."

AT HOME—Mother doesn't have things too handy in rolling kitchen, but she manages.



PAPA LOOKS ON—Mexican father of the family gazes at the boxcars which serve as homes.

PLAYGROUND—For children living in Railville, U. S. A., there are seldom playgrounds near.

OFF TO WORK—Rail workers walk down the track to reach the spot where repairs are needed.

Ohio School Heads Name At Meetings

State Teacher Units Convene

(By Associated Press)

Thousands of school teachers from every corner of the state took a day away from the classrooms Friday to attend sectional meetings of Ohio's teacher associations.

It meant a holiday for the pupils, but the teachers spent the day attending business sessions, electing new officers and listening to educators and commentators speak on current problems.

The Central Ohio Teachers' association, meeting in Dayton, elevated C. M. Sims, superintendent of Piqua public schools, to the presidency from the vice presidency. P. Q. Freeman of Bellefontaine was elected vice president.

Merrill M. Berry of Chillicothe was renamed executive secretary, and William F. Weller of Springfield was reelected to the executive committee.

In Cleveland, the Northeastern Ohio association elected Kenneth M. Hazen, 37-year-old Alliance mathematics teacher, president. He succeeded Lamar Armstrong of Youngstown. The Southwestern association, meeting in Cincinnati, advanced Paul L. Upp, superintendent of schools at Hillsboro, to the presidency, succeeding Z. M. Walter, head of schools at Wyoming near Cincinnati.

CAMBRIDGE MEETING

In the Eastern Ohio association, meeting in Cambridge, W. E. Laws of New Philadelphia, head of Tuscarawas county schools, became president, succeeding A. E. Rupp of Cambridge.

Dr. Bernard Iddings Bell, free lance author and lecturer, told Central Ohio teachers in Dayton overloading schools with responsibilities formerly assumed by the home is the chief hindrance to education.

Tiro Aviator Gets License

WILLARD — Charles Frazee, of Tiro, passed his flight test for a private pilot's license at the local airport last week.

The Willard Flying club meetings have been postponed until next Thursday.

Flights during the last week included the following trips: Dean Funk and Paul Wilkinson flew to Athens, Ohio. James Predieri and John Tetrick flew to Nevada, O. Glenn Wendell and Robert Alfrey flew to Magnolia and Dean Funk and John Tetrick flew to Ashland.

Paul Root of Plymouth, Gaylord McCullough and Coy Hillis of New Haven, and Wynne Lydy of Willard have just returned from Gettysburg, S. D., where they flew the twin-engine Cessna to enjoy pheasant hunting. They made the round trip in 12 hours' flying time. They reported pheasants so plentiful you could shoot them from an automibile. They brought back 27 birds.

Lucas Seeks Fire Aid Bill

LUCAS—Monroe township's fire committee is making a last ditch campaign to insure passage of the proposed less-than one-mill fire protection amendment for the Lucas community in Tuesday's election.

Explanatory handbills went home with Lucas school students Thursday as a follow up to the mass educational meeting staged at the Lucas school Wednesday evening in an attempt to acquaint voters with all phases of the fire protection situation.

Assuming that residents of rural areas where there is no fire protection already are "sold" on the amendment, the handbills concentrated largely on the advantages it would afford the villagers. The village is served by a volunteer fire company that has no water tank, suction or pressure pump such as "was advised" ten years ago by the Ohio State Fire Inspection bureau that controls fire insurance rates, the pamphlets pointed out.

Lucas attention was invited to the fact that by the proposed joint (village and township) program the new truck, that would be manned largely by the volunteer company, would be housed in a new building in Lucas. The burden of payment would rest largely on the township by virtue of their relative taxable valuations. The Lucas valuation is $500,000, whereas Monroe township is $4,000,000.

Bucyrus Students Cast Mock Ballots

BUCYRUS—Thomas E. Dewey for president and Frank J. Lausche for governor are the political choices of Bucyrus high school students.

In a mock election held this week at the school, 287 students voted for Dewey and his running mate, Earl Warren, while 216 cast their ballots for President Truman and Senator Alben W. Barkley.

In the governor's race, former Governor Lausche received 267 votes against 233 for Gov. Thomas Herbert.

Only one vote separated the two lieutenant governor aspirants. Paul Herbert, Republican, received 243 votes and his Democratic opponent, George D. Nye, polled 242.

Pack-a-Towel Service Set Friday By Galion Groups

GALION — An impressive service is being planned by the Federated Missionary societies of Galion for the dedication of the Pack-a-Towel project. The service will be held at 7:45 p. m. next Friday at First Lutheran church.

Small articles which could be packed in a towel for youths 14 to 21 years of age, were collected and will be sent to displaced persons of these ages in the camps of Europe and Asia.

The offering which will be taken during the services will be used for postage on the packages when they are sent abroad. The balance of the money will be used to purchase vitamins and medical supplies for the displaced persons.

Mrs. Lowell Ness, president of the federation, will be in charge of the meeting. Program features will include a movie, "Beyond Our Own," selections by the women's octette of the city churches, consecration of the bundles by Mrs. Herbert S. Garnes jr., and Mrs. Paul Walter; Scripture reading by missionary society of the First Reformed church; prayer, Rev. Turner Holt of the Church of Christ.

Mrs. A. W. Bradfield is in charge of the ushers and offering for the dedication.

Paper Agency Sold By Plymouth Dealer

PLYMOUTH — Leon Z. Davis, Plymouth, after 20 years of service as a newspaper distributor, has sold his news agency to James Cunningham, effective Monday. He will be assisted on the route by his brother Donald.

Mr. Davis handled six newspapers, and for a period of seven years was sole carrier for the town, over a route of eight miles per day.

PLAN OBSERVANCE

WILLARD — Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chambers, Bullhead road, Willard, will celebrate their 50th anniversary Tuesday, but will observe the occasion on Sunday. Open house will be held from 1 to 4 p. m., for friends and relatives.

Willard Hospital Plans Approved

WILLARD — Preliminary plans were approved last week for the addition to the Willard hospital when the hospital building board met with the architect, Granville E. Scott of Norwalk.

The present plans will give an additional 27-bed space to the hospital, which addition was approved by the voters when a bond issue of $110,000 was passed two years ago.

Girl Scout Week Programs Carded In Ashland, Galion

National Girl Scout Week, starting today will be observed by Galion and Ashland groups.

A "Scouts Own" program will be held in Ashland's Trinity Lutheran church at 3:30 p. m. Miss Ellen Campbell, of Ashland, will speak and the program will be in charge of Mrs. Elton Whitted, Ashland Girl Scout commissioner.

Brownie Scouts have been invited to attend.

Galion launches its services in the First Reformed church with 10:45 a. m. services today. Open house hours will be observed from 2 to 4 p. m. in the new headquarters in the basement of the Moose block.

Girl Scouts will act as baby sitters on Citizenship day, Tuesday, in order that mothers may vote, it was announced by Mrs. Walter Judd, chairman of the week's program.

Council meeting will be held at 6 p. m Thursday and Galion concludes the program with a Thursday afternoon party at West elementary and junior high building.

The regional meeting in Columbus last week was attended by Mrs. Henry Ordosh, Mrs. Marvin Adams, Mrs. G. A. Berting, Mrs. Dick Lower, Mrs. Clinton Gerstenslager, Mrs. Lorenzo Krelter.

Firearms of Grandfather's Day Recalled

Galion Shooter Tops Muzzle Loaders of Nation

BY CATHERINE RORICK
N-J State Correspondent

GALION.—Galion would have no worries if it could be protected by one man's shooting, because there is one man here who seldom misses his target. He is Lloyd Bender who ranks first among the nation's muzzle loading shooters. He won the championship of the National Muzzle Loading Association for the year 1948 with a score of 285 out of a possible 300 aggregate for four matches, which was seven points higher than the next nearest competitor, Haroid Porter of Akron, Ohio.

Winning the championship was no small feat. It is one of the most difficult matches in muzzle loading. Not only are the old muzzle type guns used, but the contestants make their own bullets.

The National Championship consists of scores fired at 50 yards, 100 yards and 200 yards on modern standard targets, including one score off-hand.

The shooting of matches with the old pioneer guns never had entirely died out in this country, and about 15 years ago a groups of shooters led by E. M. Farris of Portsmouth, Ohio, formerly of Crestline, Ohio, began the organization of a national association to sponsor this game.

Many of the old time guns, especially the better ones, had been reverently preserved, some for several generations, and the organization grew rapidly. Factory ammunition is, of course, not available and the exacting job of making bullets, cutting patches and weighing powder, as grandfather used to do, adds much to the interesting sport.

In recent years the activities of the Association have grown to include pistols, principally those used during the Civil War, and trap shooting, exactly as done today except with muzzle loading shot guns. Flint lock rifles from the days of Daniel Boone also are regularly used.

The National Muzzle Loading Rifle Association now has about 6,000 members, and regular matches are held all over the United States. From these groups, over 300 grathered for the annual matches this year at Friendship, Indiana, where the association owns its range with complete facilities, including a large clubhouse. Thus, it looks like Galion's Mr. Bender tops the 6,000 in the United States.

There were many old time makers of muzzle loading rifles, but, by coincidence, both of the guns used by Bender were made by Peter Reinhard of Loudonville, Ohio, who made the finest of match rifles.

One of these guns shoots a round ball and weighs about 16 pounds, while the other has a bore in excess of one-half inch, shooting a two-ounce bullet and its weight is over 40 pounds.

Like all boys, Lloyd Bender was interested in guns. He started shooting them in boyhood, not haphazardly, but to excel. He has won a multitude of matches with all types of firearms. His trophies and medals number many dozen.

LLOYD BENDER

He holds the military championship of the state of Ohio which was won at Camp Perry this past summer with a modern army service rifle. He is a director of the National Muzzle Rifle association, and is known nationally as an authority on Winchester firearms of which he has many beautiful examples.

His work as vice president, in in charge of production at the North Electric Manufacturing company, makes him a busy man. He has found target shooting to be one of the best forms of relaxation. Ironically, he recommends for complete escape from modern worries, not modern guns, but the use of old time guns.

Sons of Ohio Mayor Saved In Home Fire

MT. VERNON—(AP)—Mayor and Mrs. Walter W. Rohler led their sons Buddie, 12, and Jackie, 8, to safety last night as fire swept through the youngsters' bedrooms.

Fire Chief Carrol White said the fire started behind a radio set. Damage was estimated at $3,000.

Stamp Vending Unit In Use At Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — An automatic stamp vending machine now is in operation in the lobby of the Bucyrus Postoffice, Postmaster Carl Young announced today.

The machine, installed for the convenience of patrons after stamp windows are closed, dispenses one-cent, three-cent and air mail stamps.

"Doc sure has something there!"

It's no trick at all, Doc tells me, to take out an appendix. The tough job, he says, and the important one is knowing whether it is the appendix that's causing the trouble.

Same way with cars. Anybody who calls himself a mechanic can fix cars when somebody tells him and shows him exactly what's causing poor performance.

But the fellow who can spot the complaint right off—without costly, time-wasting guesswork and experimenting—there's a real serviceman.

And that's the only kind we have at our Chrysler and Plymouth headquarters here. Fact is, our boys are so skilled that they don't even think they know it all.

Right now every last one of them is enrolled in the Master Technicians Service Conference. This is post-graduate education in engineering principles . . . in the fastest, surest ways of finding mechanical difficulties . . . in all the newest and best service techniques.

Doc, himself, says these mechanics are tops when it comes to check-ups and diagnosis. But don't take his word for it—bring in your car and see for yourself. You'll say you never saw such thorough service.

Tygers Win Football Track Meet, 62 to 7

from the tyger lair

By CHARLEY STINE

Senior high's No. 1 father missed the larger part of last night's dads' and moms' game. Coach Augie Morningstar left after ten minutes of the first quarter to look over a new quarterback addition to the family. Mrs. Morningstar had given birth to the youngster a half hour before game time.

Augie had not figured on leaving so soon but after his team had gotten off to four touchdowns and 27 points in the first quarter he thought things were pretty safe. He turned things over to "Big Mike" Bycione, while he went to see "Little Mike" Morningstar, his namesake.

Either the rejoicing over the coach's son, rebounding from the Massillon game, or a newly-found spirit put real fire into the Bengals . . . Admittedly the opposition was weak, but for no understandable reason Mansfield was "up" and played its best ball of the year . . . running was beautiful, and passing was good in spots, but the fine kicking of Guard Howie Tipper must not be overlooked.

Tipper converted on eight of the nine touchdowns and became somewhat of an automat by booting the last seven . . . all in all he kicked 19 times including ten kickoffs . . . those too, contributed much to the offense as he averaged 50 yards per kickoff . . . With Kiser having fumblitis the good kickoffs several times meant that the Tygers took over deep in their opponent's territory . . . for the first time this year, Mansfield did not fumble a single time despite the fact that it was using razzle-dazzle football.

OVERHEARD in the press box: "Our side has used everybody but Lummox" . . . Another at halftime—"Appleseed is going to play the second half" . . . Before the game, Cuff Stuffer Fred Tharp telling statistician Carl Graham "Paul Ferguson is about due to intercept a pass for a touchdown" . . . He did . . . Of course, a prediction on anyone making a TD would have likely come true for six backs scored for Mansfield.

Tyger fans, apparently feeling sorry for the Kiser team, gave it a rousing cheer on the only Dayton touchdown . . . George Markoff, 133-pound junior quarterback of the Panthers needed no cheering . . . all he lacked was some good solid blocks at the right time . . . the little sprinter was far and away the best Dayton man on the field as he threw several good passes . . . he scored the only touchdown, kicked the extra point and for all we know, may have blown up the football

Those who bought the Arlin field scoreboard apparently did not think the Tygers would even get as hot as they did . . . the board does not have numbers above 5 on the left side of the score indicator and when the tally reached 62, the board dropped to a mere 2-0 . . . Marion coaches were a sorry lot as they left the stadium after scouting the Tygers for next week's game here.

Mansfield has now won five of seven games The only loss to an Ohio team was last week at the hands of Massillon, 33 to 7.

Kiser Team Victim of Uprising

By FRED THARP
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

Mansfield Senior high's touchdown train soared to the scoring stratosphere last night in defeating Dayton Kiser, Gem City champions, 62 to 7, before an estimated crowd of 9,000 in Arlin field.

Using subs only sparingly, the Tygers rolled to a 62-to-0 lead in the third quarter as a tribute to their parents at the Moms and Dads night affair. But more especially the players blazed to the sky-high score as a gift to Coach Augie Morningstar, who become a proud papa while the club was warming up for the game

ROLL UP BIG TOTAL

The Tygers rolled to the staggering total of 420 yards on the ground and 62 in the air as they scored nine of the 11 times they got the ball Penalties were about the only thing that stopped Mansfield last night The Bengals were assessed 91 yards for infractions. The penalty bugaboo stopped the odd drives and even resulted in a Joe Miller TD being called back.

Completely out-played, the young Dayton team came to life in the fourth period when Tyger subs finally dotted the lineup. Kiser marched 80 yards with George Markoff finally going over from the four on a sweep and cutback. The 133-pound junior kicked the seventh point.

ONE MINUTE LATER

Senior high had one touchdown just one minute after the game started. Lou Gregorio returned the opening kickoff 27 yards to the 35. Little Tommy Tucker went off-tackle for four and A. C. "Sparky" Jenkins went through a wide hole on a trap and sprinted 61 yards to pay dirt. Dayton was off-side but the penalty was refused. Tipper added the point.

Here's the remainder of the scoring table:

2—Jenkins 19 yards on a trap play. Twenty-nine yard drive setup when Ken Carver recovered a fumble on the 29. Tipper missed for the only time. Time 4.00 of first.

3—Tucker swept end for 33 yards and out-ran the secondary. Drive went 57 yards as Mansfield was penalized for 20 yards. Time: 6:45 of first

4—Gregorio plunged over from one. Drive went 13 yards as Bernie Weaver recovered fumble on the 13 Time—9 min. of first.

5 Miller off-guard from the 43. He shook loose from three tacklers in the sprint Fifty-two yard drive. Time: 30 sec. of second.

6—Paul Ferguson intercepted Lefty Don Hortman's pass and dashed 86 yards behind beautiful interference. It was second longest run ever made at Arlin field. Time: 2:30 of second.

7—Gregorio waltzed over on a cross-buck from the 18. The drive covered 68 yards. Miller had one 24-yard run, Jenkins a 19 yarder and Gregorio 20-yard cross buck on the march Two 15-yard penalties retarded progress. Time: 4:45 of third

8 Joe Letizia bucked across from the one. The 47-yard drive started when Harry Osbun intercepted a pass on the 47. A 35-yard toss from Ferguson to Weaver put the ball on the 10. Time: 7:50 of third

9—Gregorio 48 yards off guard. It was the prettiest run of the game as the clever senior put out with some fancy hipper-dipper stuff The second play after the Tygers took over on the 18 Time: 11 min of third

Madison Attempts to End Losing Streak

PILE 'EM UP—Lou "Double No-Hit" Gregorio blasts six yards to the Dayton two in the first quarter of last night's Senior high-Dayton Kiser clash at Arlin field. The play was called back as the Senior high backfield was in motion. Two plays later Gregorio went over for his first of three TD's. Tony Taddeo, Tyger guard, blocks Gatlin Uzzell (80). Other Tygers in the picture are: Capt. Joe Miller (48), A. C. Jenkins (21) and Jim Miller (52). Kiser players are: Clarence Reddens (69), Tom Davis (68) and Jerry Johns (78).—(News-Journal photo by Bill Graham)

Norwalk Wallops Shelby In League Tilt, 25 to 7

NORWALK—The Norwalk Truckers walloped the Shelby Whippets, 25 to 7, in a homecoming game at Whitney field, last night.

It was a Northern Ohio league game.

Early in the second quarter two passes by Bill McKinley to Franklin and Prindle brought the ball down to the Shelby 20.

A fifteen yard penalty put the ball on the Shelby five. Hester plunged for the first score.

Rich Meagrow kicked off to Clarence Fackler who returned to the 33. Fackler again carried for 14 yards and a first down. Jerry Dennis and Fackler alternated to make it another first down on the Norwalk 41. Jim Berry then came into the ball game and in three tries carried the ball over for a touchdown. Junior Scheerer kicked the extra point and the Whippets led, 7 to 6.

GOES FOR 63

Later in the period McKinley cut for 63 yards on a brilliant run which carried to Shelby's 10-yard line. Hester made five. A penalty put the ball back on the 10 and McKinley passed to Johnson for eight yards. Johnson made one yard and then Hester plunged over.

The second half was just too much McKinley. Early in the third quarter he dashed nine yards around left end for the third score and then passed to Hall for the final touchdown on a 41-yard play. Hakes converted Shelby had one touchdown called back in the first period The Whippets marched 61 yards with Fackler going over from the 20 Holding nullified the score. Fackler also had runs of 54 and 30 yards in the initial period.

Alliance Aviators Are Trounced By Canton McKinley

CANTON — Maybe there are better football teams in Ohio than Canton McKinley's Bulldogs, but you'll have to prove it to the 26,500 fans who saw Coach "Bup" Rearick's boys perform last night.

McKinley—rated as No. 1 in Ohio—ran all over the state's No. 2 team, Alliance, to score a decisive 42-7 victory The game was never in doubt after fleet-footed Johnny Colceri rambled 76 yards for the first Bulldog touchdown in the opening two minutes.

The speedster counted another later to run his seven-game point total to 111 He piled up 207 yards in 20 thrusts and his deaf-mute running mate, Louis Mariano made 160 yards in 15 attempts Colceri, one of only three seniors in the McKinley lineup, now has more than 1,200 yards for the season

Ashland Eagles Win Fourth Game

ASHLAND — After a scoreless first half, the Ashland Eagles cut loose in the last two quarters to defeat the Kenyon Lords, 19 to 7, here last night.

It was the fourth victory for the once-beaten gridders of Coach George Donges. The Eagles have tied two games, losing only to Heidelberg. Shelby's Herb Hart got the final Ashland TD when he intercepted a pass and sped 65 yards to score.

Massillon Sophs Play Tyger Football 'Cubs'

Sophomore football teams of Senior high and Massillon Washington high were scheduled to play this morning at Stadium field. Augie Morningstar, Tyger athletic director, announced last night.

The teams will play a return game in Massillon Nov. 13.

State Convention

ALLIANCE — (AP) — The first Ohio convention of the Hot Stove league will be held here tomorrow National headquarters of the league is located in Alliance.

Bills-Colts Clash Tops Pro Program

NEW YORK — (NS) — The clash between the Buffalo Bills and the Baltimore Colts at Buffalo shapes up as the most important game on tomorrow's professional football card.

A victory for the Bills will enable them to tie the Colts for first place in the eastern division of the All-American conference. A win for Baltimore would practically clinch the eastern title for them.

Buffalo may eke out a win, but there is little to chose between the two teams.

In other AAC games, the New York Yankees are rated over the Chicago Rockets, and Brooklyn is a choice over the Los Angeles Dons.

NO MISTAKES

Philadelphia, leader in the eastern section of the national football league, is rated 13½ points better than Pittsburgh. However the Eagles, who may be overconfident as the result of their upset win over the Chicago Bears last Sunday, can afford to make no mistakes against the rugged Steelers.

The Bears, who are tied with the champion Chicago Cardinals for first place in the western section of the senior loop, are figured to be better than the New York Giants. The latter, however, are coming on fast as their rookies find themselves, and may give the Bears an unexpectedly good game.

The Cardinals, hottest team in the NFL, should beat the Los Angeles Rams.

Green Bay's Packers are rated over the Detroit Lions. Washington is picked over the Boston Yanks.

Gene Rudolph Paces Barnes Bowling Loop

Gene Rudolph rolled a 138-216-190—544 to lead the Barnes Manufacturing league at Richland Recreation last night. Harry Warne posted 497, Dwight McCullough, 474, and Lola Rudolph, 471.

It was the only league reported.

Rams Entertain Delaware Willis Gridders Tonight

Coach Ennis Walker's Madison Rams will attempt to break their longest losing streak in two years when they meet Willis high of Delaware at 8 tonight on the Ram gridiron.

Madison has been beaten by Loudonville and Mt. Vernon the past two week ends after running up a ten-game winning streak over a two-year span. They will be favored to get back on the right side tonight.

Fathers of the Madison players are to be honor guests at the annual Dad's night. The "Dads" will enter the field along with their sons between two rows of band members. The fathers, wearing the numerals of their boys, will then take their place on the Madison bench, while the players begin their warmup. Appropriate ceremonies will also be held at half-time.

Larry Secrist, out for over a week with infected elbows, will definitely be available for some action tonight, according to Walker. He will start at his regular tailback post, but will be given some relief by Jim McMillan.

Center Jim Gatton, who had to be carried from the field after aggravating a chronic ankle injury last week, is in good shape and ready to go.

Although Delaware has only a fair record of two victories and one tie in six games, Madison will be called upon to use all the speed at its command. The Willis team has a big weight advantage and its line is experienced. Madison's forte is also in the forward wall and the outcome of the line play might well decide the result of the ball game.

It will be the last home game of the season for Madison, which is scheduled at Wooster and Bucyrus the next two weeks.

Mt. Gilead 11 Scalps League Foe, 26 to 25

MARYSVILLE — Mt. Gilead high school gridders edged the local team, 26 to 25, in a Mid-State league thriller last night. Tackle Loren Grimes, of Marysville, who had missed but one of 22 extra point tries prior to the game, failed to boot the game-tying point at the close of the contest.

Marysville scored first when Fullback Hoffman raced 15 yards to tally. Mt. Gilead came back with two touchdowns in the first quarter as End McClelland recovered a bad center pass behind the Marysville goal line and Halfback LaRoche erasing the final two yards for the other TD after back Lancaster reeled off a 43-yard sprint. Lancaster ran the extra point.

Both teams added TDs in the second quarter but Mt. Gilead got the all-important point. Lancaster plunged over from the Marysville two and Halfback Meeker ran the point. Marysville counted as Halfback Hill plunged for the final six inches. In the second quarter Lancaster contributed a 71-yard run over the goal line but it was called back on Mt. Gilead penalty.

Hill made two scoring thrusts for Marysville from the one-yard line in the final quarter. The final Marysville TD came in the last 45 seconds of play and was followed by Grimes' inability to knot the score. Meeker tallied on a 15-yard run for Mt. Gilead in the closing period.

Fight Results

NEW YORK—Sandy Saddler, 124, New York, knocked out Willie Pep, 125½, Hartford Conn., 4 (title).

CHICAGO—Bernard Docusen, 143, New Orleans, outpointed Johnny Bratton, 141, Chicago 10

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Lee Sala, 160, Donora Pa outpointed Nick Kashuba, 160, Brooklyn 10

HOLLYWOOD Calif.—Manuel Ortiz, 129, El Centro Calif knocked out Buddy Jackuch 131½, San Francisco, 8 (non-title).

Saddler New Feather Champion

NEW YORK — (NS) — Sandy Saddler, a cocky 22-year-old boy from New York's Negro district, is the new featherweight champion of the world today.

He won the title in Madison Square Garden last night when he scored a sensational four round knocked over Willie Pep, veteran Hartford battler who had held the title for six years.

Pep had gone through 136 bouts with only a decision at the hands of Sammy Angott scored against him. But he went to the well once too often and so met defeat at the hands of a younger and harder-punching fighter

It was the first time Pep had ever been knocked out. He attributed his defeat to the fact that he had counted on Saddler being a soft touch and to the further fact that he didn't realize that the new champion is such a dynamic puncher.

The crowd of 14,685 who paid $55,571 to see the fight

Pep complained that Saddler roughed him up inside and often butted him in the clinches. Perhaps he did but it is equally true that Saddler outboxed, outspeeded and outpunched the Luding champion

Saddler said he would be glad to fulfill his contract for a return bout next year but next time there will be a more equitable distribution of the receipts. Pep got a record 50 per cent of the gate last night, while Saddler was glad to settle for 10 per cent and a crack at the crown He has scored 64 knockouts in 94 fights

Shoot Scheduled At Ohio Gun Club

A trophy and team shoot will be held at the Ohio Sportsman Gun club off route 30-N beginning at noon tomorrow.

One hundred sixteen-yard targets will be fired in the regular program with several optionals also available. A rotating trophy will be given to high man while the Mansfield club team will offer a cash prize to any five-man combination which can beat it in the 100 targets.

THE RECORD

My opponent's last-minute charges are either deliberate misrepresentation or based upon LACK OF KNOWLEDGE. I prefer to believe my opponent just does not know.

I DID NOT CAUSE AN EXPENDITURE OF $5255.00 TO THE TAXPAYERS OR RICHLAND COUNTY!

I did arrange to have title examination expense in delinquent tax sales charged as court costs, PAID FOR BY THE LAND OWNER out of sales proceeds, which COST THE TAXPAYERS NOT ONE RED CENT — thereby dispensing with the need to hire a special assistant to handle title examinations at county expense. (For 1941 my opponent had in his office a special assistant who was paid $160.00 per month by the county to handle tax foreclosures.)

(2) My opponent charges a $1,000 payment was made to Squire, Sanders & Dempsey. Bond Attorneys. This was paid to Squire, Sanders & Dempsey for the opinion approving the T.B. bond issue. UNLESS BOND ISSUES ARE SO APPROVED NO BANK IN OHIO WILL BUY THEM. Ask your banker! This charge of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey was the standard charge based on amount of issue.

THE TRUE RECORD ON COURT TRIALS

(3) My opponent charges that I brought Daniels to trial in Richland County for my personal glorification. The truth is, DANIELS WAS DELIVERED TO RICHLAND COUNTY BY JUDGE McNEILL OF VAN WERT BECAUSE THE HORRIBLE NIEBEL MURDERS WERE THE ONLY MURDERS ACTUALLY COMMITTED BY DANIELS. In accordance with my duties I prosecuted Daniels to the full extent of the law and I am proud of my preesntation of evidence and argument in the Daniels case.

I am also proud of my other criminal court work as prosecutor. Here is the record of trials:

17 Murder and Homicide Cases
..... 15 Convictions
19 Trials to Judges .... 19 Convictions
23 Jury Trials ..... 12 Convictions
8 Acquittals
2 hung juries

Richland Vote Expected to Set Record Tuesday

Predicts 37,000 Ballots

Party Heads See Victory

By GEORGE COMINOS

A record turn-out of at least 37,000 voters in Richland county Tuesday was forecast yesterday by an election board official.

While party heads have been conservative in their vote estimates, Charles Innes, chairman of the county board of elections, said he believed the total vote in this week's presidential election would top the 1940 high of 36,180 in the county.

"People aren't saying much about the election. That's when you can expect a big turn-out. I've seen it happen before," Innes said.

Ralph Lutz, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, predicted a vote of between 30,000 and 32,000, while Ralph Hardy, chairman of the Republican executive committee, estimated the vote would be about 33,000.

Lutz predicted that Frank J. Lausche, Democratic candidate for governor, would carry Ohio by a substantial majority, and that President Truman also would carry Ohio, but by a closer vote. He said Democrats would take county offices.

SEES "LANDSLIDE"

Hardy predicted that Tuesday's outcome would be "a repetition of 1932 in reverse," the Republicans winning by a landslide instead of the Democrats. Hardy said that was his prediction for the national contests, while locally, the voting would follow along the same lines.

Richland county voters will elect most of the county officials, help elect a president, governor, slate of state officials, two congressmen, state representative and a state senator.

Nearly a dozen bond issues and tax levies in the county will spur interest in the voting.

Highlighting the Richland county races is the contest for prosecutor between Theodore Lutz, Republican, now holding the office, and Harold Lutz, Democrat, former prosecutor. They are not related.

Other county battles involve E. P. Long, Democrat, and C. M. Chatlain, Republican, for sheriff, and Guy Stewart, John Selby, Fred Dill and John C. Friday for the two county commissioner posts. Stewart and Selby are seeking re-election.

CONTROL AT STAKE

Control of the board of commissioners is at stake. Republicans now have a two to one edge. Republican C. L. Shoup holds over but the election of Dill and re-

Train Crash Kills Four

NEWBURY, Vt. —(AP)— Four train crewmen were killed, five mail clerks were injured and 200 passengers shaken early Saturday as two Boston-Montreal trains crashed head-on in a heavy fog.

The engineer and fireman on the Boston and Maine trains were trapped in their cabs and died without giving an inkling of the cause of the mishap.

A railroad spokesman said the engineers had been given train orders to meet at Newbury—as is customary—but that the southbound train passed through this country community.

The collision occurred about a mile south of here.

One of the trains normally pulls on a siding at Newbury to await the other's arrival. Newbury is about half-way between Boston and Montreal.

Rebel Bites Off Tongue, Keeps Mum

ATHENS—(AP)—Athens police said Saturday they hope soon to be able to question a man who bit off the end of his tongue to keep from talking. They said his stitched up tongue is growing well.

The officials said John Politis, accused of helping transport Communist guerrillas from Athens to the battlefront, threw himself in front of a truck when he was arrested two months ago and crushed his legs.

Ten days ago, they said, he was carried to headquarters for questioning and there clipped off a piece of his tongue with his teeth. Police said they had picked up the severed piece and a doctor sewed it back on.

City Voters To Decide Three Issues

2 Bond Proposals, Pay Boost on Ballot

Mansfield voters will decide two major bond issues and a city pay increase proposal at the polls Tuesday.

Special ballots will carry proposals for a $2,250,000 bond issue to complete the city's big school building program and a $500,000 issue for a sewer construction program.

A third proposal provides pay increases ranging from 29 to 45 per cent for city police and firemen. The employes themselves took their pay boost to the voters. The pay increase would not increase the city tax rate, the money coming from the city's general revnue funds. It is estimated that the pay boosts will amount to $98,300 annually.

If both the $2,250,000 school bond issue and the $500,000 sewer bond issue are approved, the city's real estate tax will be upped by $3 per $1,000 valuation.

Citing the doubling of building costs, the increased birth rate and city population, proponents of the school bond issue point out that an extensive building and repairing program lies ahead before the board of education's physical plants will be in shape to adequately care for the city's children.

The $500,000 sewer bond issue is for the rehabilitation of the city's storm and sanitary sewer systems.

MADISON ASKS BONDS

The largest bond issue proposed in the county outside Mansfield is in Madison township where $180,000 is being asked to augment funds already available for building a new Lincoln Heights school and for adding classrooms to Madison high school and improving Woodville school.

Going on record in favor of the issue, the Madison board of education stated that the ever increasing enrollment of pupils has grown so alarming that further building is absolutely necessary despite the prohibitive high cost of building construction.

Other bond issues proposed in

Pilots Drop 'Goodies' to German Kids

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The American airlift flier who dropped one handkerchief parachute with candy for German children really started something.

Now, the air force reports, the average daily "drop" on that phase of the airlift to beleaguered Berlin is 1,500 candy laden chutes.

The project is still growing, and with it the personal problems of First Lieut. Gail S. Halversen, of Garland, Utah, who first started dropping the parachutes.

The air force said Saturday the volume of Halversen's fan mail from German children and contributions of handkerchiefs from the United States to make the chutes used in dropping the candy from airlift planes has become large. Indeed, he has been forced to call in a translator and a secretary to help him out on his personal project.

After Nine Long Years

New Bridge Ends 'Temporary' Detour

After nine long years Black Fork Creek on State Route 39, between Lucas and Perrysville, finally has a new bridge to replace the 50-year-old structure that was literally knocked into the creek in an auto accident in 1939.

The new Melco bridge was opened to traffic yesterday after an approximate $85,000 expenditure on the project that got underway in early spring. Only about $53,000 went into the sturdy polished steel and concrete structure with the remainder accounted for by the fills, asphalt approaches and seeded berms.

For nine years traffic was routed over a dangerous dog-leg detour and across a "temporary" bridge beside the site of the old one.

Not until last year when the News-Journal carried pictures, stories, and editorials pointing out the neglect, did the highway department, then under the direction of Murray Shaffer, go into action. Specifications were drawn and work begun.

One Mansfielder was killed and five others injured in the accident that demolished the old-fashioned steel enclosed bridge shortly after midnight June 18, 1939. Carl D. Nipper, 19, 141 South Mulberry street, was fatally injured and his companion, Dallas Kaufman, seriously hurt when their car plunged into the water as the bridge collapsed. Four others in a car driven by Lyle Westfield, Mansfield, R. D. 4, escaped with more minor injuries.

Residents of Lucas and the surrounding community remember the accident because it left them without electric power. A major line from the nearby Melco plant of the Ohio Public Service company was severed when a pole was sheared off in the crash.

OPEN AT LAST—Motorists on State Route 39 between Lucas and Perrysville have been greeted for nine years by an unwelcome "Road Closed" sign that marked the beginning of a "run around" that led to a temporary bridge over Black Fork creek. Yesterday traffic began moving over the newly constructed $53,000 bridge, above, that replaced an old-fashioned steel bridge that collapsed in an auto accident on June 18, 1939.

Bus Overturns Near Bucyrus

BUCYRUS—(AP)—Thirteen persons were injured last night, three seriously, when a Greyhound bus overturned on Route 98 seven miles north of here.

Arthur Buhl, 33, of Detroit, driver of the bus, told Deputy sheriffs that he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car. They quoted him as saying he veered the bus to the side of the road, causing it to overturn.

The bus was north bound from Columbus to Toledo at the time of the accident.

The three most seriously injured, and admitted to the Bucyrus hospital for treatment, were:

Mrs. Bertha Gillhouse, 27, of Toledo.

Mrs. Jessie Saar, 26, Toledo.

Benjamin Koch, 46, Melmore, O.

Ten others who were discharged from the hospital after treatment were:

Mrs. Roy Moore, 27, Tiffin.

Thomas Vicory, 17, Gibsonburg.

Mrs. Elizabett Jenkins, 27, Columbus.

Lewis Hayes, 47; Mrs. Hayes, 46, and their daughter, Gladys, 10, of Bucyrus.

Mrs. Carrie Budget, 51, Pontiac, Mich.

Mrs. Jaunita Moorehart, 21, Bucyrus.

Carl Dumas, 38, Detroit.

Sheldon Atkinson, 19, Bucyrus.

There were 37 passengers in the bus at the time of the accident, the driver told officers.

Most of those who received treatment joined the uninjured passengers in resuming the journey on another bus.

Heated Campaign In Final Stage

Dewey Closes Drive; Truman Visits Home

(By Associated Press)

Both major contenders for the presidency last night expressed their complete confidence in victory in the Tuesday election.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey closed his campaign last night in New York with a pledge that winning world peace "is the cause closest to our hearts."

Expressing confidence he will win the election, the Republican nominee said in a national radio address in Madison Square Garden:

"It has been divided against itself for so long," Dewey declared, "that it has forgotten the meaning of unity, and it never did know the meaning of teamwork or competence."

He said the Democratic party has resorted to "desperate tactics" because it is "splintered and divided" and "its own house is at the point of collapse."

President Truman came home to his native Missouri last night to announce that he has "cracked the Republican east" and that the Democrats are going to win.

The people, through the Democrats, "are going to win this election," the President declared.

"The North, the South, the East and the West are falling in line," he declared to an audience in Kiel auditorium at St. Louis, where he brought to a close his 271st-speech, "give 'em hell" campaign over 36 states.

It was a "summing up" speech, one in which he wrapped up all the criticism he has flung at GOP Nominee Dewey and what the President called a "good for nothing 80th Congress."

He struck out at what he called Republican opposition to the farm price support program and their efforts to wreck the Wagner labor relations law.

He said the Republicans seem to think "it is a little wicked for the government to be concerned about farm prices.

Battles Rage In Holy Land

TEL AVIV, Israel —(AP) —Serious fighting has broken out in Upper Galilee scarcely a week after defeat of the Egyptians in southern Palestine, and the U. N. has ordered both sides to cease-fire.

Arabic broadcasts said Israel's forces were on the march all along the northern front. U. N. observers said the Jews were attacking with artillery, planes and troops along a 20-mile arc from Tarshiha to Lake Hula.

There were unconfirmed reports that Tarshiha, 12 miles northeast of Acre on the coast, had fallen after repeated bombing and land attacks. Tarshiha is the main base of Fawzi Bey El Kaukkji's Arab irregulars.

Other reports to U. N. truce headquarters at Haifa said the Jews had cleared the road from Acre to Safad, 22 miles northeast.

An Israeli Army communique indicated hard fighting was going on.

Red Rebels Crush Army

NANKING —(AP)—Peace may soon settle over war-torn China.

The three-year civil war is virtually at an end, many reliable Chinese and foreign sources declared here today one day after Mudken collapsed into Chinese communist hands in the most stunning government battle reversal.

Spasmodic fighting may continue in China-proper for months, the sources said, but Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's effort to defeat the communists on a nationwide scale has died. The latest setback brought speculation on the possibility of replacing China's long-time leader.

Some unofficial quarters said the communists completely occupied Mukden, swollen to nearly 2,000,000 population by refugees.

The government still has hundreds of thousands of troops under arms, but the best quarters question their will to defend themselves, let alone to attack.

In Washington, officials feared that the United States is beginning to be confronted in China with the danger of its first major reverse of the cold war with Russia.

Yule Lights To Sparkle

Merchants Plan Park Decorations

Central park will sparkle with thousands of colored lights at Christmas time again this year.

The Retail Merchants' association will sponsor the decorations as it has for the past several years.

In a letter sent to city council yesterday, the association stated that it intended to spend $1,800 for new bulbs, wires and labor to string Central park with sparkling lights.

The group asked council to consider the possibility of the city paying the electric bill as it has done in the past. The cost for the current was estimated at $225.

The lights will be turned on the day after Thanksgiving and will burn each evening until after New Year's day.

U. N. Adopts Soviet Bill

PARIS — (AP) — Russia put through the United Nations social committee Saturday a human rights amendment condemning all attacks on personal "honor and reputation."

Amending Article 10 of a draft declaration of human rights, the Soviet bloc teamed with Latin Americans in giving "protection of the law" against such attacks.

Russian won 29 to seven. After the confused meeting, British delegate Mrs. Freda Corbert, told a reporter, "we'll draft a new article and present it to the General Assembly plenary session."

Jet Bomber Sets New Time Record

WASHINGTON —(AP)— An air force jet-powered "Flying Wing" bomber has flown nine and a half hours, longer than any jet aircraft has been able to stay aloft.

This definite indication of progress toward solving a major problem of jet planes—high fuel consumption and short range—came in an announcement Saturday by the air force. It said the Northrop YB-49, eight engine bomber, had flown 3,458 miles at altitudes between 35,000 and 40,000 feet on a shuttle course between points in California and Arizona.

Tragedy Strikes In Rail Yard

WILLARD—While his wife lay seriously ill in the Willard Municipal hospital, a yard conductor on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was fatally injured in a railroad accident here yesterday afternoon. The wife was not immediately notified of the tragedy.

Harrison King, 57, of Willard, was the victim of the accident.

Although there were no witnesses, it was believed that King fell from a moving freight car into the path of an oncoming locomotive. He was still alive when he was found, but died a few minutes later while still in the yard.

The body was removed to the Fink funeral home where Coroner Jay D. Bradish ruled death was caused by a fractured skull.

DRAGGED BY TRAIN

The victim's arms and face had been badly mangled, it was reported. Injuries indicated King had been dragged some distance.

Shortly after the accident was discovered, railroad officials arrived on the scene to investigate.

King had been a lifelong resident of Willard.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Helen Reed; three grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Dale Williams, and three brothers, Arthur, Fred and Walter. All are from Willard except for Walter, who is from Detroit.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Smog Fatal To Fifteen

DONORA, Pa. —(AP)— Fifteen persons died in this mill town of 15,000 Saturday and health authorities said their deaths apparently were the indirect result of a smothering smog.

Mrs. Cora Vernon, executive director of the American Red Cross, said an emergency hospital was being set up immediately. She reported the Charleroi-Monessen hospital at nearby Charleroi was filled to capacity and estimated at least 50 persons were being treated as a direct result of the smog.

"It's very hard to breathe," said Rudy Schwerha, a member of the board of health. "It's impossible to determine just how many residents are sick but the doctors and nurses can't keep up with the situation."

All of the deaths Saturday occurred unexpectedly after a fog which has prevailed for several days became exceptionally heavy. Mixed with smoke from the industrial community, a thick smog was created.

"The deaths seem to have hit people who were suffering from cardiac or asthmatic conditions," Schwerha said. "There's no doubt the smog has been the cause."

Dr. James Lau, superintendent of the Charleroi-Monessen hospital said extra beds have been placed in the corridors to accommodate patients.

"We can't take another patient. All day long I've been shuttling back and forth between the hospital and Pittsburgh getting extra equipment. We've got 11 oxygen tents in operation tonight, compared to our usual 3. So far, however, we've been lucky—none of the deaths have occurred at the hospital."

Cabinet To Resign In 3 Days

U. S. Opposes New Changes

ATHENS, Greece — (AP) —The Greek coalition government fell today in the midst of a civil war that has been raging since the end of World War II.

Only a three-day technical delay in the cabinet's resignation barred an immediate upset of the British and U. S.-supported nation.

Greece's 87-year-old premier, Themistokles Sophoulis, said last night his government would resign within two or three days.

The premier's statement came as a result of a quarrel between himself and the deputy leader of his Liberal party, Sophocles Venizelos, over a proposed re-shuffle of the cabinet.

High American officials here are known to be opposed to major government changes at this time for fear a political crisis might retard military and economic developments.

ARREST 44 REDS

Meanwhile, the Greek government continued its efforts to crush the Communists. Saturday police arrested 44 alleged Communists in Piraeus, the port of Athens. Friday the country was placed under martial law.

The Sophoulis government was formed in September, 1947, as a coalition of the Populist and Liberal parties, under United States pressure for a broad government. Populists and Liberals are traditional rivals in Greek politics.

Venizelos had given notice that he would ask parliament for a new government picked for ability rather than party affiliations or political strength.

The quarrel was brought into the open Friday when the premier told a news conference:

"The present state of affairs cannot drag indefinitely."

Sophoulis apparently referred to Venizelos' repeated threats to demand a vote of confidence in parliament. It was believed he decided to resign rather than wait for a vote of confidence.

Sophoulis said there was no basis for a compromise between himself and Venizelos.

Sophoulis faces other difficulties besides cabinet reorganization. His government has been severely criticized for inability to suppress Communist rebels and fulfill public desire for faster economic recovery.

Last July he offered his resignation after nine Liberal deputies demanded higher prices for domestic wheat, but he withdrew it after talking with King Paul. Venizelos was received by the king yesterday and said he would confer later with U. S. Ambassador Henry W. Grady.

Venizelos claims he has the support of 60 of the Liberal party's 100 deputies. The smaller parties would join them in any vote against the government, making the fall of the cabinet certain.

Scandinavians Eye Alliance

COPENHAGEN, Denmark—(AP) —Popular sentiment is increasing in Scandinavia for joining a western alliance. Neither Sweden, Norway or Denmark, however, is ready today to turn its back definitely on the east.

Sweden's policy makers are sticking to their traditional stand of strict neutrality which kept Sweden out of the second World war.

Until recently Norway and Denmark also were cool toward joining the camp of either east or west, but political observers a trend has been discernible to seek a more direct orientation.

Hundreds of Masqueraders to Appear In Halloween Parade

Goblins Will Cavort at Carnival Monday

Goblins and merrymakers will turn Mansfield's downtown section into a carnival ground Monday night.

Hundreds of masqueraders and colorful floats will move through the business district at 7:30 p. m. in the 40th annual "Help Hunt Halloween" celebration.

Eight bands and drum corps will provide marching music. After the parade there will be a dance in the Coliseum with the proceeds to be turned over to the children's home.

The parade will form at Third and Mulberry streets, go north on Mulberry to Fourth, east on Fourth to Main, south on Main to Central park and past the reviewing stand opposite the Ohio Public Service offices.

Cash prizes will be awarded to masqueraders and floats.

Mansfield's four school bands, the Shelby Legion Drum corps, school bands from Galion, Loudonville, Leesville, and the Mt. Zion community band have indicated they will appear in the parade.

Students at Senior high school will have a major part in the celebration, aiding Mrs. Ada Hunt Doerr with the arrangements. Mrs. Doerr is sponsoring the carnival, keeping alive the annual celebrations started by her late husband, Fred Hunt.

Parade floats will be entered by Senior high pupils and several business firms.

There will be organizations costumed in caricatures, including the Women of the Moose, teen-agers in Halloween garb, and dozens of little children, accompanied by their watchful parents on the side-lines.

The senior class at Senior high school, or the "49'ers", will appear in frontier costumes, but there will be no oxen pulling the float. A jeep will provide the power.

High school pupils are selling tickets for the dance following the parade. Bill Leicy's orchestra will play for the party in the Coliseum.

Electoral Landslide Sighted For Winner Of 'Worst' U. S. Job

Presidency Called Man-Killing Task

WASHINGTON — (AP) — When you elect a president on Tuesday you will be handing somebody the world's toughest job: Hard work, long hours, poor pay.

It's not all brain work either. The President has to sign more than 150,000 papers a year. He must personally pass judgment on such unhistoric matters as federal fishing regulations, the hiring of attorneys for indian tribes, dismissals from the Naval Academy and regulations governing boxing exhibitions in the Panama Canal zone.

The only living survivor of the presidential ordeal, Herbert Hoover, has said he is deeply concerned over the "vast and intolerable labor" the president must shoulder. Hoover, now head of a commission on organization of the Federal Government, has personally taken charge of the commission's research on the presidency to see what he can suggest to make the job more manageable.

For one thing, there are so many agencies reporting directly to the president that the situation is a nightmare to experts on military and industrial organization. And it is steadily getting worse as Congress adds more to the list—eight new ones in the past session.

Military theorists say no top level commander should have more than seven or eight subordinates directly under him. Management engineers have said that no policy-making official in industry should have to deal with more than four or five second-level men.

But directly under the President of the United States are 61 agencies—departments, commissions, authorities, administrations, etc. Besides that there are a number of permanent committees and temporary commissions. More than 235 officials have direct access to him.

BUSY EVERY MINUTE

The President can't afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier or to light the National Christmas Tree, it would raise a storm.

Visitors, one every 15 minutes, have taken up President Truman's days from about 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. And many more have come on most days after lunch.

The reading of reports, memos, requests and thousands of documents have taken up his afternoons and most evenings until 11 P. M. When he is away from Washington, pouches of documents follow him. No matter what else he is to do, he must find time to sign papers. He has said he signs his name an average of 600 times a day.

Mr. Truman gest his reading and personal correspondence completed in the early morning. He rises about 5:30 A. M., reads half a dozen newspapers and some magazines before breakfast, takes a walk, has breakfast at 8, and from 8:30 to 9 A. M. dictates letters.

At 9 A. M. there is a conference with the White House staff, the president often opening the door with a morning greeting. Afterwards he talks privately with Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, his Chief of Staff. Then the steam of visitors and signatures begins. Whenever there are five minutes to spare, he signs papers.

History Discloses Few Close Races

WASHINGTON — (AP) — If Tuesday's presidential returns follow the usual pattern the winning candidate will receive a large majority of the 531 electoral votes.

There hasn't been a neck-and-neck race for the presidency since Woodrow Wilson beat Charles Evans Hughes in 1916 by 23 electoral votes. Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and four-times-elected Franklin D. Roosevelt won by big electoral vote majorities.

There has been only one other really close contest since the Civil war—the Hayes-Tilden dispute of 1876, when a commission appointed by congress decided Hayes had won by 185 to 184 electoral votes.

The popular vote has been comparatively close in several races when electoral vote margins, however, were substantial. In 1880 Republican James Garfield led Democrat Winfield Hancock by only 7,023 in a total of 8,891,083 popular votes, but Garfield got 214 electoral votes to 155 for Hancock.

UNUSUAL RACE

Democrat Grover Cleveland polled 95,000 more popular votes than Benjamin Harrison in 1888, but Republican Harrison actually got a higher electoral vote—233 to 168 for Cleveland.

The Roosevelt-Dewey popular vote ratio in 1944 was Roosevelt 25 to 22, but Roosevelt had a huge electoral vote lead, 432 to 99

Some members of congress favor changing the electoral system in order to prevent the possible election of a candidate with a minority of the popular vote. They would divide the electoral vote of each state in proportion to the popular vote for each candidate instead of giving a state's entire electoral vote to the leading candidate.

A major party candidate who loses a presidential race is seldom chosen to run again. Governor Dewey is the only defeated candidate to be renominated by the Republican party.

The Democrats renominated "silver-tongued" William Jennings Bryan twice and Grover Cleveland once after they had been losers. Cleveland was the only previously beaten nominee to win election since the two parties began battling each other in 1856.

No defeated presidential candidate of modern times has run for a lesser political office, although several have been prominently mentioned for the United States senate or a governorship. John Quincy Adams served in the House of Representatives for several years after leaving the presidency.

After his defeat in 1940 the late Wendell Willkie continued to be a national figure, an outstanding possibility for renomination in 1944. But he made a poor showing in the 1944 primaries and faded rapidly from the Republican picture.

The Lexington local school district voters will be asked to approve renewal of a six-mill levy for operating expenses. It will run five years.

Voters in the Springfield township district will ballot on renewal of a three-mill school levy and approval of a new three-mill levy for school operation.

Source of Ohio Dope Discovered

COVINGTON, Ky. — (AP) — Charles E. Conley of Newport pleaded guilty Saturday before U. S. Commissioner Orrie S. Ware to charages of possessing marihuana and was bound over to the Federal grand jury under $3,000 bond.

Conley was arrested last night in a raid on a residence in Newport in which federal narcotics agents and local officers seized marihuana they said valued at $10,000.

Narcotic Agent Roy Anderson expressed belief the place has been serviing as source of supply for marihuana sold in northern Kentucky and southern Ohio.

Thomas Tells Why Socialists Keep Trying

NORWALK, Conn. — (AP) — Why does the Socialist party bother to put on a national campaign when no one concedes it a chance of victory?

Norman Thomas, its candidate for president, gave an answer in a speech prepared for delivery here last night. He said there were three reasons:

1. "To teach the theory and ideals of democratic socialism."

2. "To outline a socialist program for our troubled times."

3. "To make more likely the rapid emergence of a great mass party of the people as an essential instrument for winning plenty, peace and freedom."

Thomas asked if it could be done, and answered his own question by citing as an example this city, where Socialist Irving Freese was elected mayor a year ago.

"It can be done if only the people are aroused and vigilant,"

Memo to Wives: Feed Your Husbands Stick-to-Ribs Dishes

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK—(AP)—If you want your husband to be a millionaire, don't feed him on lettuce and ladyfingers.

That's the advice of some of New York's most famous chefs, who cater to the tastes of tycoons of finance and industry every day in the week.

Since much of the business in this financial center of the world is done over luncheon tables, most of the big hotels and clubs have set aside special dining rooms for men only. No woman is allowed to cross the threshold of these sacrosanct premises, where conversation runs to stock quotations and food is strictly hearty.

At the Stork club the male preserve at lunch time is the Cub room, where men may lunch without having perfume served up with their mashed potatoes or lipstick with their napkins.

Among the regulars are former Postmaster General Jim Farley, whose favorite dish is chicken fricasee with rice; Ex-Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, who goes for chicken pot pie; Victor Emmanuel, president of Aviation corporation, who calls for frankfurters and ham with sauerkraut; Paul Lockwood, aide to Governor Thomas E. Dewey, who prefers boiled beef with new cabbage, and Arthur Godfrey, who waxes lyrical over corned beef and cabbage.

There is not, points out Chief Gabriel Beaumont, a salad fancier in the lot.

At the Waldorf men's bar, masculine food tastes also run to the stick-to-the-ribs variety. Among the notables who stoke up here are:

BEEF FOR KAISER

Henry J. Kaiser, who orders prime ribs of beef, sliced right at the table and served from the roast beef cart in the fashion of the famous Simpson's-on-the-Strand of London. It is served with baked potatoes and Yorkshire pudding.

Epicure Crosby Gaige enjoys lamb stew, pompano and striped bass. Commonder Bernard Brauch, chooses lobster Newburg and the men's bar specialty, crab meat Louis.

Col. Gustav Metzman, president of the New York Central railroad, usually orders ham, preferring it southern style, with all the trimmings.

Louis Diat, chef of the Ritz Carlton says business men's favorite dishes are chicken hash, lamb stew, roast beef hash and hamburger steak smothered in onions. Monty Woolley's favorite dish at the Ritz is oxtail soup, the recipe for which follows:

1 oxtail (about 2 lbs.) cut in 1-inch sections.
2 tablespoons beef fat
1 medium onion, sliced.
1 faggot made of 1 leek, 2 sprigs parsley, 2 stalks celery.
½ cup diced (or round) carrots.
2 tablespoons flour.
2 teaspoons salt.
2 quarts water or stock.
½ cut diced (or round) turnips
1 teaspoon dry herbs, mixed marjoram, rosemary, sage, basil, thyme and ½ bay lead.
1 glass sherry or madeira (optional)
4-5 peppersorns.

Parboil oxtail for 2 or 3 minutes, drain off water and wipe the sections dry. Put fat in saucepan and when melted add oxtail, sliced onion and carrot and cook until all are golden brown, Add flour, mix well, add stock (or water), salt, peppercorns and faggot. Bring to a boil, skim well and simmer for about 4 hours, skimming as needed. Tie carroats and turnips in cheesecloth and cook during last hour or cook them in a separate pan. Strain the soup through cheesecloth on which the herbs have been placed, pouring carefully to prevent any sediment in the bottom of the pan from clouding it. The pieces of oxtail will remain in the bottom of the pan and should be removed with a spoon to the tureen. Correct the seasoning of the strained soup, add the cooked carrots and turnips, add the wine (if used) and pour over the oxtail. Serves 6.

Chef Gabriel Beaumont of the Stork club hands out this receipe, which wise wives will do well to follow:

Chicken pot pie to serve four persons.

Take two lb. chickens, 2 onions, 2 carrots, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon celery salt. Boil gently for 30 minutes.

Cook separately in water to cover until tender. 16 small onions, 6 carrots, 6 potatoes.

Melt in sauce pan ¼ lb. of butter. Sitr in 1 cup of flour, 1 cup of cream, 4 cups of chicken broth. Salt and pepper to taste. Cook and stir slowly for twenty minutes. Then strain.

Disjoint chickens, and place pieces in four large individual casseroles. Place onions carrots and potatoes in casseroles, and pour sauce into each. Cover with pie pastry Crimp edges with fork. Slash top of each to allow steam to escape. Bake in a 425 degree oven until pastry is golden brown, about 25 minutes.

Blast Kills Boy

AKRON—(AP)—A lighted match tossed into a discarded rubber cement container caused an explosion Saturday that killed Robert Ellis, 3. Acting Assistant Fire Chief E. Y. Spangler said one of a group of boys at play threw the match into the 55-gallon drum.

SWAN ANNOUNCES THE BABIES

—by Swan Cleaners

A very angelic little daughter arrived at Mansfield General Hospital on October 8th. Her name is Pamela Gail Flaugher, and her very proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Flaugher of R. D. 5. "Pam", as her "diaper deb pals" call her, weighed 6 lbs. upon arrival.

Roger Allen Jackson is just as sweet as sugar candy, say his excited mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Jackson, R. D. 2. Roger checked in at Mansfield General Hospital on October 14th and tipped the scales at 7 lbs., 8 ozs.

"Bye - baby - bunting" is the theme heard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Edgington, 340 W. Third St., since the arrival of their cherubic new daughter, Linda Marie Edgington. Linda vocally announced herself on the 16th of October at Mansfield General Hospital and weighed 6 lbs., 4 ozs.

Samuel Edsworth Norris, Jr., is the future football hero son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Norris, R. D. 1, Roseland. This captivating new "Jr." arrived at Mansfield General Hospital on October 17th and made the scales sing to the tune of 8 lbs., 10 ozs.

The stork set at Mansfield General Hospital welcomed a new "cradle charmer" to its ranks. Her name is Susan Marie Huck, beguiling new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huck, 93 Massa Ave. Susan arrived on October 12th and weighed 7 lbs., 10 ozs.

Mr. and Mrs. Elra Hall of 234½ Orange St., have a rosy cheeked son now residing with them. His name is Dennis Karmen Hall and upon arrival at Mansfield General Hospital on October 21st, this "gurgling" lad weighed 7 lbs., 10 ozs.

The husky new son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stinehour, R. D. 4, Vetesville, is Charles Daniel Stinehour, Jr. This adorable young fellow tipped the dish of balance at 8 lbs., 13½ ozs. when he first made his appearance at Mansfield General Hospital on the 21st of October.

"Pink booties and sweaters" are in store for sweet little Pamela Kay Penney, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Penney, 897 Burger Ave. Pamela Kay arrived at Mansfield General Hospital on October 20th and listed her weight in the baby book at 7 lbs., 6½ ozs.

Joyce E. Cornell is the main attraction at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cornell, 520 Oakenwaldt Ave. Arriving at Mansfield General Hospital on the 18th of October, this petite young miss weighed 7 lbs., 1½ ozs.

Good things come in little packages agree Mr. and Mrs. William Bernhardy, 37 Glenwood Blvd., after they first saw their tiny new son. His name is William Douglas Bernhardy and after checking in at Mansfield General Hospital on the 16th of October, this darling boy weighed 4 lbs., 3½ ozs.

Jack and Anne Kennedy of 90 Blymyer Ave., are elated over the arrival of their be-dimpled little daughter, Kathryn Sue Kennedy. This "safety - pin sweetheart" weighed 6 lbs., 8 ozs. when she arrived at Mansfield General Hospital on the 17th of October.

Charles William Stiverson is his father's and mother's "pride and joy", he's said to look just like his dad. Charles tipped the scales at Mansfield General Hospital at 5 lbs., 5 ozs. when he arrived on October 18th. His very proud parents are Mr and Mrs. William Stiverson, R. D. 3.

Five New Voting Places Set Up In City, Madison Township

Boulevards Made Part Of Ward 2

Changes Announced In Suburban Areas

When they go to the polls Tuesday, Mansfield and Richland county voters will find only five voting places changed since the primaries last May.

South Boulevards residents will continue to vote at the same place, the village hall, despite the fact that the village has been annexed to Mansfield. That community has been made a part a Precinct G of the Second ward.

The changes will be in Precincts A of the Fourth ward and F, G, H, and I of Madison township.

Voters in Precinct A of the Fourth ward will cast their ballots at the Taylor residence, 74 Harker street. They formerly voted at the Edward Flocken garage, 108 Harker street.

In Madison township the changes are:

Precinct F, from the home of Mrs. E. I. Davis to the CCC Billiards, 741 Bowman street: Precinct G, from Helen's tavern to Roseland school; Precinct H, from Frank Cave's office to Roseland school, and Precinct I, from the Hamman rest home to the state highway garage on West Fourth road.

Tennessee Mob Quelled By Troops

Governor Sends Militia Forces

LOUDON, Tenn. — (AP) — National Guard ground troops, supported by fighter planes, moved into Loudon Saturday under orders to put down threatened mob violence stemming from the death of a hillbilly singer.

The militia moved in at the direction of Gov. Jim McCord. The governor acted on request of local authorities who reported the situation out of hand.

Tension had been high here since last Friday night when Ray Brewster, 26, widley known in east Tennessee as a radio singer, died in an automobile crash. The situation had quicted by the time the troops arrived.

Brewster's father charged in a warrant that Sheriff Henry McDonald and Deputy Clifford Hughes were responsible for his son's death. Magistrate W. S. Watkins said the elder Brewster swore out a warrant charging the officers with responsibility "by chasing Brewster's car, shooting the tires, causing it to overturn and causing the death of the occupant."

McDonald and Hughes, disputing the father's charge, said Brewster's automobile wrecked after he tried three times to ram their car as both vehicles were traveling along a road near here.

Watkins said there has been no coroner's inquest into young Brewster's death. He added "none will be held because there were eyewitnesses."

Major Warren Giles of nearby Athens, led the advance guard of troops into Loudon during the afternoon. "All is quiet," he said. "There doesn't seem to be any trouble at all now."

City's Movie Prices Go Up

A four-cent price rise went into effect at Mansfield's two first-run theaters last night.

Managers of both theaters said the increase would be effective only on Saturday nights and all day Sunday. Monday through Friday the old prices will prevail, they added.

"While we employ local people, we don't have too much control over the situation," stated Al Dennis, manager of the Madison theater.

He pointed out, however, that it had been two years since the last raise in prices, and that meanwhile wages and costs of film had mounted steadily. He also said theaters in other cities followed a policy of charging more week ends.

SPEAKS AT RALLY — Rev. Louis H. Valbracht, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church at Zanesville, will speak tonight at the Reformation rally at the First Lutheran church. His subject will be "A Need for Intolerance." Rev. C. A. Portz, a member of the committee on arrangements, will preside at the meeting which will include music by the church choir. All Lutherans of the Mansfield area will join in the rally, to celebrate the birth of Lutheranism on Oct. 31, 1517.

Heavy Vote Anticipated

election of Stewart would swing the board control to the Democrats.

Clerk of Courts Howard Wenning, Democrat, seeks re-election. His Republican opponent is Edward R. Friday.

The fight for county recorder finds H. R. Barnes, Republican, opposing the present recorder, D. D. Orewiler, Democratic candidate.

In the race to represent the 17th district in congress are Attorney Robert W. Levering, Mt. Vernon, who is running against the present congressman from this district, J. Harry McGregor.

State Senator Ralph A. Winter, Lodi, Republican, who is seeking re-election, is opposed by Carl J. Longwell, Loram, Democrat.

Five county office-holders need only be interested in the "complimentary" vote they receive since they are without opposition.

They are Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, Probate-Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer, and Coroner Dr. D C. Lavender, Republicans, and Treasurer Charles C. Payne and Engineer Walter E. Rusk, Democrats.

Fire Damages City Garage

A fire at a service station at the corner of Fourth and Adams streets burned one man last night and caused considerable damage to the building and equipment.

Dale Marks, 95 East Dickson avenue, suffered first and second degree burns on his arms and hands when the fire of undetermined origin broke out in Linham's Automotive service He had been changing the oil in his car, he said, when a spot of flame near a container of gasoline attracted his attention. The gasoline ignited as he attempted to remove the container from the vicinity of the fire. Marks was treated at Mansfield General hospital and released.

Firemen from Central station, called at 6:45 p m, quickly extinguished the blaze but not before a large number of tires, Marks' automobile, and the door and interior of the structure were badly damaged.

Everybody Wants To Be Nevada JP

RENO, Nev.—(AP)—It used to be said that any American boy could grow up to be president, or at least a governor of congressman—and presumably wanted to.

Nowadays, in Nevada, he's more than likely to run for justice of the peace. It looked that way, anyway, at this year's primary election.

There were 12 men after the job of justice of the peace at Las Vegas and nine sought the office in Reno. The primary election weeded out all except two in each city.

Why all this interest in a job which in most communities is an underpaid township office?

Well, in Las Vegas the Justice of the Peace office is a $40,000 a year business and in Reno it's at least half that much.

The big business is marriage. Almost 27,000 weddings were performed in Reno last year and only a few thousand less took place in Las Vegas.

That's where the Justice of the Peace comes in. There's a $5 fee involved in each ceremony. It goes into the justice's pocket.

Thus when Harvey E. McDonald of Las Vegas read the marriage vows some 9,500 times last year, he handled more money than many a banker or corporation executive.

MC DONALD LOST

Mc Donald is a former gunner on an Army bomber. He was elected Justice of the Peace two years ago, and he sought reelection. But Las Vegas voters follow a political rule of thumb which limits the Justice of the Peace to a single two-year term.

Mc Donald lost out in the primary. Competing for his job next month are A. G. (Gus) Blad, long-time Las Vegas police judge who augments his income by tending bar at the Elk's Club, and Robert Peccole, who dabbles in real estate but makes his living as a blackjack dealer at a downtown club.

Reno voters do not follow the single term pattern. The late Justice of the Peace Harry Dunseath held the office for 12 years until his death last spring.

The Reno Justice has more competition in the marriage business from the district judges than does the J. P. in Las Vegas, but even here he can net about $1,000 a month when business is good.

Laurance Layman, a veteran Post Office worker, was appointed to the Reno job upon the death of Dunseath. Layman and Fred Keiper, an embalmer with a local undertaking firm, won out in the primary here and will meet in the general election.

No educational or occupational background is required to be a Justice of the Peace in Nevada—just a willingness to be on the job 24 hours a day.

In addition to performing marriage ceremonies, he has to conduct Justice Court for all minor law breakers, preside at preliminary hearings in major crimes, decide small claims disputes and act as coroner for his township.

The Justice of the Peace in Las Vegas gets no salary whatsoever and the one in Reno gets only enough to keep his office functioning for the legal aspects of the work. Expenses in connection with the marriage business come out of the Justice's pocket.

Mc Donald in Las Vegas, for instance, has to pay for the electric sign pointing the way to his office; hire a day receptionist and a night man (marriage licenses are available 24 hours daily) and day commissions to taxi drivers and others who send marriage-minded couples his way.

Then there is the income tax. The internal revenue collector for Nevada keeps an eagle eye on marriage statistics.

Area Engineers to Visit City's Naval Training Center

An inspection trip through the Mansfield Naval Training Center will be made by the Mansfield chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers next Wednesday.

Cmdr. W. J. Buckley, U. S. N. will direct the tour, assisted by Cmdr. W. C. Murdoch. Cmdr. Buckley was formerly engineering officer aboard the USS Nevada, which was sunk at Pearl Harbor and later rebuilt for the Normandy invasion.

The training center is built on the general line of a modern destroyer. It has a galley, bridge, radar, radio and receiving, and other seagoing features.

Films on the Navy will be shown and luncheon will be served.

Giraffe Has Modest Needs

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Mayor Angelo Mendes de Morais, who takes a lively interest in this city's zoo, was asked by a member of Congress to explain how much money he spent on an "apartment" for the zoo's new giraffe.

In a recent broadcast to his constituents, the mayor answered: "A complete apartment of a giraffe with bathroom, bedroom and kitchen would be rather expensive owing to the uncommon height of this animal. "But, since the giraffe's abode will consist only of a wire fence, the problem is much less complicated than the Congressman supposes."

Slayer Convicted

TOLEDO—(AP)—James C. Osniski, 39, was convicted by a common pleas court jury Friday of first degree murder in the triple slaying of his wife, Loretta, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dilmyer, Dec. 13, 1947. The jury did not recommend mercy.

PAPER LOSES CASH

TROY—(AP)—Police said more than $780 in cash was taken Saturday from the safe of the Troy Daily News. The combination was knocked off and a punch used to trip the safe lock.

EDUCATOR CHOSEN

ATHENS—(AP)—Glen M. Hanes of Athens, superintendent of Athens county schools has been named president of the Southeastern Ohio Education association.

Room In U. N. Headquarters Holds Ghosts of Dead League

GENEVA—(AP)—One end of the United Nations European headquarters building here is haunted.

In a small room with heavy carpets just off the library is the League of Nations museum. There are no cobwebs, no rustling curtains, no long shadows. But here, in the beribboned documents, the fading photographs, in the once bold, now meaningless autographs, lie buried the high hopes of another generation.

A modest, almost meager, display of busts, paintings, photographs and papers portrays the birth, slow strangulation and death of the League of Nations. Woodrow Wilson and Paul Boncour look down from their frames on the wall.

There is Leon Blum, looking young and active and Paul Henri Spaak still younger. Maxim Litvinoff, once the Soviet Union's foreign commissar, now retired, shares a spot with frowning Gustav Streseman, Lord Halifax and Dino Grandi.

One photograph shows Litvinoff talking over a table with the late Pierre Laval of France. Haille Selassie, looking frail and flustered, is shown during one of his visits to the league to plead for sanctions against Italy.

The Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine in Idaho, one of the great zinc and silver producers, was discovered in 1886, when a prospector's burro stumbled.

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Don't Let Chest Campaign Fail!

THE Community Chest campaign has a "fighting chance" to make its goal of $122,635. That is the belief of the leaders who have worked incessantly since the drive started October 18. On Thursday, the date originally set for close of the solicitation, $102,132 had been raised. After two meetings, the leaders said "Let's finish the job." They extended the campaign to 6 p. m. November 5.

But, of course, the leaders can't do all the job.

The answer is for every team captain to make sure that every one of his cards has been turned in and that every person named on the cards has been approached. This must be done between now and next Friday night.

The public at large has a responsibility, too. After all, the Chest is set up for the service of the whole community and unless every person takes an interest in seeing the campaign succeed it cannot be expected to do so.

How can the public help most? Just by a little individual soul-searching. Ask yourself: "Have I given—and have I given enough?" When every Mansfielder can answer that in the affirmative the goal will have been surpassed!

Vision This As 'Land of Opportunity'

THE STEAMSHIP General Black sailed recently from Bremen, Germany, to the United States, carrying 818 immigrants who arrived in New York harbor yesterday. This statement covers an event which is charged with meaning.

The group comprises the first of a large number of displaced persons who are to be received into the United States. Their departure was watched with emotion by others who will leave later, and by Britons and Americans who had charge of the exodus. The Poles, Lithuanians, Czechs, and others who are sailing on this ship are all victims of Hitler's methods, and include 63 orphan children. Their joy is great at having their shifting status as displaced persons changed to that of immigrants with a definite final destination.

Few Americans can realize the state of mind of these immigrants, who have been homeless for years, and have suffered hardship, humiliation and pain beyond the conception of anyone who has not observed conditions in Europe. Their self-respect now can be restored by productive work, and their spiritual wounds may be healed by kindness, fair treatment, and most of all by freedom.

Autumn's Delightful Interlude

INDIAN SUMMER is that delightful period which follows "Squaw Winter." It is not, as some regard it loosely, just any warm autumn day. Indian summer is what we have been having since the end of the recent cold spell which saw snow fall over a number of areas of the United States and temperature drops that sent motorists scurrying for antifreeze.

These delightful days are an echo of real summer with afternoon temperatures soaring to June heights; but the echo is softer than the real thing. A gentle blue haze covers the distant hilltops and nestles in the valleys. Mornings are zippy.

Now is the time for leisurely contemplation of the countryside. Even the thin film of dust on the last roadside flowers and shrubs cannot dim their melancholy beauty. Winter will be here soon enough. These are the days to revel in Nature's last luxurious yawn before she goes to sleep beneath the ice and snow.

Confused By Too Many Big Words

WILLIAM H. NEWTON, a Scripps-Howard correspondent in Paris, says that in the matter of acquainting the people of the world with the facts back of the contest between communism and democracy the United States is being outshone by Russia.

His thesis is that Russian speakers passionately pound home their claims in words of one syllable, while American diplomats deliver verdicts in polished phrases which require interpretation to be understood by the lay mind. Says Newton:

> "The American spokesmen are surrounded by bright young men of the state department's foreign service whose idea of a master stroke against Andrei Vishinsky is to quote something Lenin wrote in 1911 which seemingly explains present-day Soviet policy."

Newton illustrates his point by several excerpts from speeches by Marshall, Austin, and others.

One fault which laymen find with diplomacy and the language thereof is the seeming complete divorcement from the thoughts and opinions of the man in the street. With the world in its present state, it is more than ever important that plain and simple terms be used in presenting facts and in attempting to cope with international problems.

The small and rugged vocabulary embodied in basic English might profitably be employed at times by speakers at the Paris meeting.

Impressions Based On Hurried Tour

"HOW LONG have you been in Rome?" Pope Pius IX was said to ask foreigners at his audiences. If the answer was, "A week," he would reply in his fatherly fashion, "Ah, then you have seen Rome." If the person questioned said, "A month," he would be told, "Ah, then you are beginning to see Rome." If, as sometimes happened, the reply was, "A year," the Pope would answer, "Ah, then you realize that you will never see Rome."

Travelers to Russia might do well to bear this story in mind just now. It also might be remembered when reading books by visitors to Russia.

Commendable independence is shown by an Illinois newspaper's sizeup of aspirants for coroner in its county. It says: "The office is unnecessary and we consider neither candidate is qualified for it."

Claude Callan notices: "Transportation used to be so slow that we could travel a short distance and see a lot, but now it is so fast that we can cross the country and see nothing."

Men and nations alike need occasional troubles to keep them going. But constant trouble wears them down.

Both public and private habits may be judged pretty well by the way people throw rubbish around.

This Time He's Really "Had Enough."

A Voice From the Country

An Example of Advantages In America

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

I HAVE just seen one of the beautiful sights in a lifetime containing a great variety of experience. It was the Royal Livestock and Horseshow in Kansas City. There, on the dividing line between the rich Middle West and vast empire of the Great Plains, had come together farmers, ranchers, livestock and horse breeders, fox hunters from Virginia and people who just happened to love beautiful horses and livestock and rich land. They came from all parts of the United States and because the show is one of great international importance—and never more so than in this moment of the world's history—there were breeders and buyers from Canada and from Europe and great numbers of ranchers and breeders from Venezuela, Uraguay, the Argentine and other South American countries.

BROMFIELD

As a part of the week's crowded program there were lunches and dinners and cocktail parties and breakfasts given by the hospitable citizens of a rich, new and beautiful city and by the executives of the great packing companies from Kansas City and Chicago which draw millions of tons of quality beef and pork from the rich area surrounding the city.

The whole of the town had taken on an air of festivity like that of the European cities in better days at carnival time. The beauty and variety of the people ranged from the narrow-hipped, flat-bellied cowboys of the Great Plains and the high mountain grazing country to the chic and style of the women who drove the traps behind high-stepping beautiful horses in the horseshow arena.

Everywhere there was color and gaiety, beauty in the fat cattle and hogs, in the big handsome men and women from the vast area extending from the Gulf of Mexico to the borders of Canada.

It had been a rich year in crops, in rainfall in general abundance and in human satisfaction.

Most of the show took place a little distance from the high bluff called Clark's Point, from which Lewis and Clark looked up the great muddy Missouri into a vast empire of the future only a little over a hundred years ago.

Sights To Remember.

CERTAIN sights remain clearly in the writer's mind and probably will remain there forever—the trap and hackney driven by a woman veteran of the Royal Shows, who last year, celebrated her golden anniversary with a show of fine horses.

She and the horse she drove, and the bulldog seated by her side, had probably more style than anything the writer has ever seen, even in Paris where he has spent a good part of his life. There was the pride and the beauty of the great Hereford and Angus and Shorthorn bulls with their marcelled, shining, spotless coats and the immense style and beauty of the big six-horse team of Clydesdales, drawing a packing-house wagon.

Most inspiring of all perhaps was the fantasy and beauty of the "spotted horse" class when there appeared under the brilliant lights of the arena, a score or more of pintos ridden by men and women in the costumes and saddles of the great days of the cattle drives, before the Spanish influence had waned on the great ranches of the Southwest.

The saddles were tooled and mounted in pounds of shining silver and the horses were the descendants of the beautiful Arabians which Cortez brought from Spain three centuries ago.

The blue ribbon went to a proud and fiery black-and-white pinto stallion whose rider and saddle were a symphony of black and white and silver.

In one corner, high up in the arena, there is a room with a big mirrored bar, loud music and an almosphere of sawdust and of the Last Chance saloon. It is called the Bit and Spur club, where horsemen, cattlemen and ranch owners get together. Cowboys sit side by side with good-looking women dressed by the great dressmakers of New York and Paris. The talk is breeding and farming and ranching.

Style is an important thing to all but the neurotic ill-tempered radical because it is expression of pride, of success and of art in the history of a people. Style was there in abundance along with the color, the vitality, the zest and the opulence about which my confrere Joe Alsop, wrote, with such enthusiasm in a recent paragraph or two dealing with the Great Mississippi Basin.

Testimonial To Free Enterprise.

IN A WORLD divided into two camps by opposing ideologies and systems of government, it was impossible, sitting there high in the arena, not to draw comparisons, however odious. It was the free enterprise, democratic and capitalist system which had produced this show of prosperity and well-being and freedom and dignity.

This was no show of mangy, moth-eaten animals, tricked up with the spotlights and brass bands and the cheap humbug of the dictators technique. This was real and it was produced by the people themselves.

Every man and woman out of the thousands in the arena, was free as air, to live and work as he pleased and speak his mind as he pleased.

I couldn't help thinking of another part of the world, with wretched people standing in long queues to snatch, at high prices, shoddy clothes and wretched oddments of food—people who, for a single expression of opinion, could be sent away to the misery and death of the concentration camp.

That other part of the world possessed and still possesses a natural wealth and opportunity as great or greater than that which lay before Lewis and Clark when they stood on Clark's Point and looked westward. But that other part of the world has been blighted for centuries by tyranny, first by one kind and then by another equally evil, which some would try to sell or to impose upon us.

The Soviet government is well along into the second generation of its existence and the people it rules are worse off than they have ever been in all their history, even under the czar.

When the show ended after midnight the workers—and there were hundreds of them—streamed out of the great arena to go home. They were not ragged and shoddy with empty stomach and lacking in human dignity. They were well-dressed and gay and their immediate goal was the great expanse of space where shiny, handsome new automobiles were waiting to carry them home to houses and flats more comfortable, more pleasant, than the apartment of Joe Stalin in the Kremlin.

The spectacle implied a choice between two systems. Which one would you take, dear reader, whatever your condition in life? At Kansas City even the animals held their heads high with pride and zest and vitality.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Revealing Record In Spending Charges

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The other day, in Oklahoma, P. Nelson Deranian, counsel for the Senate election subcommittee, let loose a blast against ex-Governor Bob Kerr, running as a Democrat for senator, on the ground that he spent too much money in his primary. That Bob Kerr spent a fistful of money is probably correct. However, to keep the record straight, let's look at some things on the other side of the picture. First, millionaire oilman Ed Moore, Republican, whose place Kerr is seeking, spent a young fortune getting elected in 1942. Second, Mr. Deranian, together with Senator Jenner of Indiana, chairman of the election subcommittee, are not in a strong position to criticise others.

PEARSON

Deranian, by a strange quirk, happens to be the law partner of Robert W. Lyons, big-time Washington lobbyist, and ex-secretary of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan. But perhaps, when you examine the facts carefully, the quirk isn't so strange after all. For Lyons is really the man who put William E. Jenner in the Senate. And Deranian is now Lyons' man-Friday inside Jenner's committee.

Ambitions Thwarted.

LYONS has always nursed political ambitions in Indiana, but always has been thwarted. In 1944 he was actually elected chairman of the Indiana Republican state committee, but news of his election caused so many people to hold their noses that he was ousted. What makes Indiana voters hold their noses about Lyons is first, his connection with the Ku Klux Klan at a time when the Klan was in its goriest heyday, and when Kleagle Stevenson was convicted of murder; second, Lyons' $300,000 lobbying fees for the chain stores.

The record of Lyons' chain-store operations is all a matter of official congressional record for any newspaperman to dig out, and it makes highly interesting reading.

The folks back in Indiana are reasonably familiar with it, so much so that Lyons can never get anywhere with his political ambitions.

However, that hasn't prevented Lyons from putting his own man in the Senate, namely, William E. Jenner, elected in 1946 with the backstage backing of Lyons and the big Indiana beer interests. In fact, some interesting reports were published back in Indiana about Jenner's own campaign contributions at the time of his election. But, when the Republicans took over control of the Senate in 1946, no investigation was ever made of Jenner's campaign funds.

On the contrary, Jenner was placed on a committee to investigate other people's elections, and is now chairman of its chief subcommittee. As such, the gentleman from Indiana conducted one of the unfairest probes in recent Senate history — that regarding the 1946 election of West Virginia's Democratic Harley Kilgore.

The chief graft unearthed in West Virginia was upon the part of the brother of the Republican national committeeman, Walter S. Hallanan, who was indicted for stealing votes. Despite graft on the part of the Republicans, Jenner kept the probe of Democratic Kilgore's election up in the air for two full years.

If ex-Governor Kerr has spent a lot of money in Oklahoma, it should be investigated — but by an impartial committee, not one whose record and whose backstage wire pullers cannot stand the clear light of day.

Bankers Increase Rates.

THE BANKERS have decided not to wait for the Republicans to move into the treasury department to hike the interest rate on crop loans. Already the American Bankers' association is engaged in a significant tussle with the commodity credit corporation over raising interest rates.

At present the interest on cotton, wheat and corn loans is 3 per cent, which is split between the CCC and private banks, each getting 1½ per cent. However, the ABA has demanded that the banks' share be raised to 2 per cent, on the ground that the present return isn't enough to pay service costs of loans. Also, the bankers' group contends that the new federal reserve restrictions on bank reserves have decreased the amount of money available for lending, so it's unfair, therefore, to expect banks to continue crop loans on such a small margin of return.

These weighty arguments, however, so far have produced only stifled yawns at the CCC. The agency has politely reminded the ABA that, while banks make the crop loans, the government takes all the risk because the loans are insured 100 per cent by the taxpayers.

Second, the CCC has some convincing figures showing that bank-service costs are more than offset by the increased volume of crop loans; also, that the increased size of individual loans has substantially reduced the over-all service costs. Third, says the CCC, the middle of the 1948 crop loaning season is no time to reshuffle interest rates. So it looks as if the bankers would lose out, at least until next January.

Time 'Off Job' To Vote

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Next Tuesday being election day, a lot of citizens across the country are concerned with whether or not the law permits them to take time off from their jobs to vote.

The answer is yes — with reservations.

Those reservations depend to a large extent on the state in which the individual lives. Almost every state has slightly different laws involving the matter of taking voting time off from work.

Their unanimity lies in the fact that all states permit such time to be taken off, by one method or another.

Their differences lie largely in who shall be charged with time taken off, who shall designate when it is to be taken, how requests for such voting time must be made, and how much time is to be permitted.

In the matter of whether employe or employer shall be charged for the time taken off for voting, there is a great deal of controversy—according to various legislative experts around the capital.

For instance, while a dozen or so states forbid pay envelope deductions for voting time, Kentucky and Missouri courts have held that particular law unconstitutional.

In Colorado, it depends on whether the worker is paid by the hour, the day or the job. In Maryland, the law regarding payment for voting time has not been clarified.

In short, no matter where you live, there may be a question about who pays for it — but nowhere is there any question about your right to take time out to vote!

Generally speaking, the hours allowed off for voting vary from two to four. There are exceptions. Arkansas, for instance, has no legal voting hour allowable — but plants either must close for election day, or else change shifts by 4 p. m., in order to give workers time to cast their ballots.

Given "Reasonable Time."

BREAKING it down, most states allot at least two hours in which to vote. Nevada, West Virginia and Wisconsin permit three hours, and in Nevada, only those firms permitted to operate on legal holidays can be open for business at all. For that matter, most states consider election day a legal holiday.

Continuing with the breakdown, Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri allow four hours for employe voting, and Maryland allows a "reasonable time off, not to exceed four hours." Minnesota allows absence during the forenoon of election day—though not necessarily the entire forenoon. Incidentally, in this regard: Minnesota not only forbids pay deductions for voting time off, but also does not necessarily give the employer the right to designate when such time off shall be.

Ohio allows a "reasonable amount of time," and Oklahoma and Texas permit two hours or "more time if necessary."

In most other instances, state law sets forth a voting time allowance from two hours upward to half a day, or a "reasonable amount" of time — except, of course, in those states and those types of business where election day must be considered a legal holiday.

In such cases, the individual quite often must learn the local law, since the state statutes are too general to apply.

There are a couple of other vital points, although it is doubtful if they often will be a cause for election day concern.

The first is that in almost every state where the employe is permitted voting time off without pay deduction, the worker must request that time off in advance.

In short, he can't just walk out to vote when he feels like it.

In New York, for instance, he doesn't have to be paid, unless he asks for the time off in advance. In West Virginia, the time-off request must be in writing.

The second point is that in almost every state where the employer has to foot the voting-time bill, he also has the right to designate the hours which shall be taken off. Here again, the worker can't just walk out and gum up the business without warning or permission . . .

All in all, it adds up to this:

There are laws in every state which guarantee you time to vote — sometimes with pay, sometimes without.

Whether you do vote, of course, is up to you.

Do Those 'Little Things'

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I AM always regretting the things I didn't do . . the kindly, generous, gracious acts that I see other women performing but that I, due to some inner cussedness, always forget to do at the right time.

Of course, by 3:45 the next morning I have thought up the perfect answer, the perfect gift, the perfect smile or greeting. But it always comes at least three hours too late.

And isn't it a shame that it does!

For, as a matter of fact, life is composed of those small gracious acts . . . those little kindly things that cheer us up as we go along . . . that give us courage at the second when it's needed.

It isn't the magnificent deed that makes people beloved. It isn't the heroic act or the charming gesture. These all help to decorate life but it's the little things that really make life worth living both for you and for the other fellow.

It's the little sacrifice . . the little joke . . . the gag that comes along just when we need it and gives us the strength to carry on the rugged trail.

Little things. . . . What a pity that we waste so much time and money and effort on the great dreams and quite forget to do the little things that sweeten life for a hundred disheartened, frightened human beings.

I have a little friend. She isn't wealthy. She has no great social position to maintain. She's just a pretty, smiling woman like your mother or mine—a little woman who drops in with a glass of jelly when Jimmy has the mumps or comes around with a stick of lavender when Aunt Sue is laid up with a sore toe. But I'll bet that little friend of mine with her smiling heart has brought more happiness and comfort and joy and hope to this sad world than Doris Duke with all her millions.

Just a little card, just a little flower, just a batch of biscuits but they've been mighty as banners and heartening as trumpets to endless regiments of human souls.

Little people doing little things . . . doing them generously, warmly, simply, without thought of possible profit—that's what makes America the great big country that it is. We haven't marched out with embroidered banners and golden trumpets. . . . we haven't made our way through history with pageants or splendid fiestas.

For the most part we've just been plain folks living plain lives and glad for anyone that would help us along the way with a handclasp and a smile.

WELL, things got pretty rough for the Russians last week in Paris. They had to call on boss—er, pardon, Comrade Stalin to speak up for them to get the heat off.

So Stalin interviewed himself in Pravda. To accomplish this he used a novel device. He played back his favorite record, in which he calls everybody but the Russians and their slaves "aggressors," nodding his head sagely at his own words.

It is unreliably reported that in Russia no one was permitted to blink or sneeze while reading the interview, on grounds that these involuntary movements might be mistaken for an honest chuckle. In most of the rest of the world the comrade's pronouncements were greeted with an unstifled yawn.

Consideration Asked.

Editor News-Journal:

I read with much interest the article in Sunday's News-Journal on the Pleasant Hill dam.

I think the article covered many of the sore spots of this issue, as viewed by many of the people of this community.

The part that pleased me was that your paper recognized this was not all a one-sided question and you did show enough interest to send someone down to get our point of view. If the Conservancy District would have shown any consideration, as you have, for the people they have to deal with they would not have had trouble, but help from these people.

I would like to compliment your paper on its editorial fight for the betterment of Mansfield and community.

I dread the day when every town will have secondhand sales' lots full of used homes that haven't been operated long enough to dull the original paint job.

I understand you can get a new streamlined home in almost any color with or without "white wall" cellars.

There may ultimately be a convertible model with built-in heater, radio, clock and ash tray.

The big point about these new production-line homes to me is that they have full head room.

Rockabye Time

—By ANNE CAMPBELL.

It's Rockabye Time at our house.
The silence drifts down like a cloud,
As fleecy and white as the child of delight
Who makes the whole family proud.

It's Rockabye Time at our house.
The kitten curls up by the fire.
The puppy is snug on his own piece of rug.
To sleep seems the household's desire.

It's Rockabye Time at our house.
There's only the creak of a chair,
And a lullaby song that won't last very long
Afloat on the soft evening air.

It's Rockabye Time at our house.
All the turmoil and care fade away.
Heaven seems to bend near to bless everyone here
At the loveliest time of the day.

A-Bomb Builder Says Europe Beset With Fear of Future

No Security Seen Likely In Our Time

Oppenheimer Says U. S. Aid Awaited

PRINCETON N J —(AP)— The professor-scientist - administrator known as "The man who built the atom bomb" has come home from Europe, fearful for the future.

Back at the Institute for Advanced Study where he is director, Dr J. Robert Oppenheimer paced in front of a desk littered with the accumulated papers of three months and in an interview talked of tomorrow:

"France is beset with the fear of civil war; the low countries and Denmark are filled with fear of being overrun and occupied; England is deep in fear of fighting another war."

Today, says Dr Oppenheimer the scholars of Europe strangely don't seem to feel that the heavy cloud that hangs over the peoples of the world is one of an atomic war—rather, of "occupation, enslavement, civil war and the destruction of the very fabric of their lives"

"What Europe needs most is educational help and a sense of security, something it can get only from us" he said.

"I was deeply impressed that the feeling of the intellectual world of Europe is one of a lack of security in the future—the terrible apprehension that the way may not be possible to maintain peace in the immediate future"

DEEP SCARS LEFT

"The years of war and poverty have left deep scars A piece of a generation is missing from the peoples of Europe The universities need our hand and our encouragement They need mechanical help and the opportunity to obtain publications and news of the developing scientific and educational world"

There are some scholars abroad, he said who feel this country has forgotten them

There are others who feel that the university must take its place in the days ahead as the counterpart of the monasteries of the early middle ages he added

Although Dr Oppenheimer feels that the years ahead will be ones of civil war and dark turmoil, he still thinks it is in the hands of American universities to avert the disaster of a blackout of learning in Europe.

"But above all we must realize how long a pull is ahead of us," he said.

"For, men of our times will never have a sense of security again"

HALLOWE'EN, 1948

Shrill witches jab the night with baleful screams.
Saint Elmo's light flares wierdly on the bog.
Skulls clatter and the dank air thickly teems
With bats that wheel and dart amid the fog.

(Deep in the Urals and at our Oak Ridge
The scientist confers, the worker sweats
Perfecting chain reactions that will bridge
Gaps to new terrors only death begets)

Indoors, the fire is warm The apples bob
The gruesome masks are gaily cast aside
The cider simmers sweetly on the hob.
Young laughter burgeons like an inbound tide.

(Perhaps we let our current fears presage

Moscow Art Theater Hits 50-Year Mark

MOSCOW —(AP)— The Soviet Union's most famous theater is celebrating its 50th birthday

The Moscow Art theater which probably has had a greater influence on modern drama than any other theatrical organization was founded by Konstantine Stanislavsky and V. I Nemirovich-Danchenko

These two talented theatrical directors had assembled a group of young actors and actresses who were inspired by Stanislavsky's methods and theories

The importance of the art theater however never has been the "big names or "stars" of its troupe The art theater actors and actresses who became famous became famous because they were associated with the art theater The art theater became important as an organization, not as a collection of well-known individuals

18 Years After Event—

Reveal Film Code Author

NEW YORK (AP) —Eighteen years after the movie industry developed a formal written conscience it's now disclosing the author of the self-censorship code.

"I asked to be kept out of it," explained Martin Quigley film trade journal publisher, in an interview because I figured it should not be known as the work of one man, that it should be considered as having spontaneously arisen from the conscious

The code, as it was called, was adopted at the time the young film industry was under bitter attack. As the motion picture production code, specifically drawing the line on what would be banned in picture entertainment, it was immediately accepted. At first it was referred to as the hays code, after Will Hayes, moviedom's first Czar.

Today Quigley is happy to take his bows for authorship Recently the motion picture association of America headed by Eric Johnston, passed a formal resolution "bearing witness" to his contribution So did the association of motion picture producers of Hollywood

The gray-haired, quiet-mannered Quigley also is pleased because radio, television and even the comics industry are basing their codes on that of motion pictures"

Quigley started in the picture business after he saw "Birth of a Nation" and by 1922 was already concerned with the freewheeling attitude of film producers in the matter of good taste

Criticism of movies mounted steadily through the 1920's, heightened by a succession of scandalous episodes in the private lives of film notables

Quigley, who had been "screaming editorially" for years about the social and moral significance of motion pictures, sat down in the summer of 1929 and drafted a document. In it, he outlined specifically a ban on certain subjects which he felt could, if portrayed, lower moral standards offend good taste, or encourage sympathy for wrongdoers.

A few months later he worked over his draft with Father Daniel A Lord a jesuit priest of St. Louis who always had been interested in the theater."

Worried Will Hays enthusiastically adopted the document and it was immediately accepted by the industry However, there were no teeth in the code, at first. That came four years later, after many violations

Marjorie Main's the Informal Type

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Many times in her long movie career Marjorie Main has capitalized on her reputation for being just a little bit different Now says the rasp-voiced Miss Main, people are ready to believe almost anything about her.

Once, during an influenza epidemic, studio publicists launched the report that Miss Main was sitting at home with doors and windows sealed, to keep out the germs. If she didn't inspire the story, she also didn't protest it.

Not long ago she build a winter home on the desert But she moved out as fast as she moved in and put the place up for sale Hot water, she said, issued from the gas range, cold water came out of the hot water tap the wind blew all the time and all the landscaping withered

It's hard to visualize Marjorie reciting semi - religious and philosophical poetry On the screen she's usually shouting raucously at somebody recently at Wallace Beery in "Big Jack" Yet she does recite such poems They were written by her late husband, Dr Stanley Krebs, and she plans to publish them some day

Before 1920 she played only straight roles including Shakespeare No comedy While most stars frequent lush restaurants Miss Main eats regularly in cafeterias Such formalities as introductions mean very little to her.

One evening after a preview she entered a drugstore for a snack She ordered hot cakes The waiter served her about eight very small cakes.

"Too many!" bellowed Miss Main "Couldn't possibly eat 'em all"

She whipped the saucer from beneath her coffee cup, slid half the cakes onto it, and offered them to the surprised stranger seated on the adjoining stool.

"Thanks but I have no fork," he stammered, trying to reject the gratuitous supper.

"Don't let that bother you, honey," beamed Miss Main "here, use my coffee spoon"

Girl Scout Week Opens

First Program Held Saturday

Mansfield's observance of Girl Scout Week opened with a Scouts' own program at John Simpson auditorium Saturday afternoon

The inspirational program planned and conducted by the girls was attended by 200 Brownies and Girl Scouts representing all of the city's troops

The theme of the program was international friendship which has been the theme for Girl Scout work in the city this year The program marked the completion of a project of sending clothing kits to children overseas

Saturday was the first time that a city-wide rally for Girl Scouts has been held in Mansfield

The program opened with music by a trio composed of Girl Scouts Ruth Plaut at the piano Sally Smith the cello and Barbara Brown playing the violin

The girls joined in giving the Girl Scout and Brownie promises led by Girl Scout Nancy Stevens and Brownie Cynthia Bell

Sammie Kay Matthes spoke of the Statue of Liberty as a symbol of friendship and asked the girls to continue to cooperate in showing friendship for others

Thank you notes from children overseas who had received Scout clothing kits were read by Kay Alexander As the notes were read Cynthia Bell placed Girl Scout pennants on a map to show the countries where kits had been received

Forty-three kits have already been mailed and 12 more were brought to the stage during the program.

Miss Margaret Rooney spoke briefly to the group and the meeting closed with the singing of the hymn of Scouting

The committee in charge of the program included Mrs C R Hien, Mrs L C Smaltz, and Miss Vivien Roberts.

Device Tests Grease Uses

SCHENECTADY N Y —(AP)— A new grease-testing device here seeks to learn how often a motor should be greased, and what kind of grease should be used

Developed by General Electric Co engineers it resembles a small motor, and has a ball bearing which is packed with the grease to be tested The bearing is spun at speeds up to 60 revolutions per minute and is heated by an electric heater to the temperature of normal motor operation The heat of the grease is recorded automatically

If the grease breaks down and overheats or jams the bearing, the unit shuts off Grease samples get in weeks the heat and wear that they would undergo in months of normal operation.

U. S. Flying Ace Will Serve as Instructor Here

Vet Officer Assists National Air Guard

Mansfield's million dollar aerial defense program moved ahead another important step yesterday, with the announcement that Major Donald C. McGee, World War II combat flying ace, will serve the city's 164th Fighter Squadron as official United States Air Force flying instructor.

Announcement of Major McGee's assignment to the Air National Guard unit here was made jointly by Gen. Chester W. Goble, state adjutant general of the Air National Guard and by Capt. William O. Ash, commanding officer of the squadron here.

The announcement followed the official assignment made by Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, commanding general at USAF headquarters on Oct. 20.

Meanwhile, Capt. Ash, said that contracts for the $1,000,000 Air National Guard installation, approved and drawn up for the Mansfield airport, have been released to Louisville (Ky.) district engineers for the preparation of cost estimates. Bids are expected to be asked on the project, which includes six buildings, including hangar, administration building and storage facilities, within the next two months.

ASSIGNED FOR 3 YEARS

The 28-year-old flying ace who was flight leader and operations officer with the famed Eighth fighter group in the Pacific and squadron commander with the 357th in Europe, has been assigned to the local unit for three years. His duties will be to advise and help the unit set up the training program; to assist in the administrative work; and to act as general liaison between the guard unit and the USAF.

"Major McGee is very valuable to the fighter squadron because of his varied experience in both combat and administrative branches of the service," Capt. Ash commented.

A native of Staten Island, N. Y., Major McGee entered service in July 1939 and transferred to the Air Force the next year. Receiving his wings in December, 1941, at Craig Field, Ala., he was sent immediately to the Pacific theater of operations where he served 23 months, participating in the East Indies, New Guinea and Papuan campaigns.

Following almost two years of combat, he was returned to the States where he served 10 months as a replacement training unit instructor. Returning to the war zone in September, 1944, he was transferred to England where he served in the European theater of operations until November, 1945.

Since the war, Major McGee's work with the Air Force has been of an administrative nature. He has served as administrative officer and base adjutant at Luke Field, Ariz., and as squadron operations officer, intelligence officer and most recently as flying safety officer at the Wing headquarters at Shaw Field, South Carolina.

His experience with the USAF includes flying almost every type of fighter craft used by the Air Force in combat. During his overseas service, Major McGee piloted P-38's, P-39's, P-40's, P-51's and P-47's. Since his return to the States he has flown F-84's and F-80's.

Married and the father of a one-year-old son, Major McGee has established his residence at 255 West Fifth street.

UNIT SERVES AS MODEL

The local unit which Major McGee will serve as USAF liaison has already been ear-marked as the model for the nation once the construction of the installations is completed.

Architect's drawings of the unit were unveiled last week by federal and state authorities who gave assurance that construction on the installation will be started yet this year.

At the same time, a re-activated recruiting program to bring the unit up to full strength of 50 officers and 286 enlisted men, is gaining momentum, according to Capt. Ash.

"We believe the interest in the program is increasing," the commanding officer said. "Every evening last week we've had young men of the area in for interviews and it seems that enlistee prospects are gaining."

To date, 108 men and eight officers are needed to meet the full-strength requirements the unit must have. Applications for the Air National Guard will be taken every day of the week, including Saturdays and Sundays and evenings, at Hangar 7 at the airport. Young men from Richland, Ashland, Knox, Huron and Crawford counties are eligible for enlistment in the unit here.

Pupils Enrolled For 31st Year

For the 31st year, school pupils in Mansfield and Richland county will be given a chance to enroll in the Junior Red Cross, it was announced yesterday.

Enrollment will start tomorrow and continue through Nov. 15. In that time, Richland county's 12,000 school children will have the chance to help their classrooms contribute their 50-cent fee by doing special "services" and the chance to join in projects that will provide better educational facilities for children in war-stricken lands.

Mrs. Ephraim Brown will direct enrollment proceedings. Assisting her will be Miss Virginia Casperson, who has been employed as a part-time junior secretary by the Red Cross.

3 Motorists Forfeit Bonds

Three speeders didn't bother to show up in municipal court yesterday and each forfeited $25 appearance bonds.

They were Curtis Limric, of Cleveland, Raymond Harrison of Elyria and Frank Fetchet, of Youngstown. A fourth, Frank B. Rozanski, of Berea, showed up and was fined $10 and costs. Russell A. Contrascere, 245 West Fifth street, was fined $10 and costs for speeding.

Ison W. Mullins, Columbus, paid $25 and costs for operating an overloaded motor vehicle and Chris Jackson, 180 East Fourth street, paid $5 and costs for failing to stop at a stop sign.

ARCHITECT'S PLAN FOR UNIT—Layout of the $1,000,000 Air National Guard installation, expected to be started yet this fall at the airport, is shown above. The entire unit is expected to cover 21 acres. It will be located directly north and east of the junction of old State Route 13 with the new detour route around the airport.

'Fags' Deposed as German Black Market King

By George Bria

BERLIN —(AP)— Currency reform in western Germany has changed the fortunes of many a black market and brought to the world a thriving new one.

The cigaret, once good as gold on bargain counters of the defeated, plunged dizzily in Western German ywithe the birth of the deutsche mark. It held nearly its own only in blockaded Berlin, buoyed up in the uncertain swirl of crisis.

American cigarets used to bring about 100 marks a package. After currency reform they dropped to about five marks. Taking into consideration the fact that the mark was slashed on a ten for one basis with the reform, the new price for cigarets still reflects the heavy blow dealt to this black market.

In Berlin, however, a package of cigarets still gets around ten west-marks.

Candy bars, coffee and soap, which opened many doors to easy money in the first days of occupation, also have lost much of their barter power. Men say they would rather work for the marks.

The new mark itself, resting on the European Recovery Program made two nations out of Germany over night, one rooted in the coal pits and forges of the Ruhr. The other chained to the dismal economy of the Soviet occupation.

A black market sprung up in Berlin as soon as Russian authorities followed the western currency reform with a money change of their own and banned the Deutsche or "clay" mark from East Germany.

The "clay" mark hit a four for one rate with the Soviet or "Sokolovsky" mark, and with slight fluctuations has held that ratio.

Although strictly controlled, the "clay" mark quickly spanned the ocean. Only 40 marks are legally allowed to be exported per person. However, a few weeks after currency reform they could be bought in New York in sizeable quantities. Financial officials in Germany suggested they were being smuggled out by returning travelers.

Military payment certificates (scrip) used by Americans and Britons get about 11 marks for $1 in Western Germany. Real greenbacks buy 13 to 14 marks. New York set the exchange rate there at 6 to 10 marks for $1. At present there is no international rate except for import-export transactions where it is pegged at 1 mark for 30 cents.

The cigaret and candy markets in Western Germany dwindled greatly even before currency reform was adopted. The boom was in the first days after the war when a week's army post exhange ration would keep a man living comfortably for a month on marks from the ration sale.

Small fortunes were built by changing marks into dollars at 10 cents each. Currency reform stopped that.

The cigaret market thrived for a couple of years, however, on shipments from overseas until these were banned in 1947.

The new mark dealt a death blow to all this in Western Germany, outside Berlin. Th cigart no longer is the factor it once was in German life, and its value is less than in French or Italian black markets.

Brownie Troop Stages Party

Members of newly-organized Brownie Scout troop 21 of Rebecca Grubaugh school attended a Halloween party Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Gadfield, 181 Bennet street.

The recreation room was decorated in Halloween style by Brownie troop 53 of which Mrs. Gadfield is the leader.

Prizes for the best costumes were won by Sally Heckert and Heidi Princehorn. Games and songs provided the entertainment. Winners of the games were Diane Heldenbrand, Heidi Princehorn and Barbara Balyeat.

Other members present were Gwenn Gadfield, Cynthia Barnes, Jenny Lee Felts, Ruth Roadpouch, Beatrice Ann Sites and Mrs. Maurice Taylor, leader of the troop.

Mary Jane Gadfield assisted her mother as hostess.

65,000 AP Workers To Count Votes

NEW YORK — (AP) — An army of 65,000 persons will bring you the election returns this week.

The Associated Press, with its own staff, special election workers and staffs of member newspapers and radio stations, will total the ballots which will elect a president, vice president, 32 governors and decide the complexion of the 81st congress.

It is a vast, precise and comprehensive job which the news-gathering cooperative began planning long before the political parties even nominated their candidates.

Trained and specially briefed reporters, writers, tabulators, clerical workers and messengers will compile figures taken from more than 130,000 polling places all over the nation.

Big crews will work through Tuesday night pulling together statistics of the vote in cities like New York and Chicago. Lone correspondents will gather the results in sparsely-settled areas in the north woods, western deserts and southern swamplands. The AP's unique operation will blanket the nation.

The plan itself is simple; its execution, infinitely more complicated. Facts and figures will flow through carefully built channels from precinct election boards. They will merge to become county, state and, finally, national totals.

From state AP headquarters, the totals will snowball over 300,000 miles of special, leased, communication lines into the AP's Washington bureau

There quick tabulations will show how the nation is voting. Big blackboards, covered with ever-changing figures, will show top political writers the picture at a glance.

The basic job, of course, is to collect vote figures, accurately and speedily. And you, whether glued to your or buying late-edition newspapers, will know the n mes of the winners as soon as the winners themselves know. The source will be the same: The Associated Press; alone among the wire services to undertake the mammoth job of recording and tabulating every vote in the nation.

DEMOCRATIC

The RECORD Gives The FACTS

The Following Facts Concerning the Office of Prosecuting Attorney Are Supported By Evidence Contained In The Public Records

CIVIL DIVISION

These units of local government need prompt, efficient legal advice in order to carry out their duties to YOU as prescribed by law and should not be dependent upon outside sources for their legal advice.

The collection of delinquent taxes is one of the duties of the Prosecutor as the legal advisor to the County Treasurer, Charles Payne.

My opponent, Mr. Theodore Lutz of Shelby, Ohio, (WE ARE NOT RELATED) the present Prosecutor, in 1940 when a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney, said publicly, (Shelby newspaper, November 1, 1940) "I propose to stop wasteful expenditures and I pledge to operate the Prosecutor's office with the help of ONE regular assistant and no SPECIAL ASSISTANTS."

Records of the Clerk of Courts show that in 1947 and 1948 the present Prosecutor in performing but ONE duty of his office, viz.-collecting delinquent taxes, caused an expenditure to the Taxpayers of Richland County in the sum of $5,255.00. This amount was for the employment of an attorney in Mansfield, Ohio (NOT AN ASSISTANT PROSECUTOR) to check the titles of the properties to be sold for delinquent taxes.

Two years ago, voters of Richland County passed by an overwhelming vote the Bond issue for the erection of a Tuberculosis Sanitarium. Theodore Lutz, as Prosecutor and legal advisor to the Board of Election, was under a duty to see that this bond issue was properly placed on the ballot. This was not done. There was a mistake in the ballot and in order to correct this error, it was necessary to have the Common Pleas Court of Richland County render a decision on the same. A Cleveland Law Firm, Squire, Sanders and Dempsey, was paid $1,000.00 to assist the present Prosecutor in filing this case in the Richland County Common Pleas Court.

In 1941, during my first term as your Prosecuting Attorney, without outside legal help, my office filed a similar case in the Court of Common Pleas of Richland County, being Case No. 25841 - State of Ohio Ex. Rel. Bd. of Education of Plymouth Village School vs. Roy Johnson, President and Joseph Hodges, Clerk. The present Prosecuting Attorney, Theodore Lutz, has a copy of this case on file in his office, and he could have followed that case and in so doing, would have saved Richland County $1,000.00.

OUTSIDE LEGAL HELP TO THE PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE FROM 1945 TO 1948 HAS COST YOU AT LEAST $6,255.00, EVEN THOUGH THE PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE IS COMPOSED OF THREE LAWYERS - THE PROSECUTOR AND TWO REGULAR, APPOINTED ASSISTANTS.

A CANDIDATE IS MEASURED BY HIS RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT AND SERVICE, NOT BY HIS PROMISES.

In 1946 Theodore Lutz expended public funds for the employment of detectives from Cleveland, Ohio, to investigate crime in Richland County. This was a needless expenditure of the Taxpayers' money, in view of the fact that the Police Departments of Mansfield and Shelby, the Sheriff's Office of Richland County and the law enforcement agencies of the Villages and Townships all enjoy enviable records of efficient law enforcement.

As your Prosecutor before the war, there was the highest degree of cooperation and harmony between the Prosecutor's office and the Police Departments of Mansfield and Shelby, the Sheriff's office and other law enforcement agencies, which is essential to EFFICIENT law enforcement.

CRIMINAL DIVISON

The function of an honest and able Prosecutor is to lend his support to a law abiding community, and to do this, he must prosecute a case in a firm but fair manner regardless of Race, Color or Creed. Every case must be thoroughly investigated and prepared, and presented in such a way as to convict those guilty of crime and protect the innocent. A conviction of one guilty of crime is a deterrent to others contemplating crime and thus the public receives what the law intends, "The Protection of Your Person and Property."

The record of criminal trials before Juries which my opponent conducted while Prosecuting Attorney resulted in the following:

ACQUITTALS BY JURY—11

THIS RECORD OF ACQUITTALS IS THE HIGHEST OF ANY PROSECUTOR IN THE PAST 28 YEARS. To analyze this record, one must ask, "Are innocent men being brought to trial and acquitted, or are men, guilty of crime, going free?" It is my honest opinion that a majority of acquittals result from lack of preparation of a case to be tried.

Present juries are no different from those of the past and being composed of law abiding citizens, are for law enforcement. IF THE EVIDENCE PRESENTED BY THE PROSECUTOR WARRANTS A CONVICTION. Juries are the safeguard of our well-being—the safeguard of our freedom.

DANELS CASE

The crimes of Daniels and West shocked the entire state of Ohio. These "Mad Killers" after a series of robberies in Columbus, Ohio, murdered one, Earl Ambrose, a tavern owner, in the course of a robbery. A WOMAN, AN INNOCENT BYSTANDER, was also shot, in the course of this robbery. There were EYE WITNESSES to this killing and the Columbus police in hot pursuit, knowing the identity of the killers, the make and color of their two-tone Pontiac automobile, sent photographs of the killers and notices to all Police and Sheriffs' departments in the state of Ohio, including the State Patrol. Road blocks were established which resulted in the capture of Daniels and the death of West. This was an efficient example of the agencies which protect your person and property.

The Grand Jury of Franklin County (Columbus, Ohio) immediately indicted Daniels and sent warrants of arrest based on this indictment to the officials holding Daniels after his capture. The Prosecutor of Franklin County INSISTED and PLEADED for the release of Daniels to his county for trial, for the reason that Franklin County's case was the FIRST COMPLETED and they were READY FOR TRIAL. His request was ignored and upon the insistence of Theodore Lutz, your present Prosecuting Attorney, Daniels was released to Richland County for trial, even though at the time of release, Franklin County had INDICTED Daniels and WAS READY FOR TRIAL and RICHLAND COUNTY HAD NO INDICTMENT.

This lack of cooperation with Franklin County by Theodore Lutz cost Richland County many thousands of dollars, (publicly estimated between $10,000 and $15,000). Franklin County had an AIR-TIGHT CASE - EYE WITNESS (NONE IN RICHLAND COUNTY), a COMPLETE RECORD OF HIS PAST, Daniels being a resident of Franklin County, HAD ALL THE FACILITIES, BALLISTIC EXPERTS, PSYCHIATRISTS, WITNESSES, GRAND JURY INDICTMENT and a LARGE, EFFICIENT STAFF of able PROSECUTORS.

Daniels would have been convicted anywhere and received the supreme penalty. Ask yourself - if you were on a jury would you have acquitted Daniels of his crimes?

I believe this was a costly mistake on the part of my opponent, Theodore Lutz, for he could have done the same as the Prosecutors of the other counties where Daniels committed his heinous crimes, INDICTED Daniels and AWAITED the outcome of the case in Columbus, Ohio. The Law would have been enforced and Richland County spared this needless waste of THOUSANDS OF TAXPAYERS' DOLLARS.

A public official is measured not by his EXTRAORDINARY EFFORTS at or near election time, but by his everyday conduct in the office he holds.

MEASURED BY THIS RECORD, DOES MY OPPONENT THEODORE LUTZ OF SHELBY, OHIO, DESERVE ELECTION TO THIS HIGH, IMPORTANT OFFICE WHICH IS THE SAFEGUARD FOR THE PROTECTION OF YOUR PERSON AND PROPERTY?

HAROLD LUTZ

BORN IN MANSFIELD, February 22, 1907, son of Thomas Lutz and Mettie Straub Lutz of Washington Township, who now reside at 357 South Diamond Street, Mansfield, Ohio. Both families have lived in Richland County more than 100 years. Married to Katherine Miller, daughter of Councilman Fred Miller, Sr., of Mansfield, Ohio, with whom they now reside.

EDUCATION - Graduate Mansfield Senior High School 1924 ("M" Association), Ohio University 1929, and Ohio State College of Law 1932. Financed education by employment at Mansfield Tire and Rubber Company and on the farm.

RECORD - Assistant Prosecutor 1935-40.

ELECTED PROSECUTING ATTORNEY 1940 OVER THEODORE LUTZ BY OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

Drafted into Army as a PRIVATE in 1942 when the office of Prosecuting Attorney was declared to be NON-ESSENTIAL TO THE WAR EFFORT. Retained office while in Army by virtue of special Veterans' legislation enacted in 1941 (Section 2397-1 and 2397-2 of General Code of Ohio) for the benefit of public officials serving in the Armed Forces. This law was sponsored by the Republican majority in both houses of the state legislature, passed by overwhelming majorities in both houses and signed by John W. Bricker, then Governor of the state of Ohio. The Supreme court of Ohio, Case No. 29680 decided April 12, 1944, without a dissenting vote, held - (Justice Mathias, Republican, delivering the opinion) "that any holder of public office in Ohio did not forfeit his office by virtue of serving his Country in the Armed Services." P. H. ROGERS, (Republican) State Senator in 1941 for this district, which includes Richland County, and the late JOHN CATLETT, (Republican) Richland County Representative in 1941, voted for this bill.

All these men in High Office favored Veteran legislation, but Theodore Lutz, a Republican, opposed it in 1944 when he was a candidate for the office of Prosecuting Attorney. Theodore Lutz by his criticism contended that I should have resigned my office, but after his election in 1944, HE DID NOT RESIGN HIS OFFICE, GIVE UP HIS LUCRATIVE LAW PRACTICE and ENTER INTO ESSENTIAL SERVICE THAT WOULD PROMOTE THE WAR EFFORT AT A TIME WHEN THOUSANDS OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS WERE FIGHTING THE MOST COSTLY BATTLE OF THE WAR—THE BATTLE OF THE BULGE.

YOUR COUNTRY IN TIME OF WAR NEEDS THE SERVICES OF ALL ITS PEOPLE.

IT IS EASY TO CRITICIZE, BUT DIFFICULT TO PERFORM.

It was a great honor to serve you over four years as a soldier in four major campaigns with the 3rd, 45th, 36th and 12th Armored Divisions. After the armistice in Europe, I was selected to be a Judge and Prosecutor in the Allied Military Court System participating in over 2000 trials.

AFFILIATED with American Legion, Mansfield Lodge, Baku Grotto, Elks, Moose, Sons of Herman, Organized Reserve Corps, Pi Kappa Alpha, Richland County Fish and Game Association and John Todd Park Association.

IF ELECTED for my SECOND TERM, I will endeavor to carry out ALL the duties of this important Office with creditable dignity that will reflect honor upon our community.

I submit my record as a lifelong citizen of our community and ask you to - "Vote just as you would choose your own attorney."

Walter White Says:

Soviets Try To Put Foes Off Balance

Employ Strategy Of Clever Boxer

PARIS — It becomes increasingly clear here that the strategy of Russia and her satellites is that of a clever boxer who keeps his opponent off balance so that he cannot get set to land a knockout blow.

White

Like the first Joe Louis - Jersey Joe Walcott marathon the result is both boring and annoying to the spectators. But like Jersey Joe, Russia is not only causing the United States to lose some of its prestige but we are being driven into positions which justify some of the charges which the USSR levels constantly against us.

Only a superman could remain impervious to the steady stream of abuse Vishinsky and his colleagues pour on America. Pavlov of the USSR excoriated Mrs. Roosevelt about lynching in the United States in language almost as bitter as that used by some Americans, especially from the South, against her because of her advocacy of equal rights for Negro Americans. A Yugoslavian member of the Human Rights committee excoriated the treatment of natives and Indians in the Union of South Africa and pointedly added: "Certain United States delegates are careful not to criticize South Africa because of her own racial practices."

Kasutzky of Poland preceded me on a world wide United Nations broadcast last Thursday, denouncing the United States as the creator and leader of a powerful bloc which is destroying unity and peace. He became somewhat perturbed when I exhibited no anger at what was clearly a propaganda speech and remarked that, whatever its faults may be democracy's greatest strength rested in freedom of opinion.

Harried and angered by the Soviet strategy of continuous attack, our representatives here are unfortunately being driven or led into a policy of "Containing Russia" instead of demonstrating that a democratic way of life offers advantages and opportunities infinitely superior to those under totalitarianism. Far too much of our efforts are devoted to stopping something instead of proving something.

At least some Americans favored inclusion in the genocide convention of prohibition of mass murder of political groups as well as racial and religious ones because it would put Russia on the spot, instead of approving such inclusion on humanitarian and reasonable grounds. As a result, only a miracle can bring about the necessary two-thirds vote to pass the genocide convention.

So too is our delegation at Paris being maneuvered into favoring the division between Italy, Great Britain and Ethiopia of the former African colonies of Italy. The purpose is to keep Russia out of Africa, for which there is ample argument and reason, but also to assist England to hold on to her position or what is left of her position in the middle East.

Thus once again we place ourselves as a nation in the position where we appear to the world to be protecting the status quo. This is tragic not only for the individual members of the American delgation, most of whom are eager to do the right and best thing, but for American prestige as well.

PUT ON SPOT

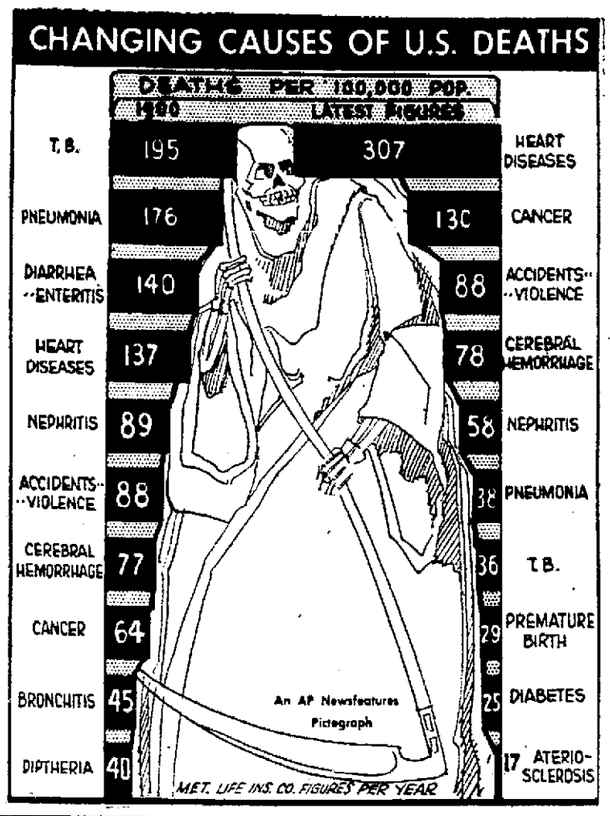
Similarly, we are repeatedly being jockeyed into an embarrassing position on the issue of human rights. Since September 21st Committee 3 has met at least once a day and frequently twice a day except Sundays. Of the 28 articles in the draft declaration exactly two had been approved to October 17th.

Approximately one hundred amendments, including one which provoked three days of turgid oratory on the meaning of God, have been introduced. Some of these have been brought forward in good faith; many of them to delay and if possible to prevent action at this session of the General Assembly.

At least half of the time wasted has been devoted to attacks on what goes on in other countries and indignant replies by the countries attacked. The Russian, Byelorussian, Yugo-Slavian, Polish and Czecho-Slovakian delegates have been most vocal in pointing out the flaws in the racial policies of the United States and the Union of South Africa.

In using the General Assembly as a propaganda forum, these critics have been aided in subtle and unwitting ways by some of our spokesmen (not Mrs. Roosevelt) who now favor a human rights declaration chiefly because they are convinced Russia does not want one.

Let me repeat that the patience of a Job and the wisdom of a Solomon would be required to deal with some of the tactics being used here. It is unfortunate for us and the world that the absence of such gifts are leading us into an increasingly negative and defensive position which may be precisely what Russia's tactics are designed to accomplish.



Influenza Epidemic Possible, But Its Deadliness Has Faded

NEW YORK—(AP)—Thirty years ago this fall, a huge epidemic of influenza swept the United States.

It was world-wide. In this country it attacked an estimated 20 million persons—almost one in every five of population then—and some 550,000 died of the disease or its complications.

Another one might break out now at any time. In the past, "major outbreaks have occurred at intervals averaging about 25 or 30 years, although they have not recurred with the regularity of a cycle," the statistical bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. point out.

As yet there are no signs of an epidemic this year. There was advance warning of the one in 1918, with outbreaks in army and navy camps in the spring of that year.

Even if another one should come, modern drugs and control measures promise to stop it sooner, and prevent many deaths.

"Influenza, when uncomplicated, causes relatively few deaths, even during pandemics (widespread epidemics)," the bulletin said.

"Deaths occur very largely among cases complicated with a severe form of pneumonia. With the help of the sulfa drugs and penicillin, we should be able to control the complications, and thus rob the next pandemic, should it come, of most of its terror."

Columbus Goes Over the Top

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Columbus and Franklin county reached its $1,300,000 Community Chest goal last night after seven citizens announced they would insure a difference of $7,560 lacking when the drive ended.

Student Body Awaits Naming of Queen

By MARGIE GOODMAN

The outcome of the election of the homecoming queen and her four attendants, the annual fall beauty contest held at M.H.S., is not being announced until Nov. 12. Not only are the candidates eagerly awaiting this presentation but the whole student body is practically on "pins and needles" until her royal highness and her court are made known.

The lucky girls nominated by home rooms are. Susie Adams, Marilyn Wittmer, Emma Varchmin, Barbara Staples, Marilyn Smith, Lucille Schuler, Audrey Pirrgo, Marilyn Long, Joan Jackson, June Green, Betsy Clark, Beverly Brissell and Charlotte Boyd.

Our illustrious senior class has again come through with the most students who rate the distinction of being on the honor roll. These students are: Barbara Bowles, Donovan Garber, Mathilde Endrody, Gizella Knefely, Edmond Fuchs, George Freund, Dick Van Voorhis, Harold Leindecker, Marilyn Brandt, Charles Au, Duane Bradrick, Betty Bauman, Mary Biddle, Jean A. Robinson, Jean E. Robinson, Ronald Keith, and Frances Karas.

Juniors come next with thirteen: Duane Getz, Robert Busch, Richard Neal, Janet Mayer, Katherine Beatty, Charles Nail, John Wakeley, Elaine Hartley, Miriam Schroeder, Barbara Staples, Jean Hathaway, Marilyn Schuler, and Robert Ward.

Joy McCoy, Shirley Jones, William Cline, Jo Ann Christman, Beatrice Divelbiss, and Helen Stacey add their names to those with either all A's or only one B.

Honorable mention seniors are Robert Clouse, Wilma Gerhart, Betty Jane Garver, Marilyn Fancher, Donald Parnell, Robert Haizfeld, Mary Ellen Kick, Marilyn Klee, Bill Eccles, Betty Erickson, Margie Goodman, Rita Richert, Despina Nickas, Norma McCally, Warren Alverson, David Wappner, William Eccles, Harry McCune, Audrey McCoy, Nancy Sorenson, Barbara Inscore, Carl Whistler, Frances Wojcik, Robert Burkhart, Jo ann Blackstone, Harry Osbun, and Alan Poorman.

Last but not least we have these from the class of '51 who got all A's and B's in their majors. They are: Beverly Young, Janice Young, Betty Zents, Rollin Anderson, Joe Bastings, Francis Loyal Bemiller, Bonnie Beal, Fred Pryor, Barbara Jise, John Damron, Lionel Harris, Donald Hart, Ralph Sorenson, Barbara Schaffer, Chloe Snyder, Charlene Tarr, Maddalyn Timmons, Margie Volz, Kay Sanders, Margene Schindler, Evelyn Schroeder, Mary Alice Laser, Mary Kinsey, Harlean Laughlin, and Daphne Maras.

The junior class named the dance after the Dayton Kiser game "Come As You Go" but as far as I've heard no one has been able to come to a conclusion as to what it means. committees for this dance are: publicity, Bob Ward and Frank Plaut; posters, Shirley Montgomery, and Judy McLean; refreshments, Dick Bishop; tickets, Dick Neal and hcaperone, Charles Young.

A monthly report will be published by the seniors to keep the class up to date on class affairs and finances. This will be edited by the class secretary and treasurer, Norma Touby and Jean A. Robinson. The first issue will be out about the first of November and will cover the activities of September and October.

Turnpike Bill Again Issue

Senator Ralph A. Winter, representative of the 27th-29th district in the Ohio senate, announced yesterday that the Ohio Turnpike bill will be introduced in the legislature when the 98th general assembly convenes in January.

The bill, as explained by Winter would set up a state commission with full authority to proceed with the construction of self-supporting super highways. The highways would be financed with private capital, but would revert to the state when the bonds are paid off, according to Winter.

Winter said that the bonds would not be an obligation of the state. They would be guaranteed only by the revenue from the highways, he added.

The super highways would not be intended to take the place of free state highways, Winter said. They would be built for heavy-duty trucks and for motorists who are willing to pay a toll to travel on them, he said.

New Resort To Pay Off For Empire

LONDON—(AP)—Billy Butlin, who has raked in plenty of pounds promoting planned vacations in Britain, is going to take the idea to America to earn dollars for the mother country.

Just back from the United States, he told reporters he had bought 3,000 acres on Grand Bahama island, 60 miles off Florida, for a 1,000,000 pounds ($4,000,000) vacation camp like those he runs in Britain. He said he hopes to open it by Jan. 1, 1950.

Tourists will pay $250 a week to stay there. Butlin said he expects the camp to take in $250,000 a week, and it will be open the year around.

"We shall, in my opinion," he said, "be one of the biggest earners of dollars for Britain."

He pointed out the island "is only 60 miles from Palm Beach and Miami."

Butlin, now managing director of Butlin's, Ltd., is forming a new company — Butlin's (Bahamas), Ltd.—to finance the venture. Sir Bebe Edmund Hugh Clifford, former Bahamas governor, is a director.

Butlin said the Bahamas government has promised the camp freedom from taxes for its first ten years.

An Editorial

TO THE VOTERS

By the Republican Committee

THE HOME STRETCH

Next Tuesday the voters will have their say. A few pencil marks on a ballot and the political fates of anxious, hopeful candidates will be decided.

These last few days are important. Not only to the candidates who want to get in the last word, the last blow, to win another vote, but to the voter himself. His is a serious responsibility. He must pick the best men to represent him and to conduct state and national affairs—the biggest and most important business in the country.

Many voters have already decided for whom they will vote. Others are still making up their minds. But in either case, we urge the voter to use these final days before election to make sure that he is voting for the man who actually will be representing HIS will in Mansfield, Richland county, in Columbus and in Washington.

Adequate opportunity has been provided for the voters to become fully informed on the qualifications and platforms of each candidate. Much time has been devoted to politics in the last few weeks and more will be given to covering the final stages of the campaign for the sole purpose of providing the voter with a sound basis for his choice.

Every citizen has the right to vote. Every good citizen has the duty of marking a ballot and the responsibility of entrusting the affairs of HIS government to the best possible hands.

Our national government needs to be placed in the hands of a trusted and successful executive. Governor Dewey is just that. He can be relied upon.

Our state government needs to be continued with the honest, sincere and open-book policies that Governor Herbert and his aides have maintained. Every dollar collected has purchased a dollar's worth for the taxpayer.

You will find every candidate on our local ticket qualified and capable of conducting the office he is seeking with honesty and dignity.

As the campaign draws to a close, the committees thank the party workers and voters for their cooperation and consideration of the merits and qualifications of the Republican candidates and will appreciate your vote and support on next Tuesday—Election day.

The entire ticket merits your support and vote.

Sincerely,

JAMES V. WILL

Modernization of School System Hinges on Bond Issue

City Growth Brings Need For Changes

Ten Buildings Lack Improvements

Whether improvements that have been needed for many years, in ten of Mansfield's existing schools will be made is a major question to be decided in Tuesday's election.

Six of the 10 buildings in question are 62 or more years old, and have had a minimum of improvement in that period. Two of the six buildings in question are almost 80 years old—79, to be exact.

These facts were emphasized today by Glen L. Robinson, business manager of the Mansfield school system, in an appeal for support of the proposed $2,250,000 bond issue in Tuesday's election.

In asking for approval of a bond issue in that amount, the Mansfield Board of Education is seeking to complete a building and modernization program it started in 1945, after voters had overwhelmingly approved a bond issue for $2,111,000. At that time, it was believed that a building program almost as large as the revised one now proposed could be completed. However, building costs increased so rapidly that the first bond issue fell far short of doing the entire job.

LIBRARY INCLUDED

Of the money voted in 1945, the sum of $80,000 was allocated to the public library. In addition, the sum of $1,531,000 has been allocated to four building and modernization projects. They are Rebecca Grubaugh school, where a sizeable addition has been completed and is now in use; Roseland building, soon ready for occupancy, and Newman and West Fifth schools, where construction work is underway. A new Newman school is being built and a 17—room building at West Fifth.

There is, therefore, a balance of $500,000 left from the original bond issue, to be applied to the new program, Robinson pointed out. If the $2,250,000 bond issue is approved Tuesday, the school board will have a total of $2,750,000 with which to finish the complete program.

Should the bond issue fail at Tuesday's election—and a 65 per cent majority is needed for passage—then Mansfield children will have to continue going to classes in buildings that are inadequately heated and poorly lighted.

By far the greatest share of the money sought from the bond issue will be spent on improvement of elementary buildings, where the need is greatest, Robinson went on. At the city's two junior highs, only a small amount has been set up for grading and improvement of the recreation fields. At senior high, only a new physical education building is to be erected, in addition to modernization of the lighting systems and enlargement of the cafeteria. As in 1945, the library will share in the bond issue, to the extent of $50,000, which will permit a much-needed enlargement and improvement program.

NEW SCHOOL PLANNED

One entirely new grade school building, not anticipated as a need in 1945, is included in the 1948 program. It will be located in the Maple Lake area, where the population growth has been greater than in any other part of the city in the past few years.

Growth in population in other sections has made it necessary to approve more extensive additions to some buildings, as well. At Woodland, for instance, a seven-room addition is now deemed necessary, whereas in 1945 it was thought that a two-room addition would be sufficient.

At Bowman, an 18-room addition is planned, where a 16-room addition was proposed in 1945.

At Hedges, second largest of the city's grade schools, an 11-room addition is planned. This, together with a fairly modern eight-room section now in use will give Hedges a total of 19 classrooms.

Prospect school is scheduled to get a new 13-room building. And as in the 1945 program, Brinkerhoff and Carpenter buildings are to be abandoned and their children assigned to a new building to be constructed on the most convenient site available in the district.

Bushnell school is also to be abandoned, and its pupils divided between Newman, West Fifth and Hedges schools.

URGENCY CITED

Pointing out the urgency of replacing or at least modernizing these buildings, Robinson listed their ages. Bowman school was built 62 years ago and Brinkerhoff is now 64 years old. West Fifth and Bushnell schools are now 79 years old, and Carpenter is only a year younger, 78. Hedges was built 77 years ago. Newman is a comparative youngster, only 69 years old. Prospect is younger yet, 53 years old, while the "babies" of the system are Western (now Grubaugh), 37, and Woodland only 14.

"That makes the average age of our elementary buildings more than 61 years," Robinson pointed out, "The bond issue decision Tuesday will have a long-range effect on our school plant in Mansfield—its success or failure—means the difference between modern, efficient buildings and a continuation of the present dilapidated structures in use."

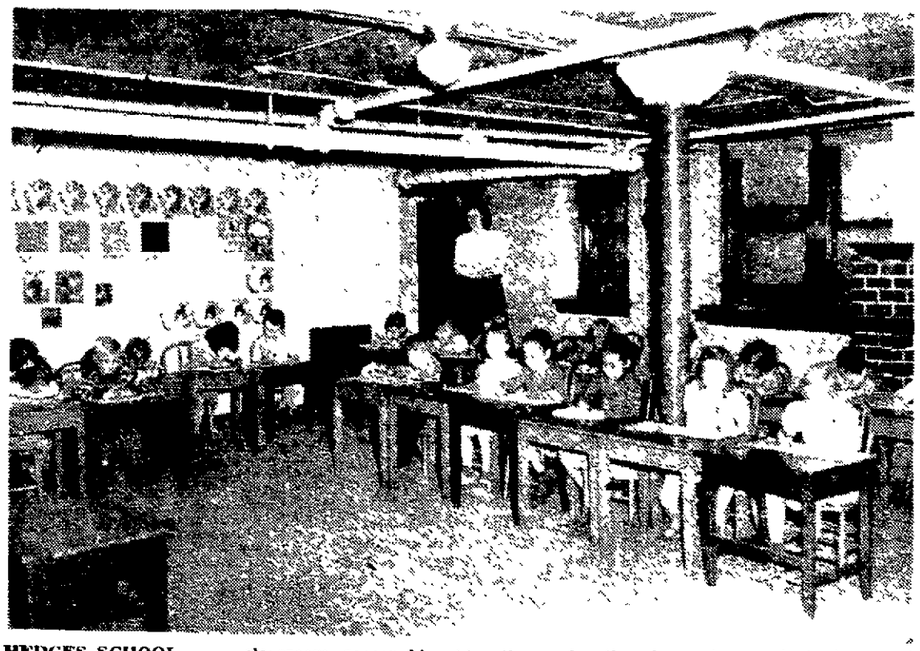
While building costs and other costs generally have increased, there is one cost in connection with the proposed bond issue that has decreased, Robinson said. That is the additional tax increase to retire the bonds.

When the 1945 bond issue was approved, the tax increase was 17 cents per year per hundred dollars of tax valuation. This year, however, due to higher tax duplicate, the $2,250,000 bond issue can be retired with an increase in taxes of only 15.3 cents per hundred dollars of valuation.

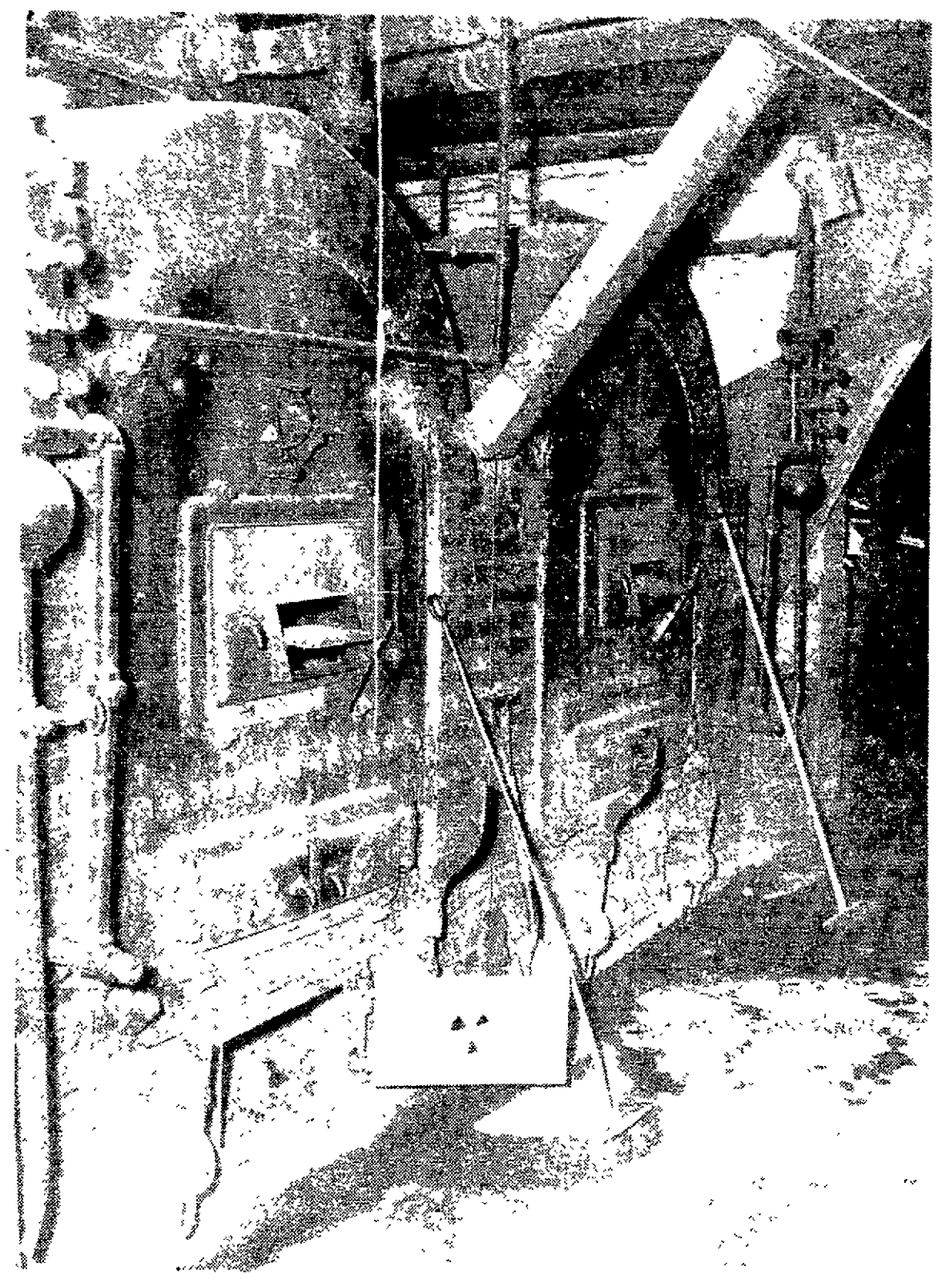
"This is equivalent to getting more improvement for less money," Robinson commented.

BRINKERHOFF SCHOOL . . . narrow stairway, falling plaster, building weary with age.

BUSHNELL SCHOOL . . . fire escapes are necessary . . . fireproof building would be better.



HEDGES SCHOOL . . . classroom, reasonably attractive under the circumstances, is in basement.



BUSHNELL SCHOOL . . . boiler room, a real antique, but not so good as a heating system.

BLUFFTON—(AP)—Mrs. Albert Kempf, 69, and Mrs. Anna Shank, 80, both of near Bluffton, were killed instantly Friday night when their automobile was struck by a Nickel Plate railroad freight train at a crossing near here.

Volunteers Wage Bond Vote Drive

500 Give Aid In School Campaign

One of the most intensive volunteer campaigns ever waged in the city on behalf of an election issue is now drawing to a close.

More than 500 workers have been busy in all sections of the city seeking to win the necessary 65 per cent majority for the school bond issue, which is to be voted on at Tuesday's election.

The bond issue proposal is for $2,250,000 and is being sought in order to allow completion of the school building and modernization program started in 1945.

More than the usual effort was put behind the campaign because a 65 per cent majority is necessary for approval, leaders of the campaign said.

The volunteer committee of school bond workers has been headed by W. R. Mabee, Tappan Stove Company executive, and Glen L. Robinson, business manager of the Mansfield school system, as campaign chairman.

The entire campaign was built around the slogan "Let's Finish the Job." The "job", it was explained, was the construction program started in 1945, but curtailed because funds voted then were insufficient to complete the program.

A group of volunteer speakers, headed by Harold Bruce, school board member, has been appearing before clubs and other civic groups, outlining the details of the building program and the urgency of the need for expansion and improvement.

Another group of workers, headed by W. O. Leedy, another school board member has sought contributions from public-spirited Mansfield concerns and individuals to defray necessary expenses.

PUBLICITY WIDESPREAD

To bring the story of the need for the bond issue home to the parents in another way, a publicity committee, headed by R. O. Richards prepared and distributed pamphlets and a special tabloid "newspaper" outlining the conditions of Mansfield schools, the situation created by increased building costs, increased school enrollment and sharply climbing birth rates in Mansfield. This committee also prepared a speaker's manual, providing the volunteer speakers with facts and figures on the issue. This committee also prepared a concentrated advertising campaign. Most of the money raised by the financial committee headed by Leedy went to defray costs of the publicity group's activities.

Pupils joined with adults in furthering the cause of the bond issue. Outstanding members of high school speech classes appeared before various Mansfield organizations, urging support of the bond issue.

Parent - Teacher associations formally endorsed the bond issue and pledged their support to it. A. L. Fankhauser directed this activity, and endorsements were obtained from many other organizations as well.

Parents and Teachers also conducted house-to-house canvasses to stir up sentiment on behalf of the bond issue, under the direction of Ray Dent, principal of the new Roseland school.

"We believe that we have taken advantage of about every possible method of acquainting Mansfielders with the urgency of the situation and the very real need for approving the bond issue Tuesday," Chairman Mabee said yesterday, "and we're going to continue right up until the last minute.

What's a Dollar Worth?

Economists, Accountants Battle Over Bookkeeping

CHICAGO—(AP)—A three-way battle of the balance sheet is shaping up in the land of business facts and figures.

Management, economists and accountants are at odds over how to handle overstuffed dollars of inflation. The division of ranks is not clear cut, however. Members of all three groups can be found in opposing camps.

Business says its very life depends on finding ways to retain enough capital from earnings to replace, improve and expand plant and equipment. It also wants to finance a larger volume of business even though at higher price levels.

Accountants contend some of the bookkeeping devices used to achieve these ends are unwise, at least, and prefer others. On the other hand, economists insist virtually the whole profit and loss and balance sheet setup is mistaken and needs a complete overhauling, adjusted closely to to fluctuating price levels.

Crux of the problem is handling of depreciation, depletion and inventory figures. Spokesmen for all three groups had a say at the recent Chicago convention of the American Institute of Accountants.

Management asks, should these long-term elements be based on historical values, as most firms now carry them? That is, should a thousand-dollar asset in 1933 still be carried at that amount on the books today although replacement might cost $3,000 now? Or should these figures be entered at present or estimated future replacement values?

The economist wants them adjusted by a system of indexes to the constantly changing purchasing power of the dollar,

ACCOUNTANTS' VIEWPOINT

The accountant says let's show them historically on traditional financial statements with a supplemental statement detailing their current relative worth.

In its current issue "The Illinois Certified Public Accountant" says editorially such devices as reserves from earnings for possible future inventory price declines are "illogical, capricious and entirely unacceptable."

Regarding the index measurement advocated by economists, the magazine said, "General commodity price indices most nearly reflect the change in purchasing power of the dollar, but it is objected that such indices would be inappropriate to adjustment of cost of capital goods."

Speaking for management, Joel M. Bowlby, President of the Eagle-Picher Company, Cincinnati, declared:

"The problem that faces us today revolves around the vital question of how American enterprise is going to obtain the capital required to replace existing plant and equipment; to provide the improved and expanded facilities essential to the growing needs of a larger population and higher standard of living, and to finance a larger volume of business at a higher price level."

"I believe the position of management could be improved and its existence made easier by deducting, in arriving at reported earnings, an amount reflecting amortization of the estimated excess of replacement cost over historical cost.

From the economists' group came the comment of Solomon Frabricant, professor of economics at New York University and a member of the research staff of the National Bureau of Economic Research.

"Accounting calculations of business income are unacceptable to economists. Current accounting reports yield figures for different companies that are not comparable with one another, yield figures for a single company's operations in one year that are not comparable with figures for the same company in another year."

All the chickens in the United States eat about 20,000,000 tons of food in one year.

NEW FACE FOR CLOCK

MONTREUX, Switzerland—(AP)—The old clock on the tower of the famed Castle of Chillon, which has been ticking away for four centuries, is about to get a new face. The clock was installed by the master clockmaker, Andre de Morges, in 1543 and is the oldest clock in this part of the country. With a little tinkering now and then, it has been kept going ever since. It has been decided that its appearance could be improved by restoring the face.

Small Auto Sales Boom

British Win U. S. Car Market

NEW YORK—(AP)—The British are winning their fight for a share of the rich American mass market for small automobiles.

Their selling campaign was planned like a major war. They established an eastcoast beachhead, infiltrated the midwest, made a surprise landing on the westcoast, and now they are executing a Canadian flank attack down the St. Lawrence river and the Great lakes.

The war booty is undreamed of riches in dollars paid by Americans who bought cars faster than they could unload them off trans-Atlantic boats.

British manufacturers in quiet moments will tell you off - the - record that a year ago they had hopes of selling a few thousand cars in America, and with luck they dreamed of a small permanent market here.

Today their sales are double their estimates, and there is a possibility that next year their sales may double again Their organizations are being built on a permanent basis. They intend to stay —if they can.

The Austin Motor Co. LTD. (England) is bringing in their 2,200-pound cars at the rate of 1,000 a month, and they estimate sales at 12,000 for 1948. Next year they will assemble 500 cars weekly in a new Hamilton, Ontario, Plant. Some time in 1949 trade observers believe they may be able to offer 4,000 cars monthly for sale through combined Canadian assembly and shipment of completed vehicles from England.

British-made Fords are arriving here at the rate of 2,000 a month. About 7,000 of the three Ford models have been sold this year, and the present rate of shipments gives an estimated 1948 sale of 12,000 cars. It originally was intended to import only 6,000 cars this year.

WHO BUYS CARS?

And there are other British, French and Italian manufacturers competing for American dollars.

Who buys these cars and why?

An Austin spokesman said his company expected sales to be made to persons wanting a second car for economical operation to supplement their large and expensive American-made first car. They also figured there was a market among people who had to have transportation while awaiting delivery of an American car.

Their theories held true to a small extent. Biggest sales were made, said the spokesman, "On the basis of the fine performance of the car itself." He added: "That sounds like a sales talk straight out of an advertisement, doesn't it? However, it's a fact."

Word of mouth advertising was the big sales impetus in the beginning for Ford. Austin and the others. The small cars (dealers wince at the word "midget") are not loaded down with accessories, they can be bought without a trade-in, and delivery is immediate.

Dealers also will tell you — with a little urging — about fuel economy, operational simplicity, and ease of handling.

Expanding sales is what they expect. They seem assured of getting that for at least two years while American producers are catching up with home demand.

THROAT-CUTTING UNLIKELY

The giant American industry could rub out the foreigners in a minute by bringing out their own small cars, cutting prices on their present models, making better cars for the same money, or by following the historic trend of giving finer automobiles for less money.

It is doubtful that they will. Foreign makers are gambling on that. Austin has 100 principal dealers in 30 states, and the number is growing. They have strategic parts depots. Their Hamilton plant represents heavy capital expenditures. Ford has some 800 direct and associate dealers throughout the country. Their shipments come direct by water from England to both the East and West coasts and through the Great Lakes to Cleveland, Chicago and Minneapolis.

France and especially Britain are hammering hard at the export trade. The number of British models has been reduced, and 75 per cent of their entire output is exported. With Britain it is export or die. America under the Marshall plan encourages such exports.

Never before have we imported so many foreign cars. Back in 1937 we imported a record 1,442 cars. That was passed with 1,456 in 1947. This year imports will be between 25,000 and 30,000. Next year may be more than double.

That total is impressive to foreign producers But it doesn't look very big to American motor makers who in one week can turn out more than 88,000 automobiles.

2 Men Report They Were Held Up In City

Walter Lewis and Harry McKinney, both of Trailer City, told police Saturday that they had been robbed of their wallets while sitting in a car on North Adams street. They said their assailants held them up with a 32 calibre revolver and took Lewis' wallet, containing $52, and McKinney's wallet, containing $15

2 DIE IN RAIL CRASH

NEWBURY, Vt.—(AP)—Two engineers and a fireman were killed and several other persons, including some passengers, were injured when Boston and Maine and Canadian Pacific trains collided head-on Saturday.

THEY SHARE 'EM—The two most beautiful legs in the world do not belong to the same woman—according to Larry Gordon, New York photographer of glamour gals. Two most perfect nether limbs in the world, Gordon says, are left leg of Marlene Dietrich (right) and right leg of Betty Grable.

Hot Dogs Contain Real Canineburger

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil—(AP)—Alexander Lau, a carpenter, was arrested here under charge of selling "hot dogs" with real dog meat.

Lau told the police "I used to kill dogs to meet the shortage of meat and feed my family." He explained that he got the idea when he saw a man on the street advertising "hot dogs". He thought it would be a good business and started it with real dog meat. The police released Lau as there is no law in Brazil to punish such case.

Seabee Veterans Organize Nov. 6

COLUMBUS—(AP)—First annual convention of the Seabee Veterans of America will be held here Nov. 6 and 7. Fred W. Dauenhauer of Columbus, temporary Seabee Ohio president, said the convention will set up a permanent organization and elect permanent officers.

Honor Child In Ashland

ASHLAND — Gloria Kreider, ten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Kreider of Ashland, was honored for her original piano composition, "The Merry-Makers" at the middle north district conference of the Ohio Federation of Music clubs held at Loudonville this week.

The young Ashland composer, pupil of Mrs. M. A. Stuckey of Ashland, played her composition for the conference. She was presented by Mrs. Jesse Eagleson, national director of junior compositions. Mrs. Eagleson explained that Gloria's composition was one of two from Ohio to receive superior rating in the national competition in which there were 64 original compositions.

Because of the unusual merit of the number, rules against giving better than "excellent" rating for composers less than 11 years old, were waived for the ten-year-old's entry, Mrs. Eagleson told the conference.

GETS LIFE SENTENCE

CLEVELAND —(AP)— James R. Boyland, 29, was sentenced to life imprisonment Saturday after a jury convicted him of second degree murder in the killing of Hilton Dillon, a drinking companion.

Official Presidential Ballot Lists 2 Major Parties Only

The official presidential ballot which will be received by voters on Tuesday provides for easy selection of their choice by Republicans and Democrats

Placing of a vote for the Republican candidate requires only the usual X mark in the circle under the eagle This indicates choice of Thomas E Dewey for president and Earl Warren for vice president

Similarly an "X" in the circle under the rooster indicates selection of the Democratic candidates Harry S Truman for president and Alben W Barkley for vice president

The procedure that must be followed by backers of Henry A Wallace is more complicated Wallace's name does not appear on the ballot nor is there any designation given the Progressive party

Electors who will support Wallace if selected by state voters are listed in a column under the heading of Independent Candidates A voter desiring to cast his full vote for Wallace must 'X' each of the electors in this list

Any crossing over such as a vote for the Republican candidates plus a vote for one or more of the names listed under 'Independent candidates, will invalidate the ballot

THE RECORD

My opponent's last-minute charges are either deliberate misrepresentation or based upon LACK OF KNOWLEDGE. I prefer to believe my opponent just does not know.

I DID NOT CAUSE AN EXPENDITURE OF $5255.00 TO THE TAXPAYERS OR RICHLAND COUNTY!

I did arrange to have title examination expense in delinquent tax sales charged as court costs, PAID FOR BY THE LAND OWNER out of sales proceeds, which COST THE TAXPAYERS NOT ONE RED CENT — thereby dispensing with the need to hire a special assistant to handle title examinations at county expense (For 1941 my opponent had in his office a special assistant who was paid $160 00 per month by the county to handle tax foreclosures)

(2) My opponent charges a $1 000 payment was made to Squire. Sanders & Dempsey Bond Attorneys This was paid to Squire Sanders & Dempsey for the opinion approving the T B bond issue UNLESS BOND ISSUES ARE SO APPROVED NO BANK IN OHIO WILL BUY THEM Ask your banker! This charge of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey was the standard charge based on amount of issue.

THE TRUE RECORD ON COURT TRIALS

(3) My opponent charges that I brought Daniels to trial in Richland County for my personal glorification The truth is, DANIELS WAS DELIVERED TO RICHLAND COUNTY BY JUDGE McNEILL OF VAN WERT BECAUSE THE HORRIBLE NIEBEL MURDERS WERE THE ONLY MURDERS ACTUALLY COMMITTED BY DANIELS In accordance with my duties I prosecuted Daniels to the full extent of the law and I am proud of my preesntation of evidence and argument in the Daniels case

I am also proud of my other criminal court work as prosecutor Here is the record of trials

17 Murder and Homicide Cases

Political Upheavals Upset Indian Princes

NEW DELHI—(AP)— India's princelings are coming out of their political obscurity to share the burdens of their country's freedom.

The biggest states among them, like Mysore, Bikaner and Kashmir, still retain their identities as symbolized by their 18th century turbans and medal bedecked chests. Others like Baroda, continue expensive hobbies abroad, but their political autocracies have melted in free India and the days of self-indulgence are numbered.

Some among those whose realms have been liquidated—either merged with India or formed into princely unions—have become constitutional figureheads. They are new rajpramukhs or deputy rajpramukhs. The title means chief of a princely group.

One among the rajpramukh group is now the constitutional governor of Madras. He is the maharajah of Bhavnagar. Others with heavy bank balances and vast estates are planning to invest in industries.

The government of India is utilizing the special aptitudes of particular princes for the country's benefit. The jam saheb of Nawanagar is a member of the Indian delegation to the U.N. general assembly in Paris.

His cousin, Lt. Gen. Rajendrasinhji, is commander in chief of the southern command, with headquarters at Poona. He led the "police action" in the holdout state of Hyderabad and completed it in five days.

SERVES IN EMBASSY

The rajah of Kharagat is on the staff of the Indian embassy at Rome. The rajah of Jhalawar has been sent to Belgium. The Maharajkumar of Sitamau is the assistant trade commissioner in the United Kingdom.

Other princes are applying for positions in the government and appearing for competitive examinations and for job interviews.

The maharajkumar of Dungarpur joined the government service as a deputy secretary in the defense ministry and since has been transferred to the information department. The rajah of Ali Rajpur is the deputy chief controller of imports and the rajah of Jubbal is the deputy chief controller of exports.

The 36-year-old ruler of Jabbal said in an interview that he took the job "to keep myself occupied in healthy work."

He took a competitive examination, topped the list of successful candidates and studied administrative school. His state is a 300-square mile forested area at the foot of the snow-peaked Himalayas with a population of 30,000.

The rajah was prime minister of his state for 12 years before his father abdicated to a life of retirement in the Simla hills. The son ruled for three years before his state was merged with the dominion.

Jubbal is now part of the Himachal Pradesh union under a chief commissioner directly responsible to the government of India. Himachal Paradesh union means Himalayan country. Its capital is Simla.

"I am working for the sake of work, not for money," said the prince. He is drawing a token salary of one rupee (32 cents) a month.

"I did not want even that," he said, but the government insists its workers must be paid. The rajah of Ali Rajpur receives a similar token salary.

"I am an adventurer," the prince said. "What the other princes will do in the future depends on the success or failure of adventurers like me."

Reds Honor Farmers

MOSCOW—(AP)— Soviet collective farmers are getting a lion's share of government medals and awards this year. Since the end of the war special decrees have been issued providing special recognition with the nation's highest orders for farmers who maintain high production on collective farm fields. Now the Soviet press announces awards of the Order of Lenin, the title Hero of Socialist Labor and other awards which have been granted to collective farmers for harvest successes.

KILLED BY TRAIN

DAYTON — (INS) — Montgomery county today recorded its 15th grade crossing victim of the year with the death of Willard Foust, 41, of near Dayton, who was killed when his auto was struck by a southbound Baltimore and Ohio passenger train north of the city.

Women Get Gift Tips

Fifty rural homemakers are going to give Richland county women tips on how to make Christmas decorations, wrappings, and gifts.

The group of instructors met Thursday at the Mansfield library to see demonstrations of how to make wreaths, table decorations, tree decorations, and place cards for family dinners and parties.

The women were shown how to wrap packages attractively by Mrs. Ben Valentine of Little Washington. Inexpensive gifts that can be made at home were exhibited. They included all kinds of gifts from popcorn balls to dolls with complete wardrobes.

Homemakers interested in the program may attend local meetings when they are announced. The following meetings have been scheduled for next week:

Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the Shiloh American Legion hall.

THE SCHOOL BOND ISSUE
TUESDAY - NOVEMBER 2nd

HERE'S WHAT YOU GET

PROSPECT
A new 13-room building will be constructed. Prospect school has also absorbed the new pupils from South Boulevards, necessitating a new and larger building on this site.

WOODLAND
Construction of a 7-room addition at Woodland school is planned. Although this is Mansfield's newest school building every possible bit of space is now being used. A combination gymnasium-auditorium will also be built.

MAPLE LAKE
Because of the shift of population a new 13-room classroom building will be erected south of Maple street and west of Marion avenue. This new school will care for some children in that particular area now in the Brinkerhoff district.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
A new physical education plant is to be built. The lighting system in the classrooms is to be modernized and the cafeteria will be enlarged.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
Recreation fields at Johnny Appleseed and John Simpson Junior high schools are to be leveled off, improved and landscaped so they can be used.

BOWMAN
An addition of 18 new classrooms at the east end of the building, making a modern 26-room school. This improvement includes a combination gymnasium and auditorium.

BRINKERHOFF
The present Brinkerhoff building will be abandoned and combined with the Carpenter school to establish a new building midway between these two schools. The new school will have 13 rooms, and a combined gymnasium-auditorium.

BUSHNELL
Bushnell school, in the midst of an industrial and commercial area, will be abandoned and its pupils sent to the new Hedges, Newman and West Fifth street schools.

CARPENTER
Carpenter school will be combined with the Brinkerhoff school to form a new 13-room school somewhere between the present locations of these two buildings.

HEDGES
Hedges school has a rather recent 8-room addition. The older section will be torn down and 11 new classrooms, gymnasium, auditorium and other facilities added to make a modern 17-room school.

PUBLIC LIBRARY
In order to meet the increased demands of registered book borrowers the library must have additional facilities and space. It is now working under conditions that were adequate in the early 1900's.

AT ONLY THIS COST

The School Bond Issue of $2,250,000 is going to cost less in terms of tax assessment than the cost of the Bond Issue in 1945. The assessment at that time was 17c per hundred dollars valuation a year. The proposed Bond Issue will cost only 15.34c per hundred per year and will raise more money.

Here's What's Already Been Done:

VOTED IN 1945 ..... $2,111,000

Re-education Of Germans Lengthy Job

Change Likely To Take Generation

LOUISVILLE, KY. — (AP) — "It will take at least a generation, maybe two to tell whether we can make democracy stick in Germany," says Dr. John W. Taylor, president of the University of Louisville.

Dr. Taylor, who started the program to re-educate Germans in the American occupation zone right after V-E day in 1945, has just returned from a series of conferences with German educators. Since leaving Germany in April 1947 he has been in almost constant consultation with the military government and returned in August to evaluate the results thus far.

While the educator feels that efforts to make German schools more democratic "are progressing as rapidly as expected, which is slow enough at best," he does not think the schools alone can democratize Germany. The chief aid to education, he says, will be a balanced economy.

"People have to feel that they are going to have enough to eat to be very eager for education in the first place," he said.

Observations on his last trip convinced Taylor that "A democratic spirit really is developing in Western Germany." Part of the basis for this improvement, he says, is a vastly improved economy. Part he credits to freedom of the press. Both "help to build democratic schools."

PRESS FREE AT LAST

"We must remember that Germans never knew freedom of the press before the western powers took over," Taylor said. "That doesn't mean just during the Hitler regime. Germany never had a free press before that, either."

When Dr. Taylor took charge of schools in the American zone three years ago the first step was to get rid of teachers with pronounced nazi leanings. Americans served as school superintendents in the cities. Then the schools were turned back to the Germans, but under American control.

German teachers were qualified with only two "don'ts"—don't teach naziism and don't teach militarism. They were given a brief statement of democratic principles, chief among them the insistence upon absolute equality of educational opportunity.

"Equal education for everyone is something Germans never have known," Dr. Taylor said. "Here again the problem was not merely to eliminate Hitler's methods and principles. It meant the tearing up by the roots of a school program which forced 90 per cent of the people to end their schooling at the age of 14."

DOUBLE STANDARD

That old aristocratic double standard of education has been even harder to eradicate than the teachings of Hitlerism, Taylor said. However, he says he found a fair degree of progress in that direction had been achieved in Hesse, Wuertemberg-Baden and the city-state of Bremen in the U. S. zone.

The fourth state, Bavaria, still couldn't bring itself to throw open secondary schools to the rank and file, despite a sharp warning when Taylor visited Munich last November.

On this last trip he got American authorities to issue a direct order to the Bavarian ministry of education to abolish tuition in high schools and furnish free text books.

Dr. Taylor says the German universities will be the next field where democracy must be introduced. He has given authorities in Germany his recommendations for a survey to gather facts and figures on higher education as it is getting into the task of democratizing Germany.

"I would say they (the universities) form the area of education in which there has been the least progress," he said. "But that's a horseback opinion from brief observation."

Rocky Road of Romance Leads to Mansfield

Vienna Beauty Finds Solace Here for Aching Heart

By IRVING LEIBOWITZ

Vienna's bright musical comedy starlet, 23-year-old Lottie Elwen, came to Mansfield to mend a broken heart.

The captivating Austrian singer ended a brief and stormy courtship with a famous orchestra leader last week in New York with a flight to the Mansfield home of her mother's childhood friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Scheuer, 120 Lind avenue.

Tonight Miss Elwen returns to New York for two Viennese concerts at Carnegie Hall and Hunter college.

A full week of partying in Mansfield homes has left her in high spirits, determined to face her American career on the stage with renewed vigor.

In Austria, the brown-haired, blue-eyed Lottie was known as one of the youngest and most talented Viennese stars of radio stage and screen.

Her last performance on the continent was as Sonja in the late Franz Lehar's immortal production of "Der Zarewitch." In the Dec. 30, 1946 edition of the Vienna Morning Press one reviewer said: "Lottie Elwen as Sonja captivated her audience with her beauty and excellent singing. Here is a real star!"

Not long before his death last Sunday, Franz Lehar, whose lilting light opera music is known and sung throughout the world, was high in praise of Miss Elwen. In a letter to her recently, the famous composer of "The Merry Widow" and "Springtime" told her he knew she would be a great success as an American singer.

Allowed to come to the United States last year with her mother under the Austrian immigration quota, Miss Elwen boasts that she is half-American. "I already have my first papers," she explains.

"Frankly," Lottie says, "my ambition is to be a Hollywood movie star and get married and have a house full of kids."

Just recently she turned down an offer from a Mexican motion picture company because "I want to be a success in Hollywood."

While waiting for a bid to the film capital, Miss Elwin divides her time singing with a Viennese troupe, acting in Broadway productions and working as a Conover model.

A little impatient at waiting for stardom, Lottie says about Hollywood: "I'm ready—but they're not."

Obviously fascinated by Mansfield, she told her mother's friend, Mrs. Scheuer, "I would like to come here someday and settle down." Her next visit to Mansfield will probably be Nov. 5 when she ends an engagement at the Shubert Theater in Chicago.

Mr. Scheuer, who with his wife fled the Nazi reign of terror in Austria to settle down as a Mansfield Tire worker, said he would like to have Lottie with him as a daughter for all time. Lottie calls Mrs. Scheuer "tante," the German word for aunt, and helps with the housework.

General Slim Demands Intelligence

British Army Chief Rose From Ranks

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON—(AP)—General Sir William Joseph Slim, who succeeds Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery as chief of the British Imperial General staff, demands penetrating intelligence and broad wisdom from his officers.

Associates of the old 14th Army who helped smash the Japanese in Burma recall his handling of an airforce problem to demonstrate the kind of intelligence he expects.

Eager airmen reported they were in a position to destroy the headquarters of the Japanese General Sato in Burma and they wanted the word to go.

"Never," said General Slim. "It would be a disaster to Britain if General Sato were killed. He is so stupid that I want him directing the other side."

General Slim believed the enemy should be helped and encouraged to defeat himself.

In General Slim Britain will have a Chief of Staff who is thoroughly familiar with modern warfare. Victor over three Japanese armies in Burma, he moved whole divisions over the jungle by air to strike swiftly at vulnerable spots.

Long before the Berlin Airlift General Slim demonstrated it could be done by supplying by air tens of thousands of troops in isolated positions with everything they needed.

BELIEVES IN INFANTRY

But despite his swift accommodation to changing ways in a changing world he retains some well-established notions about war and the British.

He believes in the infantry. He believes in the stubbornness of the British and their refusal to get scared.

"The British are no braver than Germans, Frenchmen or Italians," he once said, "But they are brave a bit longer."

He believed the new generation of British citizens is the "best generation we have every bred and it should achieve great things."

He hates war and believes that, despite present discouragements, the world will manage to find a better way.

General Slim, 57, gray, balding, his iron moustache clipped like an English hedge, upsets some traditions in the war office. He came up from the ranks. He has no public school background. He has been the victim of discipline a number of times.

He lost his stripes as a lance corporal—in the first world war when he stepped out of a marching column to take a glass of beer offered him by a Belgian woman.

DISREGARDS RED TAPE

Another time was more recent, when he ordered 50,000 parachutes from an indian manufacturer without asking the war office. He needed the parachutes in a hurry and by-passed the regulations. It turned out all right, and the indian manufacturer got his money, because the parchutes won a campaign. But the general was reproved in the course of some bristling correspondence.

Associates say General Slim is an efficient administrator, and personally a shy officer of vivid imagination he gets things done by going to the point. Day and night he demands intelligence, and insists that it be applied to all military and administrative problems.

Courage he takes for granted. Courage, General Slim believes, has two distinct aspects. One is physical courage, which he said, the Japanese had beyond measure.

But he thinks they lacked moral courage—the honesty to say to themselves that they had made a mistake, to admit it to superior officers and to try something else.

General Slim demands both kinds of courage. A competent people, he said, must have physical and moral courage in proper balance.

After the war General Slim retired from the Army. He became deputy chairman of the railway executive, which operates Britian's nationalized railroads. He has to take a substantical reduction in pay to become the military successor to field Marshal Montgomery.

Pennsylvania leads the nation in 50 major industries, yet has a billion-dollar farm-industry.

Coronation Set At Loudonville

LOUDONVILLE — The junior class of the Loudonville high school will sponsor the annual homecoming dance next Friday evening in the school gymnasium following the football game between Loudonville and Millersburg.

Charlie Parsons orchestra will provide music until 12:30. Highlight of the dance will be the coronation of the homecoming queen Miss Verdabelle Wise, by Marilyn Hoker, retiring queen. The gym will be decorated in royal blue crepe paper with silver crowns. The general public and the alumni are invited to attend.

Verdabelle and her escort Richard Pinkley, captain of this year's football squad will lead the grand march.

But He Won't Appear In a 'Swan Song'

Eddie Cantor to Bid Screen Farewell

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) —The life and times of comedian Eddie Cantor soon will be immortalized on film.

It will be Eddie's last picture.

Eddie won't even appear in the movie personally. His voice, singing 14 or 15 of the dozens of songs he made popular, will be dubbed in. Another actor, as yet unselected, will play the title role.

So even in his "swan song," Eddie—who first turned the spotlight on such personalities as Deanna Durbin, Gracie Allen and Dinah Shore—will be helping another unknown to stardom.

"You'll never see me in another picture," says Eddie. "After all, I'm almost 56 years old. I'll continue with my radio show, but only for two very special reasons:

"One. Eddie Cantor, retired, couldn't raise half as much money for charity as could Eddie Cantor, the radio comedian.

"Two, anyone—regardless of who it is—who can make people laugh in these times has no right to quit completely."

The movie of Cantor's life will go into production early next year at Warner Brothers. Eddie is working out the story line with script writers.

"This movie is very important to me," says Eddie. "It's the sort of thing I'd like people to remember me by. I've wanted to make this movie for years—not because it's about me—but because it's a typically American story.

"Any little orphaned waif, if he is fortunate enough to be born in this country, can look at this movie and say, 'that could happen to me, too.'"

A good third of the movie will be devoted to Eddie's grandbother, Mrs. Esther Cantor, who died 31 years ago. She took over the job of rearing Eddie, whose name then was Izzy Iskowitch, when he was orphaned as an infant.

"She was a widow at 22," says Eddie, "and she never took another husband. She used to tell me, 'if God had wanted me to have a husband he wouldn't have taken this one away.' So all the love and affection she might have given to a husband were given instead to me.

"I used to tell her that some day I would be a big actor and make everything up to her, but she would shake her head. 'It isn't something you owe to me, Eddie,' she would say. 'Love is a debt you owe to all people.'"

Eddie was born and reared on New York's East side. His grandmother was poor and one of the earliest highlights of Eddie's life was his annual trip to a summer camp at Cold Springs, N. Y., maintained for street urchins such as himself.

"The kids were supposed to have a two-week vacation there, but because I could sing a little, and dance and tell a few jokes, they would let me stay sometimes as long as six weeks.

"Grandmother worrie some about that. 'They let you stay six weeks, Eddie,' she would ask, 'and the other boys only get two weeks? Well, then, boy, you owe something to that camp.'"

That's another debt that Eddie hasn't forgotten. In the last 25 years he has been instrumental in turning that camp into one of the finest of its kind in the world.

Science Seeks to Slash Baby Mortality In U. S.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE, AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK—(AP)—Each year in this country nearly 150,000 babies are born dead, or live only a few weeks.

Each year, by conservative estimate, at least 400,000 women lose their babies by miscarriage.

These are greater losses in human life than the annual toll from heart disease, cancer, or any other single disease. In most cases, medical science doesn't know why they occur, or how to prevent them.

"Liberty poles or flag poles went up all over the country," Tuttle reminisced. "They were real poles, too, not like this sapling we've got up down here in Central park.

"The little town I lived in (Tuttle's a native of Geneva in Ashtabula county) cut down a good-sized tree and made it into a pole. They put a top mast on it and capped it with a big flag raising ceremony.

"They had a big political meeting at Jefferson, the county seat of Ashtabula county, and they gave prizes to those who would bring the most people from the townships.

"I remember my father and a neighbor hooked up a four-horse team on a wagon and took anyone who wanted to ride along. It was about 17 miles to Jefferson. And it was said in Dorset township that no one was left at home that day but an old lady who couldn't get out of her chair," he added with a chuckle.

TUTTLE STAYED HOME

"I wasn't allowed to go along. I was 11 and boys of 11 stayed home to milk the cows."

But Tuttle heard all the details from his father and "over 11" youths who were permitted to make the trip.

"The procession to Jefferson was miles long. Every once in a while a guerrilla outfit—that was an unofficial cavalry—would ride out of a field or wood and surprise the procession.

"I don't remember so much about Grant's campaign as a political campaign but I know he was elected in 1868, again in 1872 and wanted to be again in 1876—but the people wouldn't stand for that third term."

Tuttle believes the famed torchlight processions started with the Hayes campaign in 1876. He recalls how the paraders would dress in little red and black caps and capes and hold their oil lamps high in the crowds that stretched for miles.

The "real campaign" of his memory, though, was the Garfield band wagon of 1880.

"Garfield was practically my neighbor," Tuttle said. "He had been congressman from our district and about the time he ran for president he bought the big farm at Mentor where the family home is now.

'REAL CAMPAIGNING!'

"The land at the farm slopes down to the New York Central railroad tracks and during his campaign the railroad would run a special train for people who wanted to see Garfield. They'd run right up the main track, stop at the farm and the people would walk about a quarter of a mile up to the house to shake hands with Garfield.

"That was real campaigning!"

As Tuttle remembers Garfield, the 20th president of the United States "was quite a mixer."

"He'd drive his horse down to Painsville and sit on a keg of nails and chat with the fellows while his horse was shod."

When Garfield was fatally shot in the Washington depot the funeral was set for Cleveland. Tuttle attended.

"I saw all the big men of the nation there in the two days I was at the funeral — Sherman, Sheridan. Garfield's body laid in state in the square. The biggest show I've ever seen in my life I saw from a fence on Euclid avenue the day of the funeral."

Tuttle became active in political sponsorship in 1884 when James G. Blaine ran on his party's platform. Tuttle chuckles when he recalls the grey top hats the "Blaine of Maine" club members wore in keeping with their candidate's choice of headgear. Grover Cleveland, however, was the victor on the Democratic ticket.

THINGS QUIET DOWN

"Things began to quiet down after Harrison was elected in 1888, "Tuttle continued. "The campaigns weren't as interesting as they were in the early part of the century."

The best exhibition of campaigning Tuttle saw after the Harrison administration was the Mark Hanna-directed McKinley campaign in 1896 when a thousand men were taken from the Cleveland docks and marched up Euclid avenue with dinner buckets in hand. The slogan for the procession was "full dinner buckets."

"That alone elected McKinley," Tuttle stated.

"There used to be lots of noise, lots of interest and even neighborhood fights when election year rolled around. Now, you wouldn't know there was a campaign going on. I really can't remember, in this century, a real political campaign like we used to have in the '80's and '90's."

Tuttle's had a taste of political life himself. He's pretty proud of his record of 20 years as township clerk in Perry, Lake county. And he also can boast of a school teaching career and 30 years in sales. Five years ago Tuttle came to Mansfield to make his home with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Tuttle of the Sherman avenue address

Ohio Rates as Pivotal State In Election

Republican Ticket

Thomas J. Herbert (R)
for . . . Governor of Ohio

Governor Herbert, 58, now completing his first term as Ohio's chief executive, is seeking re-election on the basis of his record. Long active in Republican politics, Herbert served three terms as attorney general. He is a native of Cleveland, a lawyer by profession, and a veteran of World War I. Father of three children, he lost his first wife, who died in 1944. He was remarried last January.

Both Parties Make Strong Ballot Bids

Governor Race Holds Spotlight

Ohio, always a political question mark, again ranks as a pivotal state in the Tuesday election.

By tradition Ohio is an on-the-fence state which swings one way and then another in accordance with the voting trend. Republicans and Democrats alike have exerted a strenuous effort to win the 25 Buckeye electoral votes.

President Harry S. Truman and his Republican rival, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, buth swung into the state during the past week in a final effort to tip the balance.

Running a close second to the presidential battle in public interest is the GOP-Demo duel for control of state offices. Highlight of the state contest is the race of Governor Thomas J. Herbert against the Democrat he unseated two years ago, Ex-Governor Frank J. Lausche.

Both are veteran campaigners from politically potent Cleveland.

At present the Republicans are firmly entrenched in the Ohio statehouse. They also hold control of the state legislature.

Lausche made a strong attempt to stem the tide. He did not succeed, but lost by only 40,553 votes, a scant margin in a statewide election.

GOP leaders are claiming 1948 will be another Republican year in Ohio. But the governorship race is rated as a close one of the same type as the nip-and-tuck contest of two years ago.

Term of the new governor will begin Jan. 10, 1949, and will end the second Monday in January, 1951.

The salary for the state's chief executive will be increased $3,000 by action already taken by the state legislature. This will bring the total to $13,000 annually.

The state also maintains a 27-room executive mansion in Columbus for the governor and pays for salaries of servants. A grant of $28,960 was voted to maintain the mansion during 1947-48.

It is the power of the office, however, that attracts the candidates and the parties which back them. Campaign expenditures far exceed the salary paid to the winner.

Ohio Democrats, seeking to offset past Republican gains, are pushing Lausche with more enthusiam than usual. In the past he has not been a favorite with the "old guard" politicians.

Republican strategists are using this change in an attempt to solidify GOP support for Governor Herbert, contending this will give him certain victory in his bid for re-election.

THOMAS E. DEWEY

HARRY S. TRUMAN
(DEMOCRAT)

HENRY A. WALLACE
(PROGRESSIVE)

ONE WINNER — One of the three men pictured to the left will be selected Tuesday as President of the United States. Public opinion polls have given the edge to New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican. But President Harry S. Truman, Democrat, has conducted an effective and vigorous campaign for re-election, refusing to be counted out. Henry A. Wallace, Progressive, attempting to buck the two major parties, hopes for a "good showing" total to establish his party as a future force in U.S. politics. There are other candidates serving as the standard bearers of minor parties, such as the Socialist and Prohibition parties. These have scant bearing on the outcome of the election.

Democratic Ticket

Frank J. Lausche (D)
for . . . Governor of Ohio

Frank J. Lausche, 53, on the comeback trail for the governorship, first won public attention as a judicial campaigner against gambling in his home city of Cleveland. He later was elected mayor, then twice re-elected. He resigned to run for governor in 1944. He was elected, only to be defeated two years later by his Republican opponent. Lausche is a World War I veteran. Married, he has no children.

Paul M. Herbert (R)
for . . . Lieutenant Governor

Paul Herbert—no kin of Governor Herbert—is seeking his fifth two-year term as lieutenant governor. A lawyer, aged 59, he is a resident of Columbus, is married and has two children. He is a World War I veteran.

Edward J. Hummel (R)
for . . . Secretary of State

A persistent fellow, Edward J. Hummel, 66-year-old Cincinnati bachelor ran nine times for secertary of state before he was finally elected in 1942. He is now aiming at his fourth straight two-year term in the same office.

Don H. Ebright (R)
for . . . Treasurer of State

Don H. Ebright, 46, of Columbus has his eyes on the governorship, but is biding his time. For the present, he is seeking his sixth two-year term as state treasurer. A canny vote-getter, he has proven himself a consistent winner. Married, he has two children.

Three State Judges Up For Re-election

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Three of the present seven supreme court judges are up for re-election this year, but only two of them are faced with opposition.

Judge Edward C. Turner, of Columbus, 76-year-old dean of the state's highest tribunal, is opposed in his bid for a second full six-year term—actually his third term—by Charles H. "Timeclock" Hubbell, stormy-petrel Cleveland Democrat.

Judge Robert M. Sohngen, of Hamilton, appointed to the court by former Gov. Frank J. Lausche, is opposed in his bid for his first full term by Kingsley A. Taft, Cleveland Republican who served a nine-day term in the U. S. Senate two years ago.

KINGSLEY A. TAFT

ROBERT M. SOHNGEN

Only Judge James Garfield Stewart, former mayor of Cincinnati who was appointed to the high court by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, is unopposed as he seeks re-election to the four-year unexpired term of Judge Charles S. Bell. Bell resigned from the high court because of ill health to accept less arduous duties on the Hamilton county Common Pleas court.

Although they run on a "non-partisan" ballot on which their political affiliations are not mentioned, each of the three relies on party support. Judges Turner and Stewart are Republicans; Judge Sohngen is a Democrat.

Judge Sohngen, a native of Hamilton, was appointed state liquor director in 1946 by Governor Lausche, where he served until he retired to accept appointment to the high court.

Kingsley A. Taft — no relation of Ohio's senior senator — is a 44-year-old Cleveland who was educated in Cleveland Heights schools, Amherst college and Harvard law school. He practiced law in Cleveland from 1929 until 1942, when he entered the armed forces. Meanwhile he had served a single term in the Ohio House of Representatives.

In 1946 he was elected to a short term — only nine days — in the U. S. Senate. He is married and has four sons.

Under Ohio's election laws the judges run for specific terms. To keep the records straight, the terms are designated as beginning Jan. 1 or Jan. 2.

(For Additional Election News See Page 16)

Harry V. Armstrong (D)
for . . . Treasurer of State

Harry A. Armstrong, Lucas county farmer, has twice tried, and failed to win the office originally held by his great-grandfather, who was the state's first treasurer from 1796 to 1803. Still hopeful, Armstrong is trying again this election.

Charles F. Sweeney (D)
for . . . Secretary of State

Charles F. Sweeney, 62, Erie county farmer, lost the race for secretary of state last time, but is trying again. Sweeney previously served four terms in the Ohio House of Representatives. He is a native of Richland county.

George D. Nye (D)
for . . . Lieutenant Governor

"Judge" Nye, 50, native of Pike county, was elected lieutenant governor in 1944, after being twice nominated previously. He won the nomination again in 1946, but was defeated by Paul Herbert. A lawyer, he is married and has one daughter.

Roger W. Tracy (R)
for . . . Auditor of State

Roger W. Tracy, 45, Columbus, has not previously held a state elective office, but is the son of a former state auditor, Joseph T. Tracy. He has had long experience as an auditor in state, city and army work. He is married, has two sons.

Hugh S. Jenkins (R)
for . . . Attorney General

A veteran public official, Hugh S. Jenkins is now a candidate for his third term as attorney general. Born in Youngstown 45 years ago, Jenkins worked his way through school to obtain a law degree. He is married, has two sons.

George H. Bender (R)
for . . . Representative to Congress (At Large)

A power in Cuyahoga county Republican circles, George H. Bender, 52, served five terms in the Ohio Senate, followed by five terms in the U. S. House of Representatives, the fifth of which he is now serving. Married, he has two daughters.

Stephen M. Young (D)
for . . . Representative to Congress (At Large)

Stephen M. Young, a veteran of both world wars, has served three times as congressman-at-large, the terms covering years 1933 to 1937 and again from 1941 to 1943. A resident of Cleveland, he is a lawyer by profession.

Herbert S. Duffy (D)
for . . . Attorney General

Long a leader in Ohio Democratic circles, Herbert S. Duffy, 48, a Columbus lawyer, has been nominated for several offices. He was elected attorney general in 1936, and served one term, being defeated in his bid for re-election.

Joseph T. Ferguson (D)
for . . . Auditor of State

The state's chief bookkeeper, Joseph T. Ferguson, is the lone Democrat office holder in the statehouse. "Little Joe," aged 57, of Barberton, is running for his fourth consecutive four-year term as state auditor. He's married, has eight children.

NUPTIAL CEREMONY HELD IN CRESTLINE CHURCH

CRESTLINE—Miss Iola Mae Michael, of Ashland, formerly of Crestline, became the bride of James Baughman, of New London, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Koch, East Main street, Oct. 17, at the First Methodist church here.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Lasley, retired Baptist minister of Loudonville, before an altar decorated with palms, ferns, mums and four seven-branch candelabra. Mrs. Walter Lasley, of Ashland was soloist and Mrs. Dewey Jackson, of Crestline, was organist.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, C. A. Heffelfinger, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin redingote over marquisette, with long pointed sleeves, and a full draped skirt falling into a long train. Her full length silk illusion veil was trimmed with chantilly lace of heart design, secured to a tiara of pearl shell and crystal beads. She carried a white Bible topped with a white rose.

Mrs. Harry Bauer of Crestline, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Mick, of Tiffin, and Miss Lola VanDemask, of Ashland. Little Dianna Pesek, of Bucyrus, was flower girl.

The attendants' gowns were fashioned similar to that of the bride. The maid of honor wore Roman gold taffeta, a gold braid head band and carried a bouquet of yellow mums. The bridesmaids gowns were coronation green taffeta with matching tiaras and mitts and they carried bouquets of copper chrysanthemums. The flower girl wore a yellow gown resembling the bridesmaids.'

Karl Blocker, Crestline, was best man, and Harry Bauer, Richard Ditwiler and Frank and Richard Sheley were ushers.

A reception followed the wedding at the home of the bride's grandfather, C. A. Heffelfinger, Church boulevard. A large tiered cake centered the table, surrounded by mums and yellow tapers in crystal holders at both ends.

The bride chose a smoke grey corduroy suit with black accessories as her traveling costume. After a trip through the Smoky Mountains, they will reside at New London, Conn.

The bride is the daughter of the late Dr. Frank Michael, of Akron, and Mrs. Pauline Michael, a school teacher in Crestline. She lived here with her grandfather, and later moved to Ashland where she lived with Mr. and Mrs. Lasley. She was graduated from the Crestline high school, and Henry Ford hospital School of Nursing and Hygiene and has been employed for the past two years at the Samaritan hospital, Ashland.

The groom is a graduate of Crestline high school and is in continued Navy service with the USS Finebeck submarine.

Social Items From Our Neighbors

CRESTLINE — Honoring her husband on his 72nd birthday anniversary, Mrs. Elzey Weaver entertained their children and families at their home on West Main street Oct. 24.

Covers were laid for sixteen and the table was centered with a large birthday cake. The remainder of the day was spent socially. Those present were from Mansfield and Crestline.

LOUDONVILLE — Miss June Stitzlein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stitzlein, of Loudonville, was married October 10 to Robert Lozier, of Perrysville. The ceremony was held at the Zion Lutheran church with the Rev. H. T. Grabar officiating.

Harold Lozier, Perrysville, served his brother as best man, while Miss Shirley Ann Reiker, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. A reception following the wedding was held in the social rooms of the church. Mrs. Lozier is employed in the printing department of the Flxible company and the groom works at the Mansfield Sanitary Pottery at Perrysville. The couple will reside temporarily with the bride's parents.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES RORICK

MR. AND MRS. LEO F. SCOTT

Martel Couple Wed 50 Years

GALION — Another couple of this vicinity to have a golden wedding anniversary is Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rorick of Martel, Marion county, nine miles southwest of Galion. Open house will be observed this afternoon at their home in Martel between the hours of two and six p. m. The occasion also will be marked mith a family dinner at 12:30 p. m. at Hotel Harding, Marion.

Natives of Marion county, Mr. and Mrs. Rorick were married on Oct. 27, 1898, at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Caledonia, with the Rev. E. J. Booth officiating. Mrs. Rorick is the former Margaret Burkhart, daughter of John and Catherine Burkhart.

Until Mr. Rorick retired from farming 12 years ago, the couple had always lived on the Rorick homestead northwest of Martel where they started housekeeping. Since his retirement, they have lived in Martel.

Mr. and Mrs. Rorick have three children: Harold of Elyria, Ohio; Mrs. J. Grove Amos of St. Clairsville, Ohio, and Paul of Galion. They also have four grandchildren.

Celebrate Anniversary

CRESTLINE — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Solinger were surprised at their home on North Seltzer street Saturday evening, when a group of 25 relatives and friends gathered there to help them celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Refreshments were served by the guests which included a decorated wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Solinger are the parents of two children, Mrs. Lester Neild and Max Solinger, both of Crestline and they have one grandson.

Those present were from Galion, Mansfield and Crestline.

Nuptial Vows Solemnized In Quiet Church Ceremony

ASHLAND—A quiet ceremony, Tuesday evening, Oct. 19, at St. Edward's Catholic church, Ashland, solemnized the vows exchanged between Miss Florence Walters, daughter of Mrs. L. E. Trimble, 236 Vine street, and Pfc. Michael Glasser, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Glasser, 1121 Elm street. The Rev. Father Vincent Jones officiated.

For her wedding, the bride was attractively attired in a two-piece dress of navy blue and baby blue cashmere. She wore navy blue accessories and a corsage of dee p pink roses. Miss Sylvia Glasser, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. She wore a baby pink two-piece corduroy suit with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was white rosebuds. Frank Glasser, the groom's brother, served as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the groom's home. The table was decorated with burning tapers at each end, and a three tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, formed the centerpiece. The cake was decorated in white with pink buds.

The bride attended school in Mansfield, later moving with her parents to Ashland, where she was graduated from Ashland high school. She is presently employed as a teletype operator at the Ashland Times Gazette. The groom attended Ashland schools and is now serving with the U. S. Marines. He is stationed at Camp La Jeune, N. C.

PAVONIA HOMEMAKERS

PAVONIA — Pavonia Homemakers and 4-H club met Saturday evening for a Halloween party at the home of Evelyn Boggs, Ashland road. Sixteen members and one guest attended. Contests were won by Fara Hyatt, Betty Au and Marjorie Fletcher. Refreshments were served later.

Couple Marks Fiftieth Year

BUCYRUS—Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Scott, 824 South Poplar street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday with a family dinner at the home of their eldest daughter Mrs. Franklin Frasch, 565 South Spring street.

Mrs. Scott, the former Hattie B. Rickseckerer, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Greanberry Rickseckerer of Mansfield, was married to Mr. Scott October 30, 1898 at the parsonage of the Rev. Thomas Monette. They have lived all their married lives in the vicinity of Bucyrus where Mr. Scott was engaged in farming until 1944.

They are the parents of 12 children, three of whom are Mansfielders: Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. Ernest Yoakam and Milford Scott. Melvin, Erby, Elwood and Bobby Scott and Mrs. Steven Katava, of Bucyrus; Don Scott, of Gulfport, Miss., and Leo Scott jr., of Dayton.

Open house will be observed today from 2. to 5 p. m. at 824 South Poplar street.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

PAVONIA—Twenty-six members of the fifth through eighth grades of the Pavonia schools attended a Halloween party Tuesday evening at the school house. Games and contests were led by the teacher, Mrs. Wilma Dudley. Prize for the funniest costume was won by Kenneth Au, and Martha Elder won the prize for the prettiest. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Nuptial Vows Read In Galion

GALION—The Rev. Alva Taylor officiated at the Market Street Methodist church where he is pastor, for the marriage, Oct. 16, of his sister-in-law Miss Freeda Brown of Mt. Gilead, and Charles B. Dailey of Medina. The double ring service was read.

Lavender and white were the colors carried out in the altar decorations. Two beauty baskets held chrysanthemums and gladioli, in addition to a smaller basket of the same flowers. Jane Metz was at the piano fof a program of nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Fred Brown, was attired in a street-length dress of aqua shade. She had a corsage of pink roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Alva Taylor who wore a light rose dress and had a corsage of gardenias. Buford Brown, brother of the bride, was best man.

There were 18 guests present for a reception for the immediate familiès. This was held at the parsonage. After a short honeymoon, the couple will live on Liberty street in Medina. The bride has been associated with the Medina hospital.

A two-course luncheon was served.

Self Employed Women Thrive on Independence

ZORA WEIMER . . . . . Weimer's Figure Perfection Studio

TERESA PEIFFER . . . Jones Memorial

Mansfielders Like Working For Themselves

By MARIAN WEST

AN interesting fact recently released by the census bureau is that nearly 325,000 women executives were self-employed and ran their own businesses during 1946, and all but 9,000 made a go of it. To counterbalance the 9,000 who lost money, however, are another 9,000 women who confessed to making $10,000 or more during the year.

This made me think immediately of the numerous Mansfield women who are self-employed, and I dashed over to see three whom I know have been in business for at least 15 years.

Zora Weimer, of Weimer's Figure Perfection studio, 5 Park avenue west, greeted me with a cherry "hello" and then went about her business of removing undesirable poundage from portions of female bodies. Left on my own, I began to snoop around.

Women in all stages of undress floated through the suite of rooms and shouted messages to one another as though at an afternoon social.

"I like to keep the atmosphere as informal as possible. I know it doesn't appear business-like, but it's a lot more fun, which pays in the end," Mrs. Weimer commented.

One girl sat in a steam cabinet, perspiring freely, and watching pedestrians and traffic on Main street through the open window. Another was lying on a movable cot, entangled in a web of wires which jolted flab into muscle by means of a continuous electrical charge.

I called to Mrs. Weimer, who told me that this machine would effect the equivalent of a 20 mile walk in 40 minutes, with no strain on the heart or pressure. It was originally used for paraletic patients.

Mrs. Weimer, tall, slim—blond and attractive—is a walking advertisement for this most feminine of businesses. She bought the salon from her cousin, the late Mrs. E. S. Bird of Akron, who operated several throughout the state. For the past 15 years, she has been the sole owner, and during that time hundreds of women have passed through these portals in quest of illusive beauty.

"And I'm proud to report that eight have lost 100 pounds apiece," Mrs. Weimer said.

Not only does she attempt to rectify the malformations of the torso, but the face is also given a good "going-over." A facial machine, which operates on the same principle as the beautiform, works on the motor and sensory nerves in the facial tissue and will either "kill you or cure you," according to my own experience. After a number of prescribed treatments, lines are allegedly erased and facial formation can be improved.

MILDRED D. PERRY . . . Insurance broker

I asked a few of the women why they attended the school, and aside from figure renovation, one of the answers was, "I come here because it gives me a lift. I have been ailing, and have visited doctors for the past 18 or 20 years, but since I've been taking these treatments, I've never felt better in my life."

As a contrast from caring for the bodies of the living, I visited Miss Teresa Peiffer, of the Jones Memorial, 681 Park avenue west. For 20 years Miss Peiffer has been secretary of this corporation of which John S. Jones is president.

Her work here is an outgrowth of an unfulfilled desire to become a nurse. She cares for the bodies of the women and children—arranging their hair and clothing.

When asked how her profession affected her emotionally, Miss Peiffer said, "It's sad, but yet it is a service to the living." Through her close alliance with the dead, she has come to look upon death as a form of victory.

Miss Peiffer is in charge of the countless family records of everyone whom they have ever served. In addition, she has an "unusual artistic temperament" according to Mr. Jones, anr arranges all floral offerings.

I asked her about the economic aspect of being an executive, and she said "A financial interest in a job, causes you to do things differently. You work longer and harder but with the realization that eventually there will be ample reward."

The insurance business is Mildred D. Perry's particular forte. For approximately 15 years she has been the licensed insurance broker at the LeRoy Parsons Insurance agency, 17½ North Main street. Formerly employed by the late Mr. Parsons, when he died she inherited his business.

Mrs. Perry is the only woman in this community with an established agency. But she feels no qualms at being a woman in a man's field.

"In the first place, there is so much detail," she said, "that I can see where a woman would adjust perfectly to this type work. It isn't confining, and it's fun meeting and talking to people," she added.

When asked about her experiences the only comment she made was, "I could write a book, but I wouldn't dare. After all, I have to live in Mansfield."

All three women hold numerous executive posts in national and local organizations and are members of the Soroptimist International Association American Federation.

'Musical Therapy' To Be Given By Founder of Research Group

MRS. FRANCES PAPERTE, wife of R. E. Burger, president and general manager of the Ohio Public Service, will be the guest speaker at the open meeting of the Music Study club Monday evening at 7:45 in the auditorium of the First Methodist church.

"Musical Therapy" will be the topic presented by Mrs. Paperte, founder of Music Research Foundation.

A non-profit organization, the Music Research Foundation plans to offer veterans of World War II, the first benefits of scientifically applied music. Plans have been under way to train approximately 100 units to carry out this work through departments of applied music. This will also be of value to civilian hospitals and state institutions.

First of all we must ask ourselves:—Why do we break down under nervous strain? The reason is to be found in the structure of the brain. In the middle of that mass lies the thalamus, which is about as big as a walnut and is the seat of such emotions as passion, anger, anxiety, fear and love. It is a very old part of the brain. Much newer are the cortex of the brain and the prefrontal lobes we do our thinking and our predicting. It is their function to control the thalamus, which is an invention of nature's to arouse us when we are hungry or angry, or to put us on our guard when danger lurks.

When soldiers are unable to think straight under fire, when they come out of action convinced that they are being persecuted or that someone has poisoned their food, the thalamus has overpowered the prefrontal lobes. Something must be done to restore command over the thalamus, if we are not to live in a world of illusion.

Music can prod the thalamus and arouse pleasant emotions. That is why a sentimental song will make some of us weep and why military marches thrill us. Attention is aroused. And once it is aroused it can be held by other means to bring the mind back to reality.

How this really applies with patients will be explained by the speaker, who is so familiar with this work. Only a free-will offering will be taken for this program which is open to the public. Included on the program will be musical numbers by several of the city's leading musicians.

LUNCHEON MEETING

Temple Emanuel sisterhood will hold a luncheon and business meeting Nov. 2, at 1 p. m. at the temple on Cook road. Hostesses will be Mrs. Lewis Goodman and Mrs. Harold Newman, both of Galion. Miss Chamilla Beauchamp, home economist at Westinghouse Electric corporation, will be guest speaker.

LUNCHEON BRIDGE AT ELKS GRILL

A delightful luncheon bridge was enjoyed by the members of the Tuesday Bridge club at their regular meeting Monday. The affair was given by Mrs. W. A. Hambleton of Douglas avenue, at the Elks Griss. Covers were laid for twelve guests and cards bearing Halloween devices marked the place for each one. A bowl of beautiful pom-pon chrysanthemums in shades of bronze and gold graced the center of the round table. Following the luncheon, bridge occupied the guests during the afternoon. Mrs. J. L. McBee made the high score and was the recipient of the gift. In two weeks Mrs. C. C. Beelman, of Park avenue west, will be the hostess to the club.

ANOTHER COURTESY FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Another courtesy for Miss Esther Yuncker, bride-elect, was that of Tuesday evening when Miss Marie Kalbfleisch was hostess to a number of the young women friends of the hostess and Miss Yuncker. The affair was in the nature of a surprise to the bride, as each of the guests was attired to represent either a bride or groom and was masked. White chrysanthemums were used in decoration of the rooms. Music and contests were enjoyed and a gift was presented to Misses Flood and Tucker for making the correct guesses in the latter. A lovely picture was presented to Miss Yuncker by her hostess. At the close of the happy evening, a luncheon with dainty appointments was served. This evening, Mrs. Earle Troll is entertaining in compliment to Miss Yuncker, at her home on West Fourth street.

Sneeringer-Berger Vows Exchanged at Catholic Church

MRS. HUGH ELMER BERGER —Photo by Buell-Kraft

MISS JANE ILENE SNEERINGER, daughter of R. E. Sneeringer, 501 Sloane avenue, became the bride of Hugh Elmer Berger, son of Mrs. Mary E. Berger, 240 Superior street, Oct. 16, at 9:30 a. m. in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church. Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The nuptials were spoken before an altar decorated with pink gladioli and yellow pompons and palms.

Raymond Baum presided at the organ for the program of nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess style gown made with a tight fitting bodice and sheer neckline, bordered in satin. The long sleeves came to points over the hands. The full skirt fell into a long train. A colonial illusion French bonnet held the finger tip veil in place.

Miss Sneeringer carried a white rosebud corsage on a prayer book.

Mrs. Richard Kramer of Bowling Green, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a colonial aqua taffeta gown made with a drop shoulder neckline. The full skirt was caught in three places in the front revealing a hooped lace petticoat. She wore an aqua ostrich feather colonial bonnet. Mrs. Kramer carried a bouquet of yellow carnations, tied with yellow ribbons. The junior bridesmaid, Patricia Walsh, niece of the bride, wore a yellow taffeta colonial gown with a ruffle collar and puffed sleeves. The full skirt was patterned like the matron of honor's. She wore a yellow taffeta colonial bonnet of ostrich feathers. Her bouquet was of aqua carnations tied with matching ribbon.

The bridegroom's mother wore a black crepe dress with powder blue accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Raymond E. Dillon, close friend of the couple, served as best man.

Donald Sneeringer, brother of the bride, and Albert M. Berger, brother of the bridegroom, escorted the guests to their pews.

A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride immediately following the ceremony. Twenty-five guests were in attendance. From 2 to 4 p. m. that afternoon a reception for 75 guests was held at Prospect park. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and groom. Pink gladioli and yellow pompons decorated the table.

When the couple left for a honeymoon through the northeastern states and Canada, the new Mrs. Berger was wearing a brown suit with dark green accessories. She wore a white rosebud corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and is employed at the Citizens National Bank and Trust company. Mr. Berger graduated from St. Peter's Catholic high school. He is an employe of the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Out-of-town guests present at the wedding were from Sycamore, Bowling Green and Cleveland.

Miss McCartney To Be Wed On November 20

Nov. 20 has been chosen by Miss Dorothy McCartney for her marriage to Dale McKinley. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lillian McCartney, 26 South Adams street, and John McCartney of Galion. Mr. McKinley is the son of Mrs. Warren McKinley, 62 South Willis avenue.

The nuptial vows will be exchanged in the First English Lutheran church with the Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell officiating, at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Norma Nadasan, sister of the bride, will serve as matron of honor. Ray McKinley, the bridegroom's brother, will be the best man.

Miss McCartney is employed in the advertising department of Westinghouse Electric corporation. Mr. McKinley is employed at the Gorman-Rupp company. He served five years in the Army Air Forces, three years overseas in the central and South Pacific.

Mansfielder Weds Shelby Girl Oct. 23

Miss Marie Gwendolyn Lloyd, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd R. Lloyd, 12 Mansfield avenue, Shelby, and Carl Schuchmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schuchmann, 42 Harker street, were united in marriage Oct. 23 at 2:30 p. m. at the Most Pure Heart of Mary church, Shelby, with Rev. M. McFadden officiating.

The young couple wore suits, made of the same material, and the bride's accessories were of burgundy and she wore an orchid corsage. Miss Rita Sherman was bridesmaid, attired in a burgundy suit and orchid corsage. Floyd R. Lloyd jr., brother of the bride, served as best man.

At the close of the service a reception was held at the Sky club for the immediate families. The three-tiered wedding cake and an arrangement of white mums centered the table.

Following a wedding trip to New England states the couple will reside at their new home, 1025 Woodlawn road, Mansfield. For traveling the bride wore a three-piece tweed suit. She attended Shelby high school and was graduated from St. Vincent Charity School of Nursing, Cleveland. Mr. Schuchmann attended Mansfield high school.

Guests were in attendance from Rochester, N. Y., Harriman, N. Y., and Detroit, Mich.

No method for determining the longitude of a ship at sea was discovered until early in the 18th century.

Mrs. Herold Hostess to Club

The Social Service committee, Women of the Moose, met recently at the home of Mrs. Peter Herold for the regular business and social session. Fifteen members were in attendance.

Mrs. Charles Prosser was welcomed as a new member.

The business meeting was conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Clyde Butler. Plans were made to help a needy family at Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Prosser won the club prize and Mrs. Michael Gaubatz and Mrs. Forrest Pittinger won the contest prizes.

The next regular meeting will be Nov. 17 at the Moose home. This will be a regular business session.

MRS. H. J. SELL

Announcement was made here recently of the marriage of Miss Betty E. Rittinger, daughter of Mrs. Barbara Rittinger, 147 Benton street, and Harold James Sell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sell, 283 Park avenue west. Vows were exchanged Sept. 11 at the home of the bridegroom's parents. In January the couple will honeymoon in Florida. For the present they are residing at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Mr. Sell is manager of the shoe department at the Montgomery Ward company.

MRS. FREDERICK W. PERL

Miss Murylnne Joan Gass, Ford apartments, became the bride of Frederick W. Perl, son of Mrs. A. R. Perl, 375 Park avenue west, Saturday, Oct. 23, at the St. Peter's Catholic church. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Gass. The couple left for a honeymoon to the Smokies, Washington, New York and Boston. After Dec. 1 they will reside at 26 Penn avenue. He is employed as an industrial designer at the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Roland Given Takes Cleveland Girl As Bride On Saturday

ONE of the most fashionable weddings of the autumn season was solemnized Saturday at the Shaker Heights Christian church, Cleveland, uniting in marriage Miss Martha Wood Hales of Shaker Heights, and Roland H. Given of Columbus, recently of Mansfield. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Felix S. Hales, 3571 Lytle road, Shaker Heights, and Mr. Given's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Given sr., 2688 Deming avenue, Columbus, also former Mansfielders.

Open church was observed for the ceremony held Saturday afternoon. Two lighted seven branch candelabra illuminated the pretty background of palms, ferns, white glads and button mums. Sprays of these flowers decorated the candelabra and dainty bouquets trimmed the altar and family pews.

Rev. Wayman Parsons performed the ceremony.

Miss Hales, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding ensemble, a gown of candlelight satin, made with a bertha type yoke of imported lace. Her long illusion veil was silk tulle and matching imported lace, which draped cap shape around her face. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and variegated ivy in a crescent shape.

Mrs. Hales, mother of the bride, wore an aqua dinner gown, fashioned with long sleeves and wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. Given, mother of the bridegroom, chose a beige dinner dress with long sleeves and wore an orchid corsage.

Miss Betty Holloway of Cleveland served as maid of honor, attired in a royal blue satin dress, made with a wide off-the-shoulder bertha and full skirt. Her crescent shaped bouquet was of pale pink carnations. Her headdress was halo style of carnations and ivy.

Bridesmaids were Miss Marion Given and Miss Marilyn Given of Columbus, sisters of the bridegroom, Miss Jane Gramlich of Columbus, and Miss Shirley Burger of Cleveland, former Mansfielder.

They wore gowns of the same style as the maid of honor's, two attired in rose and two in royal blue. Their flowers were the same as carried by Miss Holloway.

Miss Barbara Aring of Cleveland, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

Ushering the guests to their pews were Donald M. Given jr., brother of the bridegroom, Earl Brotherton and Charles Fisher, all of Columbus, and Sigard Hanner, 517 Shepard road, Mansfield.

Serving as best man for Mr. Given was his brother, Robert K., of Columbus.

Immediately following the service a reception for 200 guests was held at Canterbury Country club, Cleveland.

Later in the day the couple left for a honeymoon trip after which they will reside in Columbus.

The bride attended St. Mary's school, Raleigh, N. C., and Ohio State university, where she was affiliated with the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mr. Given attended Mansfield schools and Ohio State university. He served for two years in the U. S. Navy.

BAKED CRANBERRY PEARS

Pare small pears, leaving whole or cut in half as preferred. Arrange in glass baking dish and add juice drained from Ten-Minute Cranberry Sauce to cover. Cover dish; bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until pears are pink and clear. Serve very cold, garnished with whole cooked cranberries from Ten-Minute Cranberry Sauce. For flavor variation, add chopped fresh mint; cinnamon stick; whole cloves.

Jane Imhoff Wed In California

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe E. Imhoff, 547 Arlington avenue, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Jane, to Robert Wackerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Wackerman, San Francisco, Calif.

The wedding was held Oct. 23 at Larkspur, Calif., with Father Neil McCabe, a close friend of the bridegroom, officiating. The double ring service was solemnized in the St. Patricks Catholic church.

Following a honeymoon at Sonoma Mission, Santa Rosa, Calif., the Wackermans will be at home at 3099 Washington street, San Francisco, Calif.

Ohio Public Service Employes Honor Workers With Party

AT A DINNER MEETING held at the Richland Recreation Center, employes of the Ohio Public Service company gathered to pay honor and tribute to their fellow workers receiving service pin awards. Some 200 employes and their husbands and wives were in attendance. C. L. Dunn, vice-president and general sales manager, and Mrs. Dunn were guests from Cleveland.

Mr. Dunn briefly addressed the group expressing thanks for the unity and cooperation of the employes in the every-day administration of their duties.

J. A. Herbert, division manager, delivered the main discourse and presented the service pins. In his talk Mr. Herbert emphasized the rapid growth of the company and the communities that are served and pointed out that until now it had been possible to meet the greatly increased demand for electric facilities but sounded a warning note, that the period immediately to come, may necessitate some curtailment of the use of electricity. Mr. Herbert also took the occasion to express his thanks to employs, who during the past twelve months, have engeged themselves in extra curricular activities both within and outside the company.

Employes who were honored with service pin awards were: J. A. Herbert, S. Miller, and H. Underwood who completed 30 years of service; Brice Shaffer and Logan Russell for 25 years of service; John Lehman and Ray Discus for 20 years of service; John F. Myers, 10 years of service and William Leibolt, Wayne Pritchard, Raymond Mowry, and Naomi Harbaugh were awarded 5 year pins.

The committee in charge of the dinner and arrangements were Loren Maglott, J. H. Beasore, M. L. Mitchell and Zane Moore.

Immediately following the dinner and business portion of the program a dance for those in attendance was held in the ballroom.

MRS. SANFORD A. TIMEN

The newly formed Hadassah club will have Mrs. Sanford A. Timen as their guest speaker Wednesday at their 1 o'clock luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. A. L. Gordon, 641 Woodhill road, with Mrs. Charles Cates, Overlook road, associate hostess. Mrs. Timen is the first vice president of the Columbus chapter of the club. She is a graduate of Ohio State university and was previously a teacher in Columbus. Mrs. Timen has worked with Hadassah for the past eight years. The speaker is an active Red Cross and Community Fund worker. She is using as her theme, "Progress With Projects." Mrs. Timen will install officers and present members with their charter.

Mary Jean Nixon Becomes Bride Of James Mitchell Huneycutt

SATURDAY in the Pleasant Valley church Miss Mary Jean Nixon and James Mitchell Huneycutt exchanged nuptial vows. The Rev. Ralph Mount officiated for the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p. m. before an altar decorated with beauty baskets filled with mixed fall flowers.

Miss Nixon, 170 West Third street, is the daughter of Mrs. Nellie McFadden, Lenox avenue, R. D. 3, Mansfield, and Mr. Huneycutt, 125 Blanche street, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Huneycutt, Sparkman, Arkansas.

The bride wore a green suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid on a white Bible.

Doris McBride, close friend of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a grey suit with matching accessories, and her corsage was of red roses.

Mrs. McFadden wore a grey dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses for her daughter's wedding.

Harold Sprang, Lucas, friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Leroy Loyer, of Marion, and Robert M. Petee, of Crestline, both friends of the bridegroom, escorted the guests to their pews.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony for 35 guests. The table was centered with a wedding cake with flowers on either side of the centerpiece.

The couple will reside at 125 Blanche street.

The bride is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and is employed at the Westinghouse Electric corporation, in the mailing department. Mr. Huneycutt, a graduate of Sparkman high school, is an employe in the Westinghouse shipping department.

Out-of-town guests present at the wedding were from Shenandoah.

Young People Have Party

Misses Margaret and Eileen Kline, Reed street, entertained members of the Young People's class of the Lincoln Heights church Thursday evening at their home. Twenty-one members and six guests, Rev and Mrs. I. E. Oberholtzer, Mr. and Mrs. Hice Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kissel.

Mr Ramsey is teacher of the class and Mr. Kissel, the assistant.

The group came in costume and prizes were presented to Mrs. Ramsey for the best masquerade and to Fred Frost for the funniest Games and contests were the diversion with prizes won by Donna and Dorothy Shauwrecker.

At a late hour refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The African ancestors of the American Negro represents tribes as diversified in human types as those found in the nations of Europe.

Covering the Younger Set

Just Ask Ann

THE MHS TYGERS' roar is getting louder again since they jumped on Dayton Friday night. The faces of the students are looking happier, too, since the recent victory.

The faces may have a happy look for the football team, but they have a sort of dark cast when grade cards are mentioned. Last week the cards were carried for their first marks of the year. There is still that same controversy about which teacher is the best for grading and which is a hard one. . . . Pardon me, kids. Marilyn Wittmer is the one that broke her arm, not Marilyn Schuler. . . . Grace Ann Fogle has a broken leg now. My, what goes on at MHS to cause all these broken bones? . . . Rita Richert and Jimmy Rubino are a new twosome seen in the halls. . . .

Twelve students will have sore muscles until after Friday. Lloyd Bush, Dorothy Kovacs, Betty Strolein, Almeretta Mastandera, Katherine Beatty, Marilyn Schuler, Judy Rodey, Martha Bell, Janet Hardin, Billie Bride, Roy Anne Farry and Norma Scott will go before the Pep club Friday and try out for cheerleader. . . . Rudy Knapp and Marsha Freeman can also be added to the list of new couples. . . . Sally Oberlin, Joan Bruce, Betty Brown, Franny Draffan and Shirley Sziraki looked real cute parading up and down the main streets Saturday advertising a bake sale. They had nice big sandwich signs on. . . . Gizella Knefely had a big time at the same bake sale attempting to sell cakes to everyone that passed by the booth. . . .

Bill Endriss will head the S.O.P.C. for this year. Serving with him will be Joe Haring, vice president; Rita Richert, secretary; Diana Zerbach, librarian, and Harold Leiendecker, treasurer. . . . The S.R.C. officers were also named for this year. Dick Dillon will hold the gavel for this organization with Bob Hart, vice president; Marty Shiplet, secretary, and Pat Jackson, treasurer, helping him. . . . Marty Shiplet had the big headache on being general chairman for the Choir Carnival, Saturday. . . . Speaking of choirs, Keith Fulton swept the members off their feet with his Vaughn Monroe voice. . . . Cliff Hardin and Carl Letizia are expected home from the air base where they are stationed in Texas. They are to arrive in Mansfield in about two weeks. . . . Bob Richards and Skippy Neal have called it off again. . . .

LeRoy Douville is home to stay after his visit in Milwaukee. . . . John Schmitt-Matzen was seen with a sophomore at the Massillon game dance. . . . Lou Ann Mosberg will be picking a less slippery place to walk after this. The other morning she fell in the hall. . . . Well, start marking your calendar for the next vacation. The teachers' meeting in Cleveland has come and gone. . . .

The latest hush-hush news at MHS is the name of the queen. The candidates were voted on at the beginning of the week, but the lucky girl will not be revealed until a later date.

Those competing for this coveted title are Bev Brissel, Marilyn Wittmer, Barbara Staples, Emma Varchmin, Betsy Clark, Charlotte Boyd, Susie Adams, Marilyn Long, June Green, Audry Pirrgo, Joan Jackson, Marilyn Smith and Lucille Schuler. The girls will have to chew their nails and tear their hair until the homecoming assembly when the lucky girl will be announced. . . . Marge Goodman had a nice vacation out of town over the vacation week end.

Well, I'll call it quits for this week and begin gathering up some choice tid bits for next week's column.

—By ANN SCHOENMAN

ber of Alpha Phi sorority, and Bob is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

The thought that appears first in the minds of many when they think of Ohio Wesleyan university is that of the stately towers of Gray chapel.

This Methodist school enjoys the traditions and customs similar to many other schools. In the fall the sophomore men can redeem themselves by pulling the new freshmen men into the Olentangy river. This tug-of-war is one of the highlights that the upper classmen look forward to.

Dave Carto, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Carto, 340 Davis road, a freshman pledge of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, is shown in his room reading one of those welcome letters from home. Lee Balyeat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Balyeat, 359 Ruth avenue, is a freshman pledge for the Kappa Sigma fraternity, Miss Jane Ann Stoneburner, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Stoneburner, 138 West Second street, and Richard Hoffman, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Hoffman, 99 Brickman avenue, freshman pledge of Sigma Phi Epsilon, are shown pausing between the rush of classes on the bridge over "Dishwater Run." With Gray chapel as a background Lee Balyeat, Richard Hoffman and Hugh Meilinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Meilinger, 17 Parkwood boulevard, freshman pledge of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, were caught at one of the most picturesque places on the campus.

SPICY CRANBERRY NUT BREAD

2 cups fresh cranberries
¼ cup water
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon ground cloves
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup finely chopped nuts(peanuts, walnuts etc.)

Combine cranberries, water, sugar and spices in saucepan; bring to boiling point and cook slowly for 15 minutes. Put through fine sieve; stir in nuts. Makes 1 pint.

YOUR VOTE IS NECESSARY TO FINISH THE JOB! VOTE "YES" ON THE BOND ISSUE!!

We Plan to Build Two of These Lincoln Hts.---- Woodville

This is the new building now under construction at Lincoln Heights. If this Bond Issue fails, only 8 of the 10 rooms will be completed. $25,000 of this Bond Issue will be needed to fully complete the building. This same plan, size and number of rooms in every respect, will be built at Woodville just as soon as sufficient funds are available. It consists of four special primary rooms, each equipped with toilets, drinking fountains and work space, plus six additional class rooms, a combination gymnasium and auditorium, a cafeteria kitchen and dining room, faculty's storage space and a modern heating plant. Your vote is necessary to finish what has been started.

These outdoor toilets are still in use in three of our one-room schools which are operating yet this year; Terman, Beer, and Little Washington. Upon the completion of the Lincoln Heights new building, the Terman School will be closed and pupils transferred to Lincoln Heights. The Beer School will be closed not later than the fall of 1949 with its pupils transferred to East Mansfield. Little Washington will be closed just as soon as its pupils can be accommodated at Woodville. This will assure every pupil modern conveniences such as inside toilets, drinking fountains, warm dinners, and proper heat, which every pupil has a right to enjoy. Improve these conditions by voting for the Bond Issue on Tuesday, November 2nd.

WHAT! CLASSES EATING, COOKING AND MEETING IN THESE SMALL COMBINATION ROOMS!

Yes, its true, this is the Dining Room and Kitchen at Madison High School. Two small ordinary rooms have been serving as a Home Economics Department as well as a Kitchen and a dining room cafeteria and both are in operation at the same time during certain periods every school day. In addition, the dining room also serves as a classroom. The cafeteria serves around 200 daily, yet it has seating capacity of only 45. The overflow must go to the gymnasium and other classrooms. One Home Economics Class is so large (42) that on certain days, several girls work at tables set up in the lower corridor. The bond issue will relieve the pressure in this department by allowing two more rooms to be combined with the present set-up which will be revamped into one complete Home Economics Unit.

IT HAPPENS HERE!

There Should be a Law Against This! Yes, this is a picture of another High School room which has been serving a multitude of uses. This single room, average size, has been serving as a laboratory for physics, chemistry, two biology classes and as a general classroom. Equipment is placed wherever there is space for it, on top of cupboards, window sills, and on the floor. Funds are not available now to enlarge this department, but must be provided for when possible. Vote "YES" Tuesday.

Europe's Future Soldiers at Stake

Classrooms Become Front Line

(By Associated Press)

The battle of the classrooms is on in Europe.

An Associated Press survey shows it extends over much of the continent. The stakes are the minds of today's school children, tomorrow's soldiers.

In Belgrade, children sing "We are Tito's youth." In Rome, a boy can go on a picnic sponsored by his parish priest and hear about the evils of atheism and materialism. Or he can go on a picnic sponsored by communists and hear all about the class struggle.

In prague, teachers now teach more Russian than English. Before, it was more English than Russian. In Paris, mothers get prizes for adding to the national birth rate. On the other side of the Iron Curtain, the New Czech government also pays off for babies.

There even have been charges of thousands of children being kidnaped to be indoctrinated. The Greek government claims between 10,000 and 12,000 Greek youngsters ranging in age from 3 to 14, have been abducted by Guerrilla forces and removed to Albania, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and other countries.

The United Nations special committee on the Balkans investigated and, along with the Greek government, demanded the return of the children. But the northern nations insisted, as did Greek Guerrilla leader General Markos Vafiades, that the youngsters were not forcibly removed, that they came with the consent of their parents to escape the "terror of the 'monarch-fascists.' "

CONFIRMS CLAIM

From Belgrade AP staff correspondent Osgood Caruthers reported that after listening to some of the transplanted Greek children, "one gets the strongest impression they came with the fullest consent of their parents who are fighting in the mountains with Markos."

"Obviously," said Caruthers, "many of these people with Markos are communists and they wish to have their children brought up so. The Yugoslavs are doing the job for them, and do not deny it."

In a nation which has 50 per cent illiteracy, new text books have been written, many of them copies and after Russian works. Primers tell children about Tito, the partisans and the "struggle for liberation." Other elementary books emphasize youth's role in the nation's five-year plan. One book, written in Slovenian, speaks of the wonders of Russia and the Soviet showplaces.

For children below high school age, there is the Tito-organized "pioneers," whose members wear kerchiefs, sing Tito songs, gather in clubhouses, abounding in pictures of Tito and other heroes of the partisans. The members help build "pioneer towns," and at the gate stands a small child with a toy tommy gun who asks to see your "Legitimatzia"—identity cards.

When a Yugoslav child reached high school age, he is ready to join "people's youth," a National Organization, which goes in for volunteer work, sports, mass calesthenics and further education in Socialism. "people's youth" is now planning to merger with the "Union of Communist youth of Yugoslavia."

This, Caruthers reports, will prepare nearly all the country's youth for possible communist party membership.

In Czechoslovakia, in the land of the Masaryks and Benes, a new education bill has been in force since the communist coup last February. Now, four hours of Russian and two hours of English are taught every week in commercial and certain other high schools. Before the law, the schedule included three hours of English and two of Russian.

While there are no written rules to this effect, and AP correspondent says. "It has been noted that a failure in Russian seems to bring about failures in other subjects."

Student self - government is dominated by two communist-led groups, the Union of Czech students and the Union of Czech youthe, which has incorporated the Boy Scouts and all other youth movements.

Applicants for Senior High Sen Schools and universities must be approved by the latter union and must also show credits from work Brigades. The Brigades work in forests, on farms, in mines and in the building trades The young Czech works for nothing his first 40 hours, thereafter he gets paid. At least 40 hours of this unpaid work is required for permits to continue education.

The National concern for the birth rate is reflected in the way the government issues loans of up to 36,000 crowns ($720) to married couples under 35 to buy furnishings.

Interest on the loan is paid by the government, if the couple has one child. For the second, third, fourth and fifth babies a reduction of 6,000 crowns is made in the debt for each baby A sixth baby brings a credit of 12,000 crowns and cancels the debt

Soviet Signs Cause Mirth

MOSCOW — (AP) — A writer in the newspaper "Soviet Moldavia" called on restaurant managers and other commercial officials to be more careful in their wording of signs—some of which, he added, are causing a lot of laughter

He told of a case where an amused citizen called on a doctor and asked him to fill out a certificate that he had a "normal neck." The doctor could not understand until the friend led him to a kerosene store which exhibited a sign saying. "Kerosene will not be sold to citizens with narrow necks." The sign referred, of course, to citizens with cans with narrow necks which caused spilling.

Vets, Families Face Third Winter In 'Tin Foxhole' Homes

'Temporary' Units Filled By 760,000

Occupants Fail To Find Homes

NEW YORK —(AP)— More than 760,000 veterans and their wives and children in this country are digging in again for their third winter in "tin foxholes."

That's what they've dubbed those quonset huts which along with other types of emergency dwellings have been their homes since the fall of 1946.

Spokesmen for the public housing administration say there are 219,284 family housing units of this temporary nature in veterans' projects scattered from coast to coast.

All are fully occupied. And nearly all have long waiting lists, even though this was to have been the final year for some of those projects.

They are supposed to be torn down as the housing shortage eases and their occupants find permanent homes.

A small percentage of the original tenants has managed to go elsewhere. But the turnover is described as "almost negligible." and the backlog of veterans' families urgently needing housing of any kind has remained so overwhelming that the picture as a whole is just about what it was when the emergency program began.

Take the New York city area, for example, where 10,255 families live in quonsets and other kinds of metal, plywood or frame prefab units of the strictly temporary type.

Here the need is so great that the few vacancies which do develop go only to the top-priority "desperate" families.

"Name any variation of housing woe—families evicted with a new baby due momentarily, sick children, injured fathers, folks found living in automobiles or coal bins—we have them all," said Alex Moffat, Chief of the City's Temporary Housing Division.

"This desperate list has remained about 600—strong ever since the war's end. Every day or so, some of these people find some way to manage, and we strike them off the list. But new emergency cases keep pouring in, and the total stays about the same."

It's easy to see why a snug quonset is attractive to such a family, or to one which has long been doubled up with relatives or crowded into unsatisfactory quarters.

But curiously enough, this attraction often grows as time goes on. Hundreds of veterans across the country have preferred to remain in temporary projects even when offered permanent apartments at the same or even lower rent.

Moffat says 16 per cent of the veterans in temporary units here who applied once for the city's permanent projects later failed to answer just such offers.

TYPICAL ANSWER

Why? Let a typical young quonset veteran answer that:

"Here we have our own front door," said Bob Kushner, who lives in one of the nation's largest temporary towns at Jamaica Bay in New York. "The kids have grass and trees outside, not just city streets full of traffic. We have our own flower garden. There's a swell community spirit.

"All the kids know each other and most of the parents are about the same age. It's probably the easiest place in the world to get a first-rate baby-sitter.

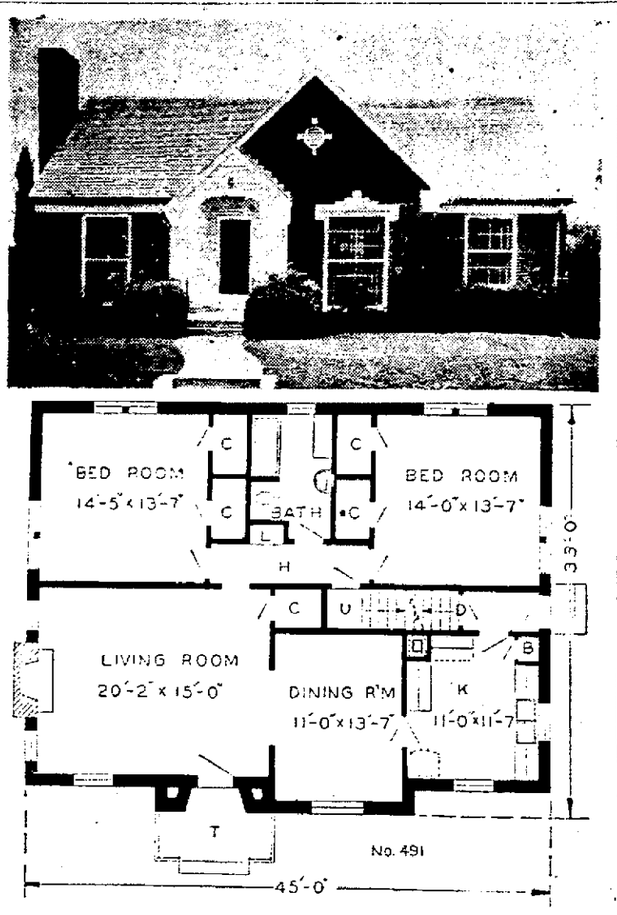
"Many of us had apartments in town before the war, but living out here in the suburbs has made us want homes of our own. At present prices, few of us can afford them. So we just want to sweat it out here until we can."

Kushner, a camera repairman, and his pretty young wife have two small children. They pay $33.50 a month for their four-room quonset. That includes gas and electricity, but not heating, which may run $1 a day in the coldest months.

In the Jamaica Bay project there are 2,000 such families, some with as many as six or seven children. The apartments range from three-room units renting for $29 to five-room units at $40.

GOOD TOWN TO BE FROM

CLATWORTHY, England —(AP)— This village of 120 residents hasn't a single telephone. If fire breaks out or a doctor is needed, a bicyclist takes the message to a neighboring town. The village also lacks electricity, bus service and a postoffice.



WELL-ORGANIZED HOME—Housekeeping is a pleasure in this well-organized interior. A coat closet opens into the living room, a linen closet is in the hall, each bedroom has two large closets and the kitchen has ample, well-placed cabinets. A large attic and basement with recreation room is included. Complete plans may be obtained from the Ohio Brick and Tile institute, 606 Renkert building, Canton, O.

Oak Ridge Exports Just Ounce of Radioactivity

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, AP Science Editor

OAK RIDGE, Tenn.—About one ounce is the total weight of all the radioactive atoms shipped from here in one year by the atomic energy commission.

That single ounce supplies 16 foreign nations, and more than 300 important laboratories of medicine, biology, chemistry, agriculture and industry in the United States.

The ounce is the weight if each shipment was nothing but the atoms. They usually are mixed with a small solution or a little powder. This brings the total annual weight to 10 pounds.

The protective wrappings amount to over 50 tons annually.

The selling price of the ounce totals around $300,000. This represents no profit, and includes free radioactive atoms for medical uses.

Literally these atoms are the smallest product in the world, yet the most precious by almost any standard of values.

The single ounce spreads its usefulness into thousands of research projects. Even when thus spread, the atoms can still be traced by the rays they emit.

The atoms are shipped from the Oak Ridge National laboratory, operated for the commission by The Carbide and Chemicals corporation. The commission's isotopes division directs the distribution, which is restricted.

NECTAR-LIKE DRINK

Dr. Paul C. Aebersold, division chief, says one gram of radioactive iodine atoms would be enough to treat ten million persons for hyperthyroidism. The treatment is drinking water with a little hot iodine added.

Some patients said this atomic drink was like nectar, and thereby hangs a story of a change now being made in the source of the iodine. Usually iodine has been made by transmuting Tellurium a relative of sulfur, with a very bad smell. After transmutation there is a mixture of tellurium and the newly made iodine. Once when a little of the tellurium failed to be removed from the iodine, some patients complained that the nectar made their breaths smell like garlic.

The new method takes iodine from the uranium metal in the atomic pile, where iodine atoms are one of the new atoms formed by the pieces of split uronium. There is no bad smell. The new method is more efficient and will make radioactive iodine available on a much wider scale.

Radioactive gold, made here, is powerful stuff. A single shipment, in pure form, would be an almost invisible speck. This gold is used for cancer, because gold tends to stay in the body tissue into which it is injected. Whether the gold will be useful is not known. This gold is also used to search for the still unknown cause of rheumatoid arthritis.

A new sketch of the Oak Ridge atomic pile, made by artist Carroll N. Bowman, of the isotopes division, shows for the first time details of making radioactive atoms. It is like making ice cubes in the refrigerator.

The pile is a big cube of graphite and uranium, enclosed in a huge cube of concrete. Trays, like ice cube trays, only much longer, and made of graphite, are loaded with aluminum capsules each containing a chemical compound for transmutation. The trays are shoved through holes in the concrete, and on inside the graphite where atoms split all around them.

Machine Aids Home Building

COLUMBUS—A new type, high-speed welding machine that is expected to further speed up the mass production of homes will soon be helping produce 150 porcelain enameled steel homes a day in a new plant here.

Carl G. Strandlund, president of Lustron corporation, said the machine, one of the largest in the world and one that is brand-new to the home-building industry, would turn out enough completed roof trusses for 65 homes a day. He said a machine of the same type is credited by the automobile industry as being a big factor in speeding mass production of cars.

"Not only will it speed up our operations, but it also will further reduce cost of operations," Strandlund said, "since it will replace much of the hand-welding work now done on these trusses."

Home Building Hangar Makes Inside Job of Outdoor Work

CHICAGO (AP)—A cold rain fell all day—but it didn't stop work on two houses.

Members of the construction crew went to work at the usual hour and stayed on the job until the regular quitting time. Their materials, tools and clothing were dry. To them it was just another good day for eight hours of productive effort.

The workmen were protected by a home building hangar, a huge, mobile canopy made of metal and glass. The structure is the brain child of Caesar Marconi, a contractor. He devised it because he got fed up with delays caused by bad weather.

The arch-roofed hangar is 100 feet long, 60 feet wide at the base and 30 feet high. The steel frame is covered with sheets of aluminum. Long windows admit light. Curtains of canvas cover both ends.

The shelter is large enough to cover two home sites. It is mounted on eight solid steel wheels. When the outside work on two houses is done, two tractors pull the hangar to the next stop on the housing assembly line.

Marconi plans to increase the length of the hangar to 200 feet so it can cover four adjacent sites at one time. He also plans to use heaters to keep the inside temperature at 40 degrees during the winter.

He is building one-story ranch-type houses in rows on a 200-lot area in suburban Franklin park. He expects to have at least 25 of them completed by spring.

Marconi, 38, an ex-GI, regards the hangar as insurance against the loss of three months of working time in the cold, wet northern winter.

"The workers like it," he says. "They're out of the wind, rain and snow. It's just like working in a factory."

Ohioan May Direct FCC

Jones Seen As Dewey's Choice

By FRED J. ZUSY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A Dewey victory Tuesday may mean that Robert J. Jones of Lima will become the first Republican to head the Federal Communications commission.

Jones is one of three Republicans on the seven-man commission which was established in 1934.

The Democrats have held the White House since 1934 and the FCC chairman, designated by the President, has always been a Democrat. The appointments require Senate confirmation.

As long ago as December, 1947, Jones, nominated by President Truman to a seven-year term was mentioned as possible chairman in event of a Republican victory in 1948.

Variety, magazine of show business, then termed him a "logical candidate for the FCC chairmanship" if the GOP won.

Within the last few weeks, at least one local columnist has written that Jones' name has come up as probable successor to the present chairman, Wayne Coy, a Democrat, if the Republicans win.

Jones, 41, represented the fourth Ohio district in Congress for 8½ years before he accepted the nomination to the commission.

As commissioner he makes $10,000 a year. If he'd stayed in the House he'd be making $15,000, including $2,500 tax exempt expense allowance.

Jones declines to discuss the possibility of his succeeding Coy.

However, some of his friends say he has made no move to indicate he is actively seeking the job. Some commission officials say privately it is "entirely possible" Dewey, if elected, will send his name to the Senate.

Some have labeled him the "great dissenter" because he frequently disagrees with fellow commissioners on decisions. These differences are on points of law.

Repayment Clause Cuts Cost

Unless stipulated in the loan papers, the borrower on a mortgage does not have the right to make payments larger than those regularly scheduled and this often works to his disadvantage.

Most financial advisers suggest that a prepayment clause appear in every mortgage. It is required of some types of lending institutions, and all GI loans and FHA-insured loans permit the borrower to pay off the mortgage at any time, the latter with 1 per cent of the original amount added.

Some lending institutions permit payment of 20 per cent in any one year, but this requires five years to clear the mortgage. Others permit no prepayment at all.

There are various reasons why a prepayment clause helps the borrower: After living in a house two years, the owner is transferred to another city by his employer. Unless the lender will accept payment in full, the owner is usually forced to take back a second mortgage in case of sale.

This may prevent a sale as many persons object to second mortgages. Nor does it give the seller cash for his equity. It is usually possible to sell a second mortgage to a lending firm, but it must be sold at a discount or loss.

In case of an inheritance or other cash windfall, many hundreds of dollars in interest can be saved by prepayment if the mortgage has a long period to run.

Acts Tuesday On Transfers

Juggling money from one fund to another to keep the city's vital services operating until the end of the year is the main order of business for the abbreviated election night city council meeting.

Traditionally, council holds short sessions on election night to alow councilmen to go to political headquarters to watch the latest election returns as they come in during the evening.

Council will act on the following bills:

Appropriation of $2,000 from the registration fee fund to material and oil fund for the street department.

Transfer of a total of $2,500 in certain board of park commissioner funds.

Transfer of $150 in certain fire department funds.

Transfer of $100 in service-safety director office funds.

Six other fund transfer measures are being prepared by City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch, and will be ready for consideration Tuesday.

Japan Eager For Dollars Of Tourists

Nation Attempts To Revive Trade

TOKYO—(AP)—Japan has dusted off its temples and mountains in an effort to lure tourists with badly needed American dollars.

So far the revived tourist trade has been kept on a very limited scale by occupation authorities, but stopover tours of up to seven days have been authorized for those passing through by air or sea.

Japan has considerable to offer the traveler. The finest resorts escaped the war. Enchanting scenery and healing hot springs abound. Ancient monuments and oriental fine arts have been carefully preserved. Legends and tradition flourish.

The Japan Travel bureau, a non-profit organization with 3,000 employes in 200 offices throughout the country, has 20 rebuilt, air conditioned railway compartment cars to haul the tourists. Its aim is to sell Japan as "the land of color, courtesy and charm."

So far only 16 persons have taken the travel bureau's seven-day tour out of Yokohama, although occupation headquarters authorized up to 24 a week, beginning last July.

The price, fixed by the occupation, is $175 for the works, including sleeper, hotels, meals, guides and tips.

The travel bureau's assistant manager, Shigeo Kimura, formerly its New York representative, says about 50 more persons are expected to take the tour before the end of the year.

For those who cannot stay the full week, there are two-day trips from either Yokohama or Kobe. These cost $44 each. For those who only have a day to spend, there are several bus excursions costing from $4 to $7.

So far, more than 3,700 persons have taken the one-day trips and more than 112 the twa-day jaunt.

Kimura said the travel bureau hoped some day to launch an advertising program in the United States, but thus far it is having to depend on American shipping and air lines to sell the tours.

Firemen Answer Two Night Calls

Two "no damage" fires took firemen to a North Main street auto repair shop and to Westinghouse last night.

At 8:37 p. m. Central station and No. 2 firemen answered a call to the Carsey Body shop, rear 220 North Main street where lacquer thinner on the floor had caught fire from a cigaret.

Called to "K" building at Westinghouse at 11:15 p. m., firemen from Central, No. 2 and No. 4 found an acetylene tank on fire.

61 Acting Ohio Postmasters Await Result of Senate Race

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Harry F. Schiewetz, acting Dayton postmaster, and 60 other Ohioans nominated by President Truman some time ago as postmasters will be keeping an eye on the Senate outcome Tuesday.

Republicans in the Senate refused to confirm these nominations in the last session, presumably counting on a Republican in the White House come January—who would put up party members for the posts.

The postmaster nominations are dead now. But, if the Democrats should win control of the Senate, Mr. Truman even though defeated by Governor Dewey, could resubmit them early next January.

This could happen since the new Senate takes over Jan. 3 while the next President is not sworn in until Jan. 20.

A Democratic Senate thus could confirm all the postmaster appointments, protecting them in their jobs under civil service laws.

However, if Dewey wins and the Republicans maintain control of the Senate, several things might happen:

Presidential nominations for postmaster jobs are made from an eligible list of three top-ranking persons in civil service examinations. Dewey could pick any one of these three, although veterans get priority.

If only one or two persons are on the eligible list, new examinations could be ordered. Dewey, then, could choose from the new list.

Unique Experiment Pays Off

VD Fought With 'Carnival Technique'

LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—"Come on in," the sideshow barker shouts. "It may be you, and it may be me. Don't be one of the undiscovered."

The carnival crowd, sometimes 300 deep, lines up before the tent to gape at intriguing signs—"Forbidden Facts Revealed," "Frankly Shown," "Uncensored," "For Adults Only."

The county fair manager stands on the sidelines and beams at this frank whetting of curiosity.

For the side show is an "educational exhibit using the carnival technique," in the language of the public health officials who thought it up.

It is the Michigan State Health Department's experimental attempt to teach the facts of venereal disease, and it has the endorsement and financial support of the U.S. Public Service.

At seven fairs this summer in Michigan, including the big Michigan state fair at Detroit, the health department pitched its tent along the midway with the other carnival attractions and sought by flamboyant, but effective, means to interest the public in protecting itself against syphilis and gonorrhea.

Dr. John A. Cowan, director of venereal disease control for the state agency, explains it this way "Our previous attempts to educate the most susceptible element of the population, frankly, have not been very successful. The people we are most anxious to reach are in the 16 to 25 year age bracket, agricultural and industrial workers. We can't get to them with dry-as-dust health meetings, with pamphlets or with newspaper lectures. So we decided to try the 'carnival technique'."

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, the Michigan Health Commissioner, said 12,000 to 15,000 Michigan residents have seen the show and that preliminary tests indicate that thousands of them would not have been reached by any other educational medium.

"Venereal disease is the number one communicable disease in Michigan today," he explained. "The hospitalization of syphilitic insane alone costs us $2,000,000 a year. If we could find all the cases existing today we could cure nearly 100 per cent of them and virtually wipe out the disease."

So the crouds are brought in by "carvinal technique." But what about the show inside the tent?

That consists of a federal public health service movie, described as an excellent one developed for the army and using Hollywood actors.

"There is nothing shown or said inside the tent which couldn't be shown to the most conservative group of ladies if they didn't object to the work 'syphilis'," Dr. Heustis said.

The emphasis of the project is to explain symptoms of the disease and its dangers, and to urge people to visit their physicians if they suspect they might be infected.

SPARE THAT TREE

CHARLESTON, S. C.—(AP)—Woodman, spare that tree, Charlestonians are pleading. It was their cry 10 years ago when the county grand jury wanted to chop down a 300-year-old oak in the center of a principal avenue. The plea worked and the tree was spared. Now the 1948 grand jury is at it again, arguing that the tree is potentially "a serious hazard to person and property".

TRY HELICOPTERS

ZURICH—(AP)—Swiss postal authorities are experimenting with helicopters as a means of speeding up air mail from principal post offices to airports. Tests already have been made in Zurich and further experiments are planned in Lausanne and Berne. In Bern, flights will be made from the roof of one of the postoffice buildings to Thun and Biel.

Mike Pfister's Survey That Is of Great Interest And a Great Savings To All Homeowners

Storm Window Use Could Supply Coal Deficit of Country

The installation of storm windows and doors in approximately 11,300,000 homes in this nation—roughly, one-third of the 34,854,000 dwellings occupied in the country—would save enough fuel to make up the 38,000,000 ton deficit with which this country is faced this coming winter.
These estimates are based on recently released figures from the Conservation Division of the War Production Board, which announced that a saving of 224 pounds of coal would result from every 10 square feet of storm windows used in the average home.
Since the standard sized window is 15 square feet, each window covered by a storm sash would save approximately 336 pounds. Taking 20 windows as the average number per home, the total savings per householder would amount to 6720 pounds or 3.36 tons.
The Solid Fuels Administration announced recently that, UNLESS VIGOROUS MEASURES TO SAVE FUEL are taken, there will be a deficit of approximately 38,000,000 TONS OF COAL THIS WINTER.
This deficit is the result of depleted manpower and equipment in the mines.
If every householder could save this three tons of coal with the installation of storm sash the 38,000,000 ton DEFICIT could be wiped out by 11,000,000 homes.
Coal thus saved by this one conservation measure, will help considerably in filling the increased coal needs for our military forces for transportation, heat and electrical energy in territory now being opened.

Delaware Rally Deadlocks Madison, 12 to 12

Northwestern Sub Sinks Ohio Buckeyes

Rams' 2 TD Lead Fades Out

By CHARLEY STINE

Inability to convert extra points and a brief fourth quarter lapse cost Madison high its fourth victory here last night and forced the Rams to settle instead for a 12-12 tie with Delaware Willis.

Madison built up a two touchdown lead, let one get away, then apparently was driving for a third when the wires got crossed.

The Rams had first down and goal to go on the seven yard line as the final period opened. An offside penalty moved the ball to the three but two plunges by Larry Secrist, one by Fred Durig and a pass by Ed Chelski failed to put it over.

Things still looked pretty much in the bag as Delaware started a sweep around right end from behind its own goal line. Dave Coppock, Willis fullback, outran the whole Madison team, however, and went 97 yards from scrimmake to tie the game.

RAMS SNAP BACK

Madison snapped back then but time ran out before they could get a scoring drive set up. Other than that brief time the Rams completely outplayed the visitors, rolling up 11 first downs to Delaware's two. They did not allow Willis to advance past midfield except on its two touchdowns.

Sophomore Don Hartman, who had been having fine luck with his place-kicking, lost a chance to be a hero as he kicked wide after both touchdowns.

Delaware's Louie Smith gave up the same opportunity, however. He had previously converted on six straight tries.

51-YARD DRIVE

Madison scored its first touchdown in the opening quarter on a 51-yard systained drive climaxed by Larry Secrist's offtackle charge from the nine. Secrist carried the ball on a majority of the plays as Willis had scouted last week's game and was laying for Fullback Fred Durig in the center of the line. The drive started when Captain Don Morris recovered a Delaware fumble on his own 49.

Neither team threatened during the remainder of the first half but Madison scored the first time it got its hands on the ball in the third quarter.

Delaware drove to midfield,

Carolina Team Notches 13th Victory, 14-7

By TED SMITS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — Charlie Justice's two first quarter touchdown passes kept North Carolina in the list of major undefeated college football teams yesterday by defeating Tennessee, 14 to 7, before 50,000. It was North Carolina's thirteenth consecutive victory, over two seasons.

Tennessee, starting slowly, came back savagely to score in the third period on J. B. Proctor's pass to J. W. Sherill.

The most brilliant run—for 90 yards—was cancelled by a clipping penalty. It came near the end of the first half, when Hal Littleford of Tennessee took Justice's punt on his 10 and ran the length of the field.

North Carolina's first touchdown was ground out the first time it got the ball. Eleven plays were required to go 53 yards. Then from the three yard line Justice passed to Bill Flamisch in the end zone.

A few moments later Hal Littleford's only bad punt of the game set North Carolina going from the Tennessee 27. This time Justice passed from the 12 to Art Weiner who was charging through the end zone. Bob Cox made both conversions and it looked as if the nation's third ranking football team was on its way to obliterating Tennessee.

But Tennessee, playing before the biggest home crowd in its history, decided otherwise.

An Open Letter By a Grid Fan: Plus Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

A BOMBARDMENT of letters hit this desk all during the week, after we remarked last Sunday that a certain lethargy on the part of fans was one of the reasons for Senior high's loss to Massillon high. . . . We still feel a united "spirit" front in a community will give athletes the mental boost they need to go against tough competition. . . . Most of the scathing replies were unsigned, hence we figure they were written by cranks ashamed to sign them. . . . We realize that persons having praise for a program usually do not get on a soap box but those with fault to find waste little time in making their stand clear. . . . Here's a letter we received a couple of days ago boosting the program.

Dear Mr. Tharp:

The letter which appeared in Cuff Stuff, written by a Mr. J. McDonald is worthy of comment. My remarks are in defense of a fine school, an excellent group of football boys, a grade A coaching staff, and a sports writer whose judgments are both honest and sincere.

I saw the Massillon game; and no admission on my part is forthcoming that the boys "just up and quit when Massillon got ahead of them." The boys fought to the bitter end! One boy was reluctant to leave, although his substitute was on the field. The boy did not quit! Two of our best-ground-gaining backs, weathering gruelling punishment, drove themselves at top speed every minute they were in the game. They did not quit! I saw linemen, drawn out for a brief respite, go charging back into the game. The linemen did not quit! If I had had a son who had played in the game as well as any of the participants, as a father I would have resented to the very core of my being any self-labeled "common fan" referring to him and the team as a "bunch of beaten pups!"

I take an immense pride in the program of our Senior high school. It has character and dignity. Its academic standing is high in the nation. Football is only a minor part of the curriculum. However, every boy on the squad loves his school with an undying affection. The spirit and the will to win was there last Friday evening. They gave their best and lost. In my opinion there was no capital disgrace in the manner in which the game was lost.

My only regret is that my son is not old enough to come under the dynamic influence of a fine gentleman and keen student of adolescent nature—Mr. Morningstar. He is a splendid coach. (Yale was after his services!). Each boy is very close to his heart.

I, for one, roamed the halls of Senior high Friday, before the Massillon game, chanting, "We will win by two touchdowns," and BELIEVED IT! We lost; but for a full hour after the game my thoughts were with a group of youngsters, in a dressing room, crying their eyes out because they had lost a ball game. I imagined I saw Mr. Morningstar, with heavy heart and misty eyes, silently moving among the players; not suffering because he had lost to Massillon, but deep down in that big heart of his he knew how "his boys" felt!

The need of Mansfield is not for "common fans" but rather for a few "uncommon" fans to see things in their proper perspective.

MATTHEW G. MADDEN

CUFF STUFF: We were interested in Fritz Howell's story Friday saying Sid Gilman would return to a Mid-America league school as head coach next year. . . . Fritz did not name the school but we'll predict the Army line coach will replace Ray Nolting at Cincinnati. . . . That means that Paul Dietzel, former Tyger, gridder will probably follow Sid. . . . Dietzel is now Army plebe line mentor. . . . The 62 points rolled up by Senior high Friday was the highest of the day on a Ohio gridiron and the top ever piled up by a Augie Morningstar coached team. . . . A. C. Jenkins' 155-yard total was his top effort of the season and the fourth straight game the junior fullback has gained over 100 yards. . . . Two leagues of a 13-team total are playing intramural touch football at Senior high. . . . Vern Hoffman is running the 40-game schedule. . . . Five games are played each night at Stadium field.

Black Knights of Army Rip Weak Virginia Tech, 49-7

WEST POINT —(AP)— Army's rampaging backs had a field day for themselves yesterday slamming through a weak Virginia Tech Eleven for their sixth straight victory.

The final count was 49-7, and it might just as well have run twice that high if Gil Stephenson, Black Knight fullbacks star, had been permitted to harass the visiting Gobblers for more than a brief period in the second half.

Stephenson, Bobby Stuart and Rudy Cosentino, the latter a third-string fullback, each whisked over for two touchdowns as the big, bone-crunching Cadet machine rolled to at least one score in each period. It was no contest, but the capacity crowd of 27,000 revelled in the display of power football.

Though outclassed, the Gobblers at least salvaged the glory of crossing an opponent's goal for the first time in six games this season. They tied the score, in fact, at 7-7 late in the opening period when their quarterback, Bruce Fisher, shot a two-yard pass to Ron Casto, an end, just across the line.

Hot Stovers At Convention

Mansfield Hot Stove league officials will help set up a state-wide junior baseball program at the Ohio convention of the organization today in Alliance.

Many baseball celebrities are expected to be on hand for the session. Age limits for all leagues will be standardized and possible state tournaments will be discussed.

Six Mansfield delegates will attend. They are: Fred Tharp, president; Stan Kamen, Ed Henrich, Fred Rizzo, Gene Hartnett, head of the junior baseball committee and Aid Geiger.

Waite Takes Crown From Senior High

TOLEDO — Toledo Waite's surprising harrier crew relieved Mansfield Senior high of its district cross country championship here yesterday over the Ottawa park course.

The Tygers of Coach Harry Mehock had won four of the last five district titles. Wait finished with 46 points and Mansfield checked in with 63. (The low score wins in cross country.) However, both teams qualified for the state meet at Mansfield's Coolridge course next Saturday at 11 a. m.

Tom Turner, of Union township, ran as an individual and paced the thinclads over the two-mile course in 10:41.5. Goggins of Toledo Libbey was second and Michodo of Fremont Ross came in third.

HAMMOND IS 8TH

Paul Hammond, late of the Tyger squad, paced the Mansfielders in eighth place, followed by Al Poorman. Rudy Sheets, Bengal ace, came in 12th. Jerry Gerrell was 15th and Jim Kibler, 16th.

Trailing Toledo Waite and Mansfield were: Toledo Scatt, 104; Toledo Libbey, 112; Fremont Ross, 122; Toledo Woodward, 133; Toledo DeVilbiss, 167; Toledo Catholic Central, 187 and Attica, 225.

The first 20 individuals follow: Turner, Goggins, Michodo, Myrice, Waite; DeArmond, Waite; Eble, Woodward; Stewart, Waite; Hammond, Poorman; Kestall, Scott; Sheetz; O'Shea, Waite; Abbott, Central; Nitschke, Fremont; Gerrell; Fears, Scott; Gonger, Libbey; Stewart, Waite; Sanford, Woodward and Kibler.

Springfield Nips Dayton Thinclads

SPRINGFIELD— (AP) —Springfield high school topped the southwestern cross-country meet field yesterday, trimming second-place Dayton Dunbar, 28-49.

Springfield and Dayton Dunbar, plus 10 high individuals, qualified for the state cross-country meet at Mansfield next Saturday.

Team scores: Springfield 28, Dayton Dunbar 49; Lanier 73; Troy 117; Osborn 133; Dayton Parker 163; Stivers 164.

Lynn Owens of Dayton Dunbar finished the two-mile course in first place, going the distance in 10:34.1. He was the 1947 winner. Ted Newby of Springfield was second, Howard McMackin of Lima third.

COLUMBUS— (AP) —Columbus West high school and its ace runner Ronnie Coup topped the Central District high school cross-country meet yesterday at Beacon Light golf course.

Coup took first in 11:08.9 ahead of Gene Ridenbaugh of Newark.

West won team honors with 48 points, comfortably ahead of Columbus Central in second spot with 56 points.

The first ten individuals: Coup, Ridenbaugh, Ed Seeger of Central, Anthony Abruzzese of Columbus Central, Norman Heiser of South, Bob Burnett of Columbus West, Gerald Spiker of Newark, Warren Osborne of Marion, Bill Van Atta of Columbus West and Jim Emanuelson of Columbus Upper Arlington.

Fighting Iowans Defeat Wisconsin Badgers, 19-13

By L. E. SKELLEY

IOWA CITY, Ia. —(AP)— A fighting band of Iowa Hawks bounded back from apparent defeat yesterday to humble Wisconsin 19-13 in a Big Nine football thriller.

The steamed up Badgers, who like Iowa had won only one conference game in three starts, rushed into a 13-0 half-time lead that looked good as gold to the Wisconsin fans among the crowd of 38,400.

A "Yea Harry" sign fluttered for Coach Harry Stuhldreher as he led his Badgers to the dressing room.

But those Badger supporters had little chance to cheer in the second half as Iowa rallied for three touchdowns and choked off a Badger threat on the seven-yard line with less than a minute to play.

Wisconsin scored twice in the second period when Gene Evans rambled 32 yards for a touchdown and Jim Embach went nine yards for another.

COME OUT SWINGING

Iowa came out swinging for the third period. The Hawks, ignoring the forward pass, usually their favorite weapon, drove 59 yards for their first touchdown. Sophomore Don Fryauf swept his right end for 15 yards and the score.

Ralph Doran raced 49 yards for the second Iowa touchdown but the Hawks were short of 13-tie when Ron Headington's hurried kick was low.

The Hawks wasted little time taking care of their point deficiency. A pass from Al Dimarco from the Wisconsin 24 to Jack Dittmer in the end zone sent Iowa ahead on the second play of the final period.

Headington finished the scoring with a placement.

Wisconsin immediately commenced its final thrust from its five. Upfield the Badgers went, mixing a pass with a run, until they were deep into Hawkeye territory. But with fourth down on the Iowa seven Bob Petruska was tossed for an eight-yard loss and that was the ball game.

Iowa	0	0	12	7	—19
Wisconsin	0	13	0	0	—13

Iowa scoring: Touchdowns — Fryauf, Doran, Dittmer. Point after touchdown—Headington (placement).
Wisconsin scoring: Touchdowns—Evans Embach. Point after touchdown—Blackbourn.

Powerful Pennsylvania Runs Win String to 14

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Powerful Pennsylvania, unbeaten and untied, warmed up for its acid test against Penn State next week by trouncing little Washington and Lee 40-7 yesterday.

The Quakers scored at will in wrapping up this season's fifth victory and extending their undefeated string to 14.

10 Speed Bike Races Slated At Local Oval

A total of ten races, including the state championship tourist trophy meet, will be run before an expected crowd of up to 5,000 persons this afternoon at the Mansfield Motorcycle club track.

The races, postponed by rain two weeks ago, are scheduled to get under way at 2 p. m.

Two eliminations and a final in each of the novice, amateur, and expert classes will be run. The finale of the program will be for the state title with the first three Ohio finishers in the amateur and expert class fighting it out. Out-of-state men may compete for prize money in the class races, but only Ohio riders are eligible for the state title.

The Mansfield club track is a regulation tourist track with the standard dips and grades. The one-third mile oval is located about eight miles from the city on route 314 off route 30-N.

Two Scores By Soph Beats Bucks, 21-7

By JERRY LISKA

EVANSTON, Ill. — (AP) — Sophomore Johnny Miller, a goose-stepping Wildcat substitute, scored two touchdowns as Northwestern fanned its Rose Bowl hopes to blazing brightness with a 21-7 triumph over Ohio State yesterday.

Thrilling a 47,000 homecoming throng, the 20-year-old Miller broke up the game with a 22-yard twisting, squirming payoff run midway in the third period after the teams battled to a 7-7 halftime tie.

Then, the deceptive-gaited 175 pounder bewildered the Buckeyes with his jabbing, slashing ball-toting and iced the decision with a one-yard scoring smash on the first play of the fourth quarter.

Fleet Jerry Krall streaked 57 yards for the lone Buckeye score late in the second quarter after Northwestern had taken a 7-0 lead on Don Burson's scoring pass to Ed Tunnicliff, covering 42 yards.

Jim Farrar converted after all three Northwestern touchdowns and Jim Hague added after the lone Buckeye six-pointer.

Miller, who carried the ball 120 yards in 14 tries for almost a nine-yard average, took charge in the third period when the Wildcats moved 53 yards in six plays for their second touchdown. In that drive, Miller carried four times for 44 yards.

THING OF BEAUTY

His 22-yard payoff run was a thing of beauty. Slanting over his left tackle, he suddenly changed course and, legs pumping high, churned into the end zone.

Miller reeled off a 20-yard run before the break which put over Northwestern's third score. That came when Jim Clark twice fumbled a Wildcat punt and Northwestern recovered on the Buckeye eight.

Miller gained four and then on fourth down, the play opening the fourth period, he barreled through Ohio's strong right side for his second touchdown.

Besides Krall's scintillating touchdown run, the only other Buckeye bright spot was Clark's 43-yard sprint before he was felled from behind by Art Murakowski on Northwestern's 10.

That drive fizzled when Hague missed a field goal from the Wildcat 29.

IN SECOND ALONE

Northwestern now holds sole possession of second place behind Michigan in the conference race with a 3-1 record. Michigan is ineligible for a return trip to the Rose Bowl.

Krall, thanks mainly to his 57-yard scoring dash, rolled up 112 yards in 11 tries for better than a 10-yard average.

Tempers flared in the fourth quarter and Ohio State's Rod Swinehart and Northwestern's Armand Cureau left the game after a flurry of hostility.

MILLER IS DIFFERENCE

Although the Buckeyes never got a sustained drive rolling, it was Northwestern's squirming Miller and not any particular brilliance by the Wildcats which spelled the difference in the two clubs.

Pandel Savic was rushed too hard by the Wildcat forwards to draw a passing bead. However, he flipped a beautiful long toss midway in the fourth period to Swinehart which had touchdown written all over it. But Swinehart, completely in the clear, dropped the ball on Northwestern's 30

Minnesota 11 Surges Past Indianans

By MAURICE PUTNAM

MINNEAPOLIS —(AP)— Minnesota's football team came to life in the second period yesterday and went on to defeat under-manned Indiana, 30 to 7.

The Gophers spotted Indiana a first-period touchdown and then came back to roll up four touchdowns and two points on a safety before a homecoming crowd of 64,926.

The Hoosiers were handicapped in the second half by the loss of their ace halfback, George Taliaferro. Taliaferro injured his left leg in the second period and from then on was used only for punting.

TOO MUCH POWER

Minnesota's power and reserves proved too much for the Hoosiers. In all, Coach Bernie Bierman used 41 men. Thirty Indianans saw action.

A pass, Taliaferro to Halfback John McDonnell, was good for 30 yards and Indiana's lone touchdown midway in the first period. George Parker converted. That was the only time Indiana could get near the Gopher goal.

Passes set up Minnesota's first tally in the second period. Halfback Ev Faunce tossed 20 yards to Halfback Bud Hausken to put the ball on the one-yard line. Faunce plunged for the touchdown. End Gordon Soltau kicked the point, the first of four to his credit in the game.

Power plays sent Minnesota ahead a short time later. Halfbacks Bill Bye and Hauskens, Quarterback Jim Malosky and Fulback Ken Beiersdorf combined to work the ball to the one-yard line, with Bye going over.

GETS A SAFETY

Center Clayton Tonnemaker caught Hoosier Quarterback Nick Sebek trying to pass from behind Indiana's goal for a safety to give the Gophers a 16-7 advantage at half-time.

In the third period, Minnesota mixed passes and ground plays to march 63 yards. Sub Quarterback Stan Thiele scored a quarterback sneak from the one-foot line.

Another pass, Halfback Dick Lawrence to sub Quarterback John Zupetz, was good for a little better than 26 yards to set up Minnesota's fourth period touchdown. Sub Halfback Jack Sturdevant scored through the right side of his line.

Better Self Beats Phalanx

NEW YORK — (AP) — Taking the lead in the run for the first turn, King Ranch's Better Self held it the rest of the way to win the $57,600 Westchester handicap, feature race on the Empire City at Jamaica program yesterday.

Heavily favored Phalanx, C. V. Whitney's 1947 three-year-old champion, finished third. Phalanx now has failed to win in five starts this season.

Lone three-year-old in the field of eight covering a mile and three-sixteenths, Robert J. Kleberg's bay colt earned the $39,600 first money by a length under Dave Gorman. The Mimosa Stock Farm's War Trophy surprised by taking second money, a scant head before the sluggish Phalanx.

Redskins' Scalp Almost Lifted

OXFORD—(AP)—Miami's undefeated Redskins survived a fourth quarter, Western Michigan rally yesterday to defeat the Broncs 34-27 in a rough mid-American conference game.

A homecoming crowd of 12,000 saw the Broncos explode for two last period touchdowns and come within one marker of catching up with the Redskins, who haven't lost a game since 1946.

Miami, pulling into a tie with Cincinnati for conference leadership, scored on the fourth play of the game. Bruce Beatty blocked a Michigan punt and Dick Urich scooped it up for a 25-yard payoff dash.

Bronco Lloyd Hartman intercepted a Miami pass a minute later on the Redskin 40 to set up a touchdown jaunt around left end by Dick Stull. Mal Pearson's placement kick gave the visitors a 7-6 lead.

The Redskins bounced back driving 68 yards for a score which put them in the lead to stay.

A fumble recovery and a 15-yard Mel Olix-to-Jack Bickel pass netted Miami another counter early in the second quarter before the Broncos racked up their second. A roughness penalty against the Redskins gave Western Michigan possession on the 50 and, after two Norm Harris passes had carried to the Miami 10, Harry Hildreth punched it over.

Miami extended its lead in the third quarter when Sam Wipple went over from the two after a fumble recovery and a 15-yard

Date Set for N-J Football Fete

Mansfield's biggest post-season football show is down on the books for Monday, Nov. 29.

It's the 13th annual News-Journal football banquet which will be held at the Richland Recreation for the second straight year. And the whole thing's to honor the fine football teams of Senior and Madison high schools.

Fred Tharp, sports editor of the News-Journal and general chairman of the affair, announced the date last night. Tharp said that speaking invitations have been extended to several of the leading sports figures in the middle west.

Acceptances of these invitations will be announced in the News-Journal as well as information about other gala entertainment features.

Players, coaches, managers and school officials will be guests of the News-Journal at the fete. That will leave approximately 325 tickets available for high school grid followers. Over-the-counter ticket sale will not begin until Nov. 15.

However, reservations for banquet tickets will be accepted at the News-Journal beginning tomorrow. Price of the dinner and entertainment has been set at $2.50. Send your reservation to the N-J sports department.

Parents of the sophomore, junior and senior gridders on both high school teams will get first crack at the tickets so get your requests in early.

Last year, Wes Fesler, Ohio State coach, was the guest speaker and Fritz Howell, Ohio AP sports editor, acted as emcee.

Rabbit season opens Nov. 15 and will continue through Nov. 25. Four rabbits may be taken in one day. Daily hunting hours will be the same as last year.

Most reports indicate that rabbits are fairly plentiful in Richland county and the surrounding area this year. Here, as elsewhere throughout the state, rabbits rank as the No. 1 game animal.

As a reminder to hunters, here are some of the other hunting dates. The Ohio waterfowl season opened Friday at noon, and will continue through Nov. 27. The season on pheasants will open Nov. 15 and remain open through Nov. 25.

The deer season for thirteen northeastern Ohio counties will be from Dec. 13 to 18, inclusive. The counties are Lake, Geauga, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Portage, Columbiana, Jefferson, Carroll, Mahoning, Stark, Summit, Harrison and Tuscarawas.

Recent deer population surveys indicate that hunters will find deer plentiful in the 13-county area. More than 1,000 deer were bagged during the 1947 open season in eight northeastern Ohio counties. The deer herd in that area has grown so rapidly in the past few years that state conservations officials last year opened a two day season for archers followed by a three day gunning season.

The deer taken during the season had little effect on the big herd failing to indicate any noticeable decrease in crop damage.

The conservation commission, determined to keep the deer population under control therefore added five more counties to the hunting territory and doubled the number of hunting days for gunners.

GOLDFISH GOLD MINE

A fisherman who decides to switch from fish catching to fish hatching might do well to keep goldfish in mind. Goldfish are actually carp, and almost worthless except as bowl ornaments.

Raising goldfish comes in the same class as growing mushrooms or marketing frogs. Many fail where few succeed. Some operators, however, have demonstrated that "thar's gold in them gills" if the business is handled right.

There's no trouble about shortage of supply. One female goldfish can lay 75,000 eggs a season --even schmoos couldn't do better.

DEER HERE, TOO—

Richland isn't one of the 13 counties which will have an open season on deer. But perhaps the time will come. From time to time deer are spotted in the county. The latest report came Saturday night from four Mansfield duck hunters, Ed Davis, Carl Baer and Alvin and Bob Lehnhart.

Hunting about six miles from Mansfield Saturday afternoon, near the place where the Black Fork crosses under Route 42 (Ashland road), they sighted a buck, doe and fawn. The three animals quickly bounded away in the underbrush.

P. S. The four hunters got one duck.

Mal's Mutters . . .

When the election's over, some peiple, such as candidates, will say, "Oh, shoot," because they lost. Only half the candidates can win, so there will be a lot of "oh, shooting." Shooting is an outdoor sport. This is an outdoor column. Therefore these Mutters will pertain mostly to the election. This line of reasoning is known as logic. Illogical, isn't it?

One Score Wiped Out For Illini

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR, Mich. —(AP)— Unbeaten Michigan stayed on the victory trail yesterday by edging a stubborn and courageous Illinois football team 28 to 20. But the Wolverines had an assist from the breaks in chalking up their 20th consecutive win.

A homecoming sellout crowd of 85,938 saw lady luck hand out two favors that helped win the ball game.

The first came in the form of an offside penalty that nullified Dike Eddleman's 94-yard dash into the Michigan end zone on the second half kickoff play while the scoreboard read 7-7.

Moments later, officials ruled Chuck Ortmann's pass to Dick Rifenburg complete for interference on the Illini 1-foot line when Rifenburg dropped the ball as he was hit by three Illinois defensemen. It took Michigan two plays to cash in on that one.

MAKES GAME FIGHT

Inspired Illinois made a fight of it all the way, however, sparked by Eddleman's punting which averaged 41.1 yards on six kicks and the amazing pass work of Bernie Krueger, who completed 12 out of 21 for 216 yards.

Both teams scored in the second and the fourth period. In the rugged third, the Wolverines chalked up two to the visitors' one.

It was strictly an air game as Illini almost doubled Michigan's aerial yardage by completing 13 of 23 tries for a fat 256-yard total. Michigan, which outrushed Illinois 102 yards to 40, was able to gather but 132 yards on 10 completions of 24 tries. But two of the seven touchdowns came on pass plays.

Pete Elliott flipped 14 yards to End Ed McNeill for Michigan's first score early in the second stanza, but Krueger's 10-yard pitch to Paul Patterson tied the score before halftime.

TWO QUICK ONES

After Eddleman's field-length sprint with the second half kickoff was rubbed out, the Wolverines scored twice in 3½ minutes.

Fullback Tom Peterson pitched 14 yards to Dick Rifenburg, climaxing a 59-yard Wolverine march. Teninga swung wide around end for the other score after Bob Malinsky of the Illini was charged with interference on Ortmann's long pitch to Rifenburg at the goal line.

Trailing 21-7, Illinois fought back to count twice on Krueger's passing, one to End Tony Klimek for 13 yards and a touchdown and the other on Krueger's quarterback sneak after Walt Kersulis had made a 37-yard catch on the Michigan 1.

That trimmed Michigan's lead to a narrow 21-20, but the Wolverines came back with a scoring pass, this time from Ortmann to End Harry Allis for 39 yards.

Weisenberger Signs Contract With Braves

College Football Games In Capsule Form

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK — (AP) — North Carolina, Michigan and Notre Dame—the big three of 1948 college football—subudued stubborn rivals yesterday and add to their gridiron reputations.

Charlie Justice, North Carolina's great back, manufactured two touchdowns as his mates sidetracked an aroused Tennessee outfit, 14 to 7, in the game that got most attention.

It was Emil Sitko who was the hero as Notre Dame pulverized a willing Navy crew, 41 to 7, for the South Bend Irish team's 24th game without a defeat.

But it was lady luck to whom Illinois fans point as the culprit in Illinois' 28 to 20 loss to Michigan. Dike Eddleman, the Olympic athlete in the losers' lineup, dashed 94 yards for an apparent touchdown only to have it called back for rules violation.

UPSETS SCARCE

Thus the big three came through. But so did nearly all their brethren, in a day almost devoid of upsets.

Georgia Tech spotted an alert Duke team an early touchdown and then turned loose a bevy of speedy backs who built up a 19 to 7 victory. Georgia belted Alabama, 35 to 0, for the Tide's worst defeat in 38 years. Army permitted Virginia Tech to score but spilled the Southerners, 49 to 7. California, its sights set on the Rose Bowl, won a cherished 13 to 7 victory over Southern California.

Penn and Penn State had relatively easy times. The Quakers crushed Washington & Lee, 40 to 7, while Penn State kept its two-year undefeated skein going with a 32 to 13 conquest of Colgate.

Northwestern became the midwest's No. 1 Rose Bowl candidate with a rugged 21 to 7 verdict over Ohio State.

Doak Walker went 67 yards for one touchdown, scored another himself, passed for a third and converted all three as Southern Methodist moved out in front of the Southwest conference race with a 21 to 6 score over vaunted Texas.

Minnesota came from behind to defeat Indiana, 30 to 7, and Purdue got its decisive touchdown in the fourth to beat Marquette, 14 to 9.

LOSE LATE IN GAME

For the third straight week Columbia went down in the final minutes. This time Cornell got late tallies for a 20-to-13 decision. Dartmouth showed unexpected power in battering Yale, 41 to 14, and Harvard took a step on the comeback trail with a 20 to 13 verdict over Holy Cross.

Crippled Rutgers lost its first home game in almost four seasons by bowing to Brown, 20 to 6.

Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas—the favored three in the big seven race—all triumphed with relative ease although Kansas's margin was close. The Jayhawks sneaked by Oklahoma A & M, 13 to 7. Missouri romped over Kansas State, 49 to 7, and Oklahoma bopped Iowa State, 33 to 6. Missouri and Oklahoma meet Saturday.

Arkansas administered a seventh straight beating to Texas A & M, 28 to 6, and Rice surprised by beating Texas Tech, 14 to 7.

Shorty McWilliams was injured and Mississippi State bowed to Tulane, 9 to 0. The New Orleans outfit moved into temporary third place in the Southeastern conference with the victory.

Wake Forest and Virginia Military had a scoring race. The former spilled North Carolina State, 34 to 13, and the latter punished Davidson, 33 to 6.

STANFORD WINS THIRD

Stanford, which now comes east to take on unbeaten Army, shut out Washington, 20 to 0, for ith third victory in seven games and Oregon had all it could do to handle in St. Mary's, winning by a 14 to 13 edge.

In a pair of intersectional frays, UCLA found the Nebraska pass defense full of holes and won, 27 to 15, and Michigan State ran and passed to a 46-21 victory over Oregon State.

Stan Heath, Nevada ace, broke the national collegiate passing record as he and his mates romped to a 79 to 13 verdict over Oklahoma City. Heath broke down the old mark of 1,457 yards in his sixth game and has three games left in which to add to his total.

Akron, 20-6

AKRON —(AP)— The University of Akron Zippers broke a four-game losing streak before 7,000 homecoming fans at the Rubber Bowl yesterday by defeating Wooster College's Scots 20-6.

Clicking behind line smashes by Bill Haury and Tommy Grucella, the Zippers staged three successful touchdown marches to tally in every period but the second.

Jim Kennedy made Wooster's only touchdown in the second period on a 19-yard run, after a 32-yard pass gain, Jesse Malinowski to End Johnny Allen, put the ball in Zipper territory.

Capital, 20-6

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Capital university's Lutherans waltzed over Hiram college, 20-6, yesterday before 3,000 homecoming and dads' day spectators.

The Lutherans, sporting a grinding ground attack, counted in three of the four periods. Hiram could do little with the Capital defense. The visitors failed to count a single first down in the first half.

Ohio U., 14-13

ATHENS — (AP) — Ed Sudnick placekicked his ninth straight extra point of the season to give Ohio university a last-second, 14-13 football win over Duquesne yesterday.

Ohio's winning touchdown came in the last 22 seconds. Sudnicks' toss to Al Millspaugh was ruled complete on the Duke's six and Pat Connell's flip to Chet Rojeck was good on the one foot line. From there Jim McKenna bulled over for the touchdown. Then came Sudnick's game-winning kick.

Denison, 7-6

GRANVILLE — (AP) — Denison university kept in the ranks of the undefeated yesterday by taking a narrow 7-6 victory over an inspired Muskingum team on Deeds field.

Muskingum outplayed Denison in most departments, piling up 222 net yards gained to Denison's 197 and marking up 14 first downs to nine.

It was Denison's sixth straight this season, and Muskingum's second loss against three wins and a tie.

In the first four minutes of play, Muskingum recovered a Denison fumble on the Muskie 45 and drove to a touchdown in 11 plays. The drive was climaxed by Ralph Sanock's quarterback sneak from the one.

Denison's Captain-center Bill Wehr blocked Bob White's kick for the extra point.

Denison scored in the second quarter after a poor Muskingum pass from center gave the Big Red the ball on the Muskie 24. On the first play, Bob Phillips tossed to Bob Shannon who took the ball on the 12 near the side lines and raced the remaining distance for the score. Phillips' kick for the extra point was good.

Denison	0	7	0	0	—7
Muskingum	6	0	0	0	—6

Denison scoring: Touchdown, Shannon; point after touchdown, Phillips (placement).
Muskingum scoring: Touchdown, Sanocks.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. —(AP)— An alert Morris Harvey Eleven picked up touchdowns in the first, third and final periods here to blank Otterbein, O., college 21-0 yesterday.

Fletcher Barker's recovery of an Otterbein fumble on the losers' 21 set up the first Golden Eagle tally. Delmar Good contributed a 13-yard run to the Otterbein two and Dewey Romine plunged over.

Morris Harver	7	0	7	7	—21

Morris Harver scoring: Touchdowns, Romine 2, Bossie. Points after touchdown, Scragg 3 (placements).

Penn State Wins

HAMILTON, N. Y.—(AP)—Penn State's high powered football team, undefeated since the start of the 1947 season but tied twice, romped to a 32-13 triumph yesterday over Colgate to run its unbeaten streak to 15 games.

Tyger Soph Eleven Ties Massillon

The Mansfield-Massillon football rivalry should wax hot for the next few years. Yesterday, sophomore teams of the two schools met at Stadium field and the game ended in a 13-to-13 deadlock.

Senior high dominated competition until the fourth quarter when Washington high scored twice to knot the count. The Tygers of Coach Vern Hoffman had previously defeated the Bucyrus reserves. A return game is listed at Massillon, Nov. 13.

PETTY GETS TWO

The Tygers opened the scoring in the first quarter when Johnny Petty climaxed a 60-yard march by plunging over from the four. Ken McCally's conversion try was blocked. Then in the third quarter the Tygers marched 67 yards to score. Running of Clarence Bailey and Bill Stutz featured the drive with Petty scoring from the three. Bailey had two 15 yarders in that push.

McCally's boot was partially blocked but hit the cross bar and bounced over.

Early in the fourth, Grier capped a long Massillon surge by going over from the 12 on an off tackle smash. He went through the same hole for the seventh point. With only one minute to go, Howe tied the count on a sweep. His extra point try into the line was halted.

Middies Get TD Late In Encounter

By JOHN CHANDLER

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Notre Dame's dazlzing football forces rocked shell-shocked Navy 41 to 7 yesterday as the undefeated Irish scored in each quarter as they have done in every game this season.

The South Bend maulers ripped to a touchdown in the first two minutes and 55 seconds. That gave the sellout crowd of 63,314 jammed into Babe Ruth Stadium a quick idea of what was going to happen.

Led by Right Halfback Emil Sitko, who tallied one touchdown and set up a pair of others with slashing runs, the fighting Irish handed Navy its 11th consecutive defeat. This is record low for the Midshipmen—five losses to end the 1947 season and six in a row this year.

Navy did manage a touchdown early in the fourth after Notre Dame had run up 35 points. It was the first time the Sailors had been able to score on the Irish since the 1945 game ended in a 6-6 tie.

GETS FIRST ONE

Right after the opening kickoff by Navy, Notre Dame found itself on its 42 yard line. Frank Tripucka, faked a handoff to Bill Gay, then shovel-passed to Sitko.

Emil had full steam up as he cut around right end and skipped 55 yards down the sideline before Jim Green knocked him out on the Navy three. Sitko was elected to crack over on the next play for the initial score. Steve Oracko placekicked the first of five extra points.

Shortly after the initial score Bob Horne fumbled and Bill Fischer, Notre Dame captain, recovered near midfield. Sitko ran twice and the ball was on Navy's 18. Then Tripucka faked to Sitko, shove-passed to John Panelli and he romped over.

Sitko rambled 44 yards in the second quarter to Navy's 15 and five plays later Tripucka lobbed a four-yard pass to Gay in the end zone.

Less than two minutes later, the Navy jitters hit Quarterback Reaves Baysinger, who fumbled on his own 25 yard marker, where Gerry Groom recovered for Notre Dame. On the first play Bob Williams, in for Tripucka, lateraled wide to Hank Smith, who went all the way to prove the reserves also knew how to get points.

LOOKS LIKE END

In the third quarter it looked like the Notre Dame record of scoring in every period would end. Twice touchdowns were called back on account of penalties, but after 13 minutes and 20 seconds of fooling around deep in Navy territory, Williams lateraled to Frank Spaniel and he skidded into pay dirt from the seven.

Navy fans got their first real chance to cheer late in the third stanza when rookie Halfback Walter Marquardt was sent into the game.

Marquardt cut loose for 44 yards to Notre Dame's 45. The drive stalled momentarily, and Baysinger angled a punt out of bounds on the Irish two.

Bob Williams' return kick went out on Notre Dame's 36, and the Middies went to work. Marquardt and Pistol Pete Williams alternated for six cracks at the line, then Williams hit right guard from seven yards out and got Navy into the scoring act. Rodger Drew booted the point from placement.

Pittsburgh, Playing Under Wraps, Shuts Out Reserve

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Pittsburgh's Panthers, under heavy wraps as they await next Saturday's fray with Ohio State, won their fourth straight game against two losses yesterday by defeating Western Reserve 20 to 0 before about 12,000 fans.

Held to a lone touchdown in the first half by a rugged Reserve defense, the Panthers moved 98 yards in 13 plays for their second score as the second half opened, and then cashed another in the waning minutes.

Bob Becker, Pitt's fine fullback, accounted for all three touchdowns, wheeling 17 yards around end for the first one on a pitchout from halfback "Bimbo" Cecconi, and plunging a couple of yards for the next two. Tackle Nick Bolkovac, who played a whale of a game at tackle, booted the extra points from placement.

Reserve got to Pitt's 14-yard line in the final minute on a flurry of short passes, but time ran out.

The Panthers made only one mistake as they stuck to straight football and played without the services of their star backfielder, Jimmy Robinson, who was in the game only a minute and did not carry the ball.

LETS KICKOFF LAY

The mistake was chalked up to fullback Bill Abraham, who let the second-half kickoff lay dead on the six-yard line while end Leo Spann fell on it for Reserve. The Cats were unable to score, however, the Panthers taking the ball on the two-yard line and going 98 yards for the second touchdown.

The Panthers piled up 253 yards by rushing to 53 for Reserve, and took to the air only eight times, completing three for 79 yards. The Red Cats connected on 14 or 30 tosses for 114 yards. Three Reserve threats were halted by pass interceptions, while Red Cat players plucked two Panther tosses from the air.

Most spectacular play of the game led to Pitt's final touchdown. After a clipping penalty had moved the Panthers back to their own 46, fullback Emil Rader uncorked a third-down pass which end Leo Skladany pulled down on the 27 and raced to the one where he was nailed from behind. The pass ate up 53 yards, and on the next play Becker went over for the final points.

Trophy Shoot Set Today At Ohio Gun Club

The Ohio Sportsmans Gun club trapshoot team has offered a $25 cash prize to any five men who can outshoot it in the team and trophy shoot scheduled today at the club.

Chet Beer, president of the club and one of the team members made the announcement yesterday along with plans for the 100-16 yard target shoot. Several optionals will also be available.

Members of the club's team, determined by a shoot several weeks ago, are: Class A—Earl Craner; Class B—Monte Whitney; Class G—Beer and Harold Frey; Class D—Gene Burgess.

Individual high shooter of the day will be awarded the rotating trophy now held by Harold Frey of Lexington. Frey will be on hand to defend the cup.

The first anniversary of the opening of the club will be celebrated Nov. 14, at the annual turkey and ham shoot. Contestants fire in groups of five with the best of the group receiving his choice of a turkey or ham.

Another of these shoots will be held shortly before Christmas.

The gun club is located three miles west of the city off route 30-N.

Georgia Pulls Big Surprise On Alabama 11

By LEROY SIMMS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (AP) — Georgia's Bulldogs amazed a record crowd of 45,000 yesterday by crushing a highly regarded Alabama eleven, 35 to 0. It was the most decisive 'Bama defeat since Oct. 22, 1910, when Georgia Tech took a 36-0 decision.

Johnn Rauch, star Bulldog quarterback cinched the verdict by passing for two first-period touchdowns. The subs had a hand in the later scoring.

Rauch's first scoring toss went 19 yards to end Bobby Walston. It came with six minutes left in the first period. His next was a 38-yarder, this time to halfback Joe Geri with two minutes to go in the opening period.

STOPS ONE THREAT

'Bama perked up momentarily in the second period. Georgia was stopped on one scoring threat, and Ed Salem's long pass to Bob Hood for 34 yards gave the losers the ball one the Georgia 20. A pass interception—one of six by winners—ended this drive.

Recovery of an Alabama fumble on the tide six set up another Georgia score in the third. Floyd Reid drove across from the three. Joe Jackhura, Bulldog center, raced 80 yards with an intercepted pass for the next marker, also in the third period.

The final touchdown, in the last period, climaxed a drive of 58 yards. Billy Nixon, subs halfback, raced through the middle for the final 11 yards.

California's Bears Nip Stubborn USC

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— California's unbeaten Golden Bears turned back the challenge of a surprisingly stubborn Southern California Trojan eleven yesterday, rolling on toward the Rose Bowl with a 13-to-7 victory.

Playing before a turnout of 90,890 fans, California's hard hitting eleven outclassed but never outfought the Trojans in 60 minutes of good football.

Jack Jensen, living up to his all-America fullback candidacy, led the Bears on scoring drives of 65 and 88 yards in the first and third quarters. He was the outstanding ball carrier of the day, and combined his work with terrific blocking and better than fair punting.

FOOLS WITH PASS

In the first California quarterback Dick Erickson from the 15 fooled the Troys with a pass to reserve back Paul Keckley on the two. Jensen lugged it over.

Again in the third Jensen and Jack Swaner carried the load up field. Jensen went across from the seven.

In the final minutes, USC's Jimmy Powers passed twice for 28 yards. A pass interference was called on Cal on the nine. Jack Kirby ran up to the one foot mark. On the next play he went over.

Purdue Takes Second Win of Season, 14-9

LAFAYETTE, Ind. —(AP)— Purdue was good enough early and late yesterday to win its second football victory of the year by defeating Marquette, 14 to 9.

In between the Hilltoppers were best and they once had a 9 to 7 lead that made Milwaukee fans forget four previous defeats, but they fumbled away the game in the last eight minutes.

Purdue looked like a beaten team after Rudy Trbovich missed a field goal attempt from beyond the Marquette 26-yard line midway in the final period. Then Marquette's Larry Plate fumbled on his 22 and Tackle Lou Karras recovered for Purdue.

THROWS TO PASS

Seven minutes remained when Bob Hartmen threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to Bob Heck and Trbovich place-kicked the extra point.

Purdue's early flash came on the first play after the opening kickoff. Bob DeMoss passed to Sophomore Neil Schmidt for 58 yards for a touchdown. DeMoss was carried from the field on a stretcher after pulling a leg muscle early in the second quarter and the game was tight the rest of the way.

A 21-yard run by Pat Dillon set up the Marquette touchdown. Bill Hickey and Larry Plate picked up seven yards apiece and Hickey sneaked over from the one yard line. Student Manager Howard Miller place-kicked the extra point that made it 9 to 7.

Purdue	7	0	0	7	—14

Marquette scoring: Touchdown Hickey; point after touchdown, Miller (placement); safety, Hartman. Purdue scoring: Touchdowns, Schmidt, Heck. Points after touchdown, Trbovich 2 (placements).

Backfield Speed Of Georgia Tech Raps Duke, 19-7

DURHAM, N. C.—(AP)—Georgia Tech's shuttle system of maintaining backfield speed paid off with a sixth consecutive victory yesterday as the unbeaten untied Yellow Jackets whipped previously undefeated Duke, 19 to 7, before 32,000.

After falling behind in the first few minutes as the result of a fumble and a blocked kick, Tech didn't take the lead until the third quarter. The third touchdown in the last period was just added proof that the Yellow Jackets were the better team.

Tech's touchdowns were scored by left end Jack Griffin, who caught a long pass from Jimmy Southard for the first score, and fullback Frank Ziegler and sub halfback Joe Cobb.

The sturdy Duke defense held the Jackets to minus one yard by rushing in the first half, but couldn't cope with Tech's continued speed. Trailing 6-7 at half time, Tech ran and passed 73 yards to take the lead early in the third quarter then drove 55 yards on the ground for its final touchdown.

Delaware 11 Rallies for 12-to-12 Tie

then fell on its own punt on the Madison four to necessitate bringing the ball out to the 20. Two first downs, one of which was a 22-yard jaunt by Secrist, put the ball on the Delaware 46. Two more plays and two unnecessary roughness penalties against Delaware advanced to the Willis four, from where Secrist cut off tackle for his second score.

BACK IN GAME

Three plays later Willis was back in the ball game. Freeman returned Hartman's kick from the seven to his own 31. Coppock hit for one, then Terry Johnson tossed a flat pass to Hendrick, who outran Carl Theaker for the first Delaware score.

Madison apparently still had things well in hand as it rolled up three first downs in a row before letting the attack bog down at the fateful moment.

The Rams' passing was hitting on all cylinders for the first time this year. Ed Chelski completed seven out of nine passes and Secrist made good on one for one to give Madison 133 yards gained through the air.

The Rams completed passes for a total of 49 yards on three consecutive plays just before the gun went off.

On the ground, Madison had its lowest total of the season, 106 yards, while Delaware ripped off 170 (including the 97 yard touchdown).

Kentuckians Blast Cincy

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Kentucky Wildcats scored two touchdowns in the first five minutes and then made the final play of the game a scoring one yesterday as they downed an outclassed Cincinnati team 28-7 before a crowd of 24,000.

After receiving Cincinnati's first punt, the Wildcats moved the ball 54 yards in two plays and Wilbur Jamerson went 24 yards around end for a touchdown.

Spartans Ran Oregon, 46-21

CORVALLIS, Ore. — (AP) — A stout Oregon State line gave the Michigan State Spartans a scare for 25 minutes here yesterday but the visitors had too much football savvy for the coast team and pulled away 46-21.

The teams met toughdown for touchdown each time they got their hands on the ball until just before the half. Then Gene Glick, Spartan quarterback, broke a 14-14 deadlock by tossing two passes—good for 59 yards—and the Spartans were in front to stay, 21-14. They added two more touchdowns in the third period, two in the final quarter, and then coasted out with reserves.
